

City, Webster, D. Adams, G. A. Adams, J. R. Blackman, Phil Green, Fred Williams, F. Rehlsheder, J. H. Broady, F. E. Roth, E. C. Ames, W. L. Anderson, Frank Buckstaff, L. T. Sims, J. H. Bell, Frank Drain of Fairbury, Fred Cornell, Charles Rain, S. G. Musser, H. C. Baker, John Marquette, Lowe Ricketts, George Holmes, Fred Price, R. R. Schick, B. H. Ransom, and O. Everett.

Blossom Wilson and her friends celebrated her birthday by a happy gathering at her home on Saturday afternoon. Those present were: Frances Caldwell, Eleanor Barbour, Helen Macfarland, Helen Kenagy, Nettie Weeks, Lucile Johnson, Pauline Johnson, Kate Field, Hazel Snell, Florence Frost, Edna Brown, Jeannette Johnson, Bess Parks, Lorna Parks, Lenora Richards, Dorothy Raymond, Bess Rogers, Ruth Munger, Katherine Kimball, Edith Donnelly and Esther Warner.

Mr and Mrs. W. I. Brundage of Friend, have been visiting relatives in the city this week. They returned to their home on Friday.

Mr. W. S. Bentley of Omaha, was a Lincoln visitor on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Burnham gave a dinner on Wednesday evening, May the twenty third to Messrs. and Mesdames: Walter Hargreaves, W. A. Green and Doctor and Mrs. Ladd. Miss Lewis of Kentucky, Mr. Will Raymond and Mr. Trigg of Kentucky.

There is a family in Omaha that, The Excelsior says, has a cook whose temper is as hot as her range, but whose cooking is so excellent that her temper is overlooked. She is very particular about the meats, and on a morning when the roast that had been ordered did not arrive on time, she demanded that the coachman, whom she bosses, be sent for it. So he was sent, but did not return promptly and the cook was on edge. She spoke about the delay to the lady of the house and at last begged permission to use the telephone. In a moment more the mistress was paralyzed by overhearing the following: "Is that the market? This is Mrs. D—. For God's sakes, send that coachman of ours back with the roast—he's takin' too d—d long!" The cook still remains, however, but she doesn't use the telephone any more.

Mrs. Lewis Gregory gave a breakfast at ten o'clock Thursday morning. The guests were Mesdames H. E. Lewis, S. H. Burnham, W. G. Morrison, W. C. Wilson, N. C. Abbott, George H. Clark, Freeman Lamb, W. A. Green, P. V. M. Raymond, W. O. Jones, A. R. Holyoke, Frank Woods, Burgess; Misses Gregory, Burnham, Wing and Lewis of Kentucky.

At seven o'clock on Friday evening at University Place, Miss Mabel Pyle, daughter of Mrs. Lillia B. Pyle was married to Mr. Howard W. Wineland. The ceremony was performed by the Reverend George Smith, in the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Wineland, which was fresh and charming with its new furnishings and drapings. Smilax was wound over the chandeliers and archings and there were palms about. The bride was gowned in a soft mull exquisitely made with ruffles and lace. There were a great many gifts with best of wishes. Among them was a handsome wardrobe couch with oak finishings and beautifully upholstered, a gift from Rudge and Guenzel, in whose employ Miss Pyle was for some time. Mr. Wineland is connected with the hardware department of the same firm. After the wedding ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Wineland, father and mother of the groom, and Mrs. Lillia B. Pyle, gave a reception for the bride and groom at the home of the former at University Place. The house was fragrant with roses of different colors and scarlet and cream bunting was used in profusion. Only immediate relatives were present at the ceremony. They were Mrs. Lillian B. Pyle, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Wineland, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ricketts, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Benney, Miss May Corton, Mr. Ernest Folsom and Mr. Tom Arnett.

The May meeting of the Ashland club, the Woman's club of Plattsmouth, and the Zetetic club of Weeping Water, was held at Plattsmouth on May the twenty fourth. The Ashland club was prevented from being present by conflicting engagements.

The Plattsmouth ladies are charming hostesses and from the time of the hearty welcome at the depot till good byes were said at the same place, nothing was left undone that could add to the comfort or pleasure of their guests. Carriages gaily decorated with pink and white ribbons and club colors, conveyed the guests to the houses where they were entertained, and after luncheon, were again in waiting.

The home of Mrs. C. A. Marshall was the centre of interest in the afternoon, her pleasant rooms were profusely decorated with palms, cut flowers and ribbons, the club colors prevailing. Delicious punch was served while informal greetings were exchanged. An interesting literary program followed.

