SOCIETY

Mrs. George Taylor, Mrs. Langworthy Taylor and Mrs. Erwin Barbour gave a reception on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Langworthy Taylor, 435 north Twenty-fifth street. The entire house was elaborately trimmed in Christmas green. The fret work in the hall was twined with the green and banked with palms, potted plants were in the windows on the landing and a mandolin orchestra played in the upper hall. The guests were received in the library. Mrs. George Taylor was gowned in black silk and lace. Mrs. Langworthy Taylor's gown was blue and white brocaded silk elaborately trimmed in cluny lace, and Mrs. Barbour was in gray and white silk with cut steel and liberty silk trimmings. Yellow flowers were worn by the ladies that received. The ladies that assisted in the drawing room were: Meedames Ladd, Holm, Wilson, Richarde, Kimball, Raymond, Campbell and Beesey. The drawing room was in green and yellow. Yellow chrysanthemums and greenery banked the mantle, and bouquets of the chrysanthemums stood about in the room. The chandeliers were covered with yellow chrysanthemums and green. The dining room was in green and white and was lighted by candelabra that stood in the centre of the table upon Battenburg lace and on opposite corners of the table. Tall cut glass vases held Easter lilies and were also upon opposite corners of the table. Mrs. Lyon poured the coffee and Miss Herron served ices. Misses Garten, Tukey, Cole, Jackson, Gere, Woods, Poynter and Gere assisted in the dining room, and wore gowns to harmonize with the green and white decorations. Miss Eleanor Barbour and Miss Helen Mitchell were gowned in blue and directed the guests to the upper rooms.

gaily dressed in tissue paper were used for score cards. The dining room door was thrown open after the game and revealed a long table in the centre of which a large, green bowl was placed and gay ribbons were carried from it to each plate. In the bowl was a souvenir for each guest, a tiny wooden French tea cup. A dainty supper was served, the birthday cake occupying the place of honor. The cake was large and on the top an Italian clock was made of white icing and chocolate. The Italian clock has twenty-four numbers instead of twelve. The minute hand of the clock was at twelve and the hour hand at fifteen. A great deal of merriment was caused by the fact that a silver heart was hidden in the cake and the young ladies were given their choice of the hours on the cake and when cut it was discovered that Miss Irwin had won the heart. Mrs. Ayres assisted Mrs. Tibbets in entertaining. The invited guests were: Misses Hargreaves, Raymond, Wharton, Sherman, Fawell, Cowder, Glaze, Spier, Hudson, Wilson, Cunningham, Spier, Hudson, Irwin and Hudson. Misses Tebbetts and Wehn of Beatrice.

Mr. and Mrs. Ode Rector entertained the Good Times euchre club on Friday evening. A very pleasant evening was spent by the following guests and members of the club: Messrs. and Meedames Dorgan, Woods, Crancer, Mullen, Woods, Marshall, Howe, Woods, Fitzgerald, Curtice, Kelley, Billmeyer, Merrill, and Mrs. Rollins. Misses Carson, Kelley, Burr, Putnam, Oakley, and Marshall. Messrs. Honeywell, Eames, Folsom, Joyce, Butler and Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. George Woods gave a euchre party on Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. Rollins. Mrs. Howe and Mr. Hargreaves won the first prize and Mrs. Mark Woods and Mr. Howe took the consolation prizes. Miss Hoover played and Miss Oakley and Mr. Thatcher sang some beautiful songs. A very delightful evening was spent by the following guests: Messrs. and Meedames Hargreaves, Woods, Ladd, Howe, Dorgan, Woods and Mrs. Rollins. Misses Carson, Hoover and Oakley. Messrs. Lansing, Butler and Thatcher.

One of the most successful parties given this winter was the cooking school party given by Miss Gregory last Saturday night. Everything was very informal, which added much to the enjoyable evening. Each guest was given a pretty poster by which to find his partner, and on the back of each poster were written recipes for the different things that were cooked that evening and directions to the holder which led him to the right room. In this way the guests were distributed in the different rooms and found plenty of opportunities for sympathy and advice as to just how orange straws should be cut or fudge should be made.

The marriage of Miss Jessie Edwards Leland to Mr. Ellis Duane Alley was celebrated Wednesday at eleven o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Leland, at Thirteenth and Q streets. Only the relatives and most intimate friends were present at the ceremony. The house was darkened and the drawing room, where the ceremony was performed, was lighted by the mellow glow of candles.
