SOCIETY

A very pretty wedding celebrated in the Holy Trinity church Wednesday morning at half past ten o'clock was that of Miss Josephine Lottridge and Mr. Frederick Kind. The decorations were simple but very effective. Palms and airy bows of white tulle decorated the chancel. Rev. Eason performed the ceremony, and Miss Elsie Fawell, gowned in white, sang the Lohengrin wedding march. Messrs. Baldwin, Butler, Marley and Liebman, the ushers, preceded the tiny ring-bearer, Josephine Lottridge, who was gowned in white and carried the ring on a white satin pillow. The bride entered on the arm of her mother and was met at the altar by the groom, attended by Mr. Homer Honeywell. The bride wore an artistic gown of gray Venetian cloth, trimmed with white applique, the skirt on train and having a knife-pleating of silk at the foot, the bodice elaborately trimmed in white satin applique with a slight touch of violet, and a white satin yoke. The hat matched the gown, and a beautiful bunch of violets completed the toilet. Mrs. Lottridge Kern was gowned in black grenadine over black silk, trimmed in velvet, and wore a hat to match her gown. A breakfast immediately followed the wedding, at which only the wedding party, relatives and the following out-of-town visitors were present: Messrs. and Mesdames Brad Slaughter, John Lottridge, Mr. George B. Millar, Miss Ella Breckenridge, all of Omaha; Mrs. R. R. Genge and daughter, of Osceola; Mrs. Gewman, Des Moines, Ia. Miss Lottridge's parents came on the first train that ever found its way into Lincoln. Her father, John D. Lottridge, had great faith in Lincoln and was an honored citizen. He died in 1875. Miss Lottridge was born in Lincoln and has a large number of friends. Her education was completed in the university. Mr. Kind has lived in Lincoln for about ten years and is connected with the R. H. Oakley Coal Company. Mr. and Mrs. Kind left on the 2:15 train for Chicago, and will be at home to their friends January 1st at Twelfth and T streets.

The employees of Mr. Henry Herpolsheimer went in a body to his home Wednesday evening and effected a complete surprise upon him. Mrs. Herpolsheimer had induced her husband to leave home early in the evening. Upon his return he found the house dark, but when the lights were struck he found himself in the midst of about one hundred and fifty guests. During the course of the evening Mr. S. H. Surer, on behalf of the employees, presented Mr. Herpolsheimer with a very handsome silver shaving set. Music and games occupied the greater part of the evening. Ices were served in the dining room where smilax was festooned from the ceiling to the table and cut flowers were arranged about the room. The following guests were present: Mesdames Werstedt, Keegan, Bristol, Ensey, Bolshaw, McBride, Gadd, Hursh, Israel, Hubbard, Sidel; Misses White, Brown, Ault, Gurnon, Hauck, Geiser, Wendelin, Deneke, Heiser, Walthers, Warrick, Carlisle, Heiser, Wood, Dennis, Schoenberg, Hauck, McGee, Malone, Brown, Davis, Eueik, Davis, Trumble, Brekman, Kennerdy, Hodovick, Dybbro, Thiebut, Cornish, Peters, Hoase, Long, Palin, Williams, Geiser, Banks, Fellows, Gilmore, Enslow, Hemminghaus, Bal-

Mrs. Eva Roseman Danielson and Mrs. Thomas Watson Bain were married Thursday afternoon at five o'clock at the home of Mrs. Danielson, 1222 P street. Relatives and a few friends were present. Mrs. Danielson entered the rooms on the arm of her son, Edward Danielson and was attended by her daughter, Clara. The room where the marriage ceremony was solemnized was beautifully decorated in white chrysanthemums, smilax and palms. Green, white and violet ribbons were hung before a bay window and a bank of palms and chrysanthemums formed a background for the bridal party. Miss Maude Rissler played "Hearts and Flowers," by Theodore M. Lobani, for the wedding march, and Rev. Fletcher Wharton performed the ceremony. Mrs. Danielson was gowned in an exquisite violet venetian cloth. Two shades of violet velvet, with cream satin applique, Miss Danielson was in white organdy, trimmed in white satin ribbons, with a slight train, with an accordion pleated flounce. After the ceremony a luncheon followed, at which about thirty were present. Violets were the keynote of the luncheon. The lunch cloths were hand painted in violets, and violets were strewn about the tables; violet bonbons were also served. Mr. Edward and Miss Clara Danielson gave a reception to their mother immediately following the luncheon, at which a large number of friends were present. The library and dining room were decorated in red, white and blue ribbons and white Chrysanthemums. Mrs. Rissler, Mesdames Mabel Parish, Tourtelot, Hazel Metcalfe and Minnie Beach served the ices.

Mrs. Danielson has been connected with the city schools for eight years and is well known over the state as an instructor in primary and kindergarten work. Mr. Bain is in the Missouri Pacific office and has been in Lincoln for eight years. Mr. and Mrs. Bain were old friends in Iowa. Mr. and Mrs. Bain left at 9:25 Thursday night for St. Louis, where they will spend a few days and will be at home at 1222 P street.

A very delightful reception was given Monday night by Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Rissler and Miss Rissler in honor of Mr. and Mrs. George Rissler. The hospitable duties of the host and hostess were shared by Mrs. West, of Nebraska City
