Full midsummer, with the glow of political fervor warming the very hearts of the cobble stones, now sends more butterflies and others flitting, and develops the resources of all the cool arbors and lawns where children's feet and moonlight, work enchantment.

One of the prettiest of Mid-Summer Night's Dreams, was the lawn party last evening on the fine, old A. S. Raymond lawn. Couches, swings, hammocks and pillows were strewn under the massive shrubs and stately trees, fragrant with the afternoon shower, and made an enchanted ground for the airy group of lads and lassies who had only observed the mystic sevens in the number of each. Around a long table they gathered, the fairies all with gowns of the lightest fabrics, white, or dainty pink or blue, the elves in more quiet array. The fairies had brought substantial fare of veal loaf, sandwiches, bon bons and other good things which were daintily laid for the feast by the presiding genius, Mrs. Raymond. After much merriment on the lawn, the party took a trolley ride to Union College. The young people present were: Misses Ruth Raymond, Ruth Bryan, Elsie Powell, Gladys Hargreaves, Louise Burnham, Lillian Fitzgerald, Helen Wilson. Masters Charlie Whedon, Reed Fowler, Fred Richter, Carl Bentley, Fred Hirtz, Scheideman and George Bow n of Omaha.

Miss Adeloyd Whiting gave a charming party Wednesday morning at ten o'clock in honor of her cousin, Miss Flynn of Chicago. The invitation cards bore tiny gilt hearts, leading all to think they were to play the ordinary game of hearts, but instead a progressive game which consisted of matching the mottoes on candy hearts was played. Heart shaped score cards were decorated with fancy heads in water colors by Miss Flynn. By matching pairs the guests found their places at the tables. The score was kept by the use of a little gilt heart pasted upon the cards. Dainty prizes were awarded, the first being a heart-shaped Wedgwood hair receiver, the second a lily-shaped French china bell. After the games a delicious luncheon was served. Besides the guest of honor the following were bidden. Mesdames E. C. Folsom, L. E. Marshall, H. H. Harley, G. H. Rissor, E. C. Hardy, A. R. Edmisten and R. V. McLucas; Misses Blanche Friedsam of Beatrice, Misses Blanche and Louise Hargreaves, Emma and Jessie Outcalt, Grace and Mabel Bennett, Charlotte and Margaret

Whedon, Anna and Grace Broady, Clara and Anna Hammond, Dora and Edna Harley, Mariel, Helen and Frances Gere, Nellie and Dorothy Griggs, Jane, Jessie and Ruth Macfarland, Sarah and Mabel Muir, Anne and Melinda Stuart, May and Margaret Honeywell, Vine Gahan, Mabel Hays, Mabel Richards, Laura Houtz, Blanche Edmisten, Claire Funke, Maude Rissor, Nancy Cunningham, Lola Hunt, Stella Kirker, Marie Weaner, Mabel Lindley, Jessie B. A stately wedding was that of Miss Mary Ellen Haberlan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Haberlan, of this city, and Mr. John Zimmer, a well known young business man. The ceremony was performed at eight o'clock on Wednesday morning at St. Theresa's pro-cathedral, Father Hayes officiating, after the solemn mass. The bride, attired in shimmering folds of organdy, made over white silk, carried a white prayer book, and was attended by Miss Mamie Grant who wore white swiss over silk and carried bridesmaid roses. The little ring bearer, Helen Fleming, bore a white lily holding the ring. The brother of the groom, Mr. P. F. Zimmer, acted as usher. The ceremony closed with the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Bertie Sutton. The wedding party then proceeded to the home of the bride, 1037 L street, where tables wreathed in smilax and lilies held a royal nuptial feast. In the afternoon the bridal pair departed for Detroit, where they will attend the wedding of Mr. Zimmer's brother on next Wednesday. The party of four will then travel through the east until September the first, after which Mr. and Mrs. John Zimmer will be at home to their Lincoln friends. The following is a list of guests who composed the wedding party: Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Zimmer and family, Mr. P. F. Zimmer, Mr. Edward Haberlan of Sedalia, Missouri, brother of the bride, Mrs. Wilkinson of Wood River, Nebraska, Mr. and Mrs. Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. S. Greer, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stratton. Misses Belle and Barbara Kennedy of Nebraska City, Miss Nellie Maher, Mrs. O. Reilly, Miss Hickey, Mr. John Ledwith and Father Hayes.
