moving spirit of this department of Denver club work, and of the many boxes that have been sent out and are being sent out on their mission not one has been started that had not received the personal supervision of Miss Reynolds.

On Monday, April 16th, the Omaha Woman's Club had the pleasure of hearing an address from Mrs F. M. Hall of Lincoln, on "French Artists and their Homes." The program was in charge of the Art department, of which Mrs. A. W. Jeffries is the leader. Mrs. Hall is known throughout the state as an enthusiastic art student and critic. She gave a delightful talk illustrated by stereopticon views of the great buildings and monuments of Paris, such as the Hotel de Ville, the Louvre, the Madalein, Notre Dame, Place de la Concorde, and the Dumas monument. The most delightful slides were those made from snap shots taken by Mrs. Hall on her trip abroad last summer. The old peasant women were especially good. Mrs. Hall spoke most entertainingly of the studies of Barallot, Taneaux and Whistler, closing with an account of a visit to Barbazon, and it's by the home of Rosa Bouhem.

Mrs. W. W. Keysor, in behalf of the Art department, presented to the club a picture of Stratford in Avon. It has been the custom of the Art department to present some picture connected with the year's study to the club at the annual open meeting. Mrs. Draper Smith graciously accepted the picture in behalf of the club.

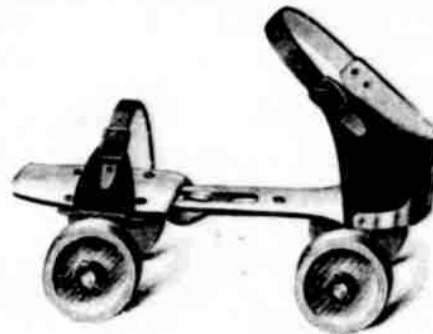

At the business session of the club the constitution was amended, and the educational committee was added to the standing committees of the club. Said committee to be appointed by the executive committee of the club.

These six delegates were elected to attend the biennial at Milwaukee in June: Mrs. Draper Smith, Mrs. C. C. Belden, Miss Lida Wilson, Mrs. T. A. Creigh, Mrs. I. Andrews and Mrs. George Tilden. Alternates: Mrs. E. G. McGilton, Miss Fairbrother, Mrs. C. W. Damon, Mrs. Charles Lobingier, Mrs. Harriet MacMurphy and Miss Alice Howells.

On Tuesday evening the Woman's club of Ashland enjoyed an intellectual treat in the form of a lecture by Mrs. Stoutenborough of Plattsmouth, notice of whose coming is always hailed with delight by the members of this club. Her lecture, "A Mother's Influence," was given in her usual happy way and was listened to and enjoyed by nearly all of the club members.

The last meeting for the year of the Home department of the Fairbury club was held in the club room on Thursday evening, April 17th. It was a disagreeable, rainy evening without, but very bright and cheerful within. A fire burned in the open grate. The windows were draped in our club colors, pink and green, while from the mantel and mirror above it, hung draperies of our federation color—yellow. Pots of beautiful Easter lilies stood about the room. Extra touches had been given here and there in honor of our State president, Mrs. Apperson, who was with us for the first time, a guest of the Home department. The program for the evening consisted of excellent music both vocal and instrumental. The main feature of the evening was an address by Mrs. Apperson who spoke hopeful words for the club. Mrs. Letton, in reviewing the department work for the year, made some valuable suggestions for next year's work and then

Our very extensive Children's and Boys' Department never contained so many pretty novelties as it has this season, many of them exclusive. The New Trelawney Suits are a decided novelty, and those containing regular golf pants are very new. called upon Mrs. Steele to speak of what the club had done for Fairbury during the four years of its existence. An informal reception was held after the meeting that the gentlemen and ladies present might have the pleasure of meeting Mrs. Apperson.

On March 7th, the Cozy club of Tecumseh, enjoyed a very interesting meeting at the home of Miss Appelget. The study for the year is Germany, and the lesson on that day was "The Rise of Prussia 1618-1740." There were two excellent papers read, "The Little Masters," by Miss McCrosky, and "Bohemia," by Mrs. Headrick. Miss Appelget recited "Kennst Du das Land." The program committee reported the outline for next year's work. Miss Gail True closed the program with a vocal selection, "The Watch on the Rhine."

On March 21st, the club met with Mrs. Davidson, lesson, "Frederick the Great." Mrs. True read a paper, "Comparison of Maria Theresa and Catherine the Great." Mrs. Pierce conducted a conversation on the book, "Frederick the Great and His Court."

On April 4th, at the home of Mrs. Apperson, sketches were given of Napoleon, Modjeska, Paderewski, and Sienkiewicz. A "Polish Dance" by Scharwenka, by Miss McCrosky, closed the program.

Mrs. F. M. Hall of Lincoln, gave two lectures on April 11th, for the Woman's club of Columbus. In the morning she also gave a talk to the members of the Woman's clubs at the home of Miss Becker. She outlined a course of study in art, practical for study of home decoration. Mrs. Hall is an inspiring talker and her enthusiasm gains im-