Mrs. Fellows gave a brief but most cordial address of welcome. Mrs. Hungeate responding, touched on the pleasure derived from these meetings. Mrs. Keithley, Mrs. Geer and Miss Gere of Weeping Water, and Miss Cole of Plattsmouth, furnished most delightful music and the hearty encores were proof of the appreciation of the listeners. Mrs. Unruh read a paper on "Evangeline." Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Rouse gave short talks, which were replete with wit and wisdom. Mrs. Miller suggested methods by which the club women might come into closer re-

A VERY SPECIAL SALE OF NEW MILLINERY SECOND FLOOR.

Our Regular Prices are Lower Than Other Houses Quote at Half-Off.

In the first place our Hats were never so marked that we can afford to cut the price in two at any time of the season. It was never the policy of this house to charge exorbitant prices on anything just because there is a great demand for it, particularly at the beginning of any season, as most houses do. These Hat quotations put one-half price offerings completely in the shade. Read them carefully.

LADIES' SAILOR HATS.

Complete line of 98c to as low as 25c

Knox Block Sailors, Knox braid, shown elsewhere at $2.00 98c

"Ladysmith" Hats, shown elsewhere $1.35 96c

A very large assortment of Misses' Hats at 3 special sale prices for this week 75c, 98c, $1.98

A GREAT TRIMMED HAT SALE

3 very special lots of Ladies' Ready-to-Wear Hats, neatly trimmed in latest style 98c, $1.98 and $2.48

Also a few exceedingly fine Pattern Hats that we will give you your choice of this week at $5.00

In our new China Department, on the second floor, Beautiful Cut Glass Pieces for June Weddings, etc., are being shown. Don't fail to see the $5.00 Table Pieces you will pay $11.00 elsewhere.

FitzGerald
DRY GOODS CO.

lution with their sisters from the country, strongly favoring "Rest Rooms" under the management of the club where farmers wives might find comfort and enjoyment in their visits to town. In her "Little Sermon" Mrs. Rouse spoke of many "things" which help to make an attractive home.

A paper, "The Passion Play," by Mrs. Margaret Sackett, was read in her absence by Mrs. Woodford. A reading, "To a Mountain Daisy," by Mrs. Herold was made effective by her real Scotch accent. Miss Arnold read an excellent review of "Janice Meredith" and Mrs. Teegarden an interesting soliloquy, "Pompeo and Daffy." In the evening a reception in honor of the guests was held at the beautiful home of Mrs. Byron Clark, to which the husbands of club members and the members of the bar were invited. Delicious cake and ices were served. Excellent music was furnished by Miss Kauble, Miss Geer, and Mrs. Keithley. A quartette of male voices sung, much to the evening's enjoyment. The Zetetic ladies returned to Weeping Water on Friday.

Mrs. A. S. Raymond gave an al fresco tea on Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. Muir who will leave Lincoln on Saturday to join her husband in Rutland, Vermont. The rain made the lawn too wet for comfort so the long table was set on the veranda in the centre of the sparkling, velvet lawn, decorated in the spring colors of pink and white roses, peonies and syringa. The guests were: Mrs. Muir, Mr. and Mrs. Lyon, Mr. and Mrs. Ogden, Mrs. Wilson, Miss Harris, Mr. Dorgan, Mr. Scudder, Miss Raymond and maid Dorothy.

Friends of Mr. Scudder invited him to a trolley ride on Thursday afternoon on the Oneta. His hosts and hostesses were: Mr. and Mrs. Dorgan, Mr. and Mrs. Ogden, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond, Mrs. Wilson and Miss Harris. The car went to University Place where luncheon was served and then to Lincoln park where a welsh rabbit was cooked and served by Mr. Ogden. Mr. Scudder took the east bound train yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Hargreaves and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Funke gave an informal musical on Friday evening at the home of the former. Mrs. Hargreave's picturesque veranda and home are charming accompaniments to a musical evening. A luncheon of delicate plats was served.

Mrs. Clinton R. Lee gave a breakfast Wednesday morning in honor of Mrs. Frank E. Lahr. The house was very restful and fresh with an abundance of white flowers and green leaves. Syringas were used in the drawing room. The dining table, at which the guests were seated, was beautiful with asparagus ferns and white roses. The place cards had piquant designs done in water colors with neat verses pertaining to each guest. Mrs. Lahr's card, as guest of honor, had a four-leaf clover and a bright verse with bon voyage wishes. In many ways during the breakfast the clever originality of Mrs. Lee was expressed.

First Church of Christ (Scientist), Fourteenth and K streets, Arthur C. Ziemer, C. S. First Reader. Sunday morning services at 10:30; subject, "God, the Preserver of Man." The sermon consists of the reading of selections from the Bible and the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health, With Key to the Scriptures." Wednesday evening meeting at eight. The public is cordially invited.

The board of managers of the Daughters of the Revolution met Monday, May 28, at the home of Mrs. M. H. Everett, the new regent, to hear the report of the committee on the prize essayist of "Manners and Customs in New England, 1775." Eight high school