A Shoe . .

that doesn't fit is unfit to wear. It may be ever so stylish—built along the latest lines—and yet bind and pinch and cause you agony.

We are experienced in the art of fitting feet. Our Shoes are lacking in none of the three qualities which good Shoes should have—Comfort, Durability and Style.

All the new Fall Lines are ready.

SOCIETY

The stranger in Lincoln remarks with dismay, "There is nothing to do here. There are no art galleries, no music halls, no museums, no winter gardens, no driving parks. What do you do?" It takes but few months of acclimation however, before the note of distress is changed and the plea is, "too much to do." Society is a strange combination clothed in broadcloth, chiffon and frills, feeling not only the rush of breakfasts, dinners and dances, but the weight of the world's work on her shoulders. The north breeze, the south breeze and the west breeze blow her with gusts of energy into a whirling whirl of engagements. It is not until the end of the day when the diagonal winds cease, that the sun after changing his dazzling robe, gathering his train of yellow and gold and purple flounces about him, lingers a last moment to caress the brow of a few pinkish, yellowish trees still clinging to their worn garments of summer, and whispers, "Repose. I do not return until morning. You must needs wait until then for the latest in the east."

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Walter Hargreaves and Mrs. Thomas W. Griffith gave a military euchre party in honor of Mrs. Walsh of Port Huron, Michigan. Tall vases of glorious American Beauties on low standards breathed their fragrance into the atmosphere. Tuesday was the debut of military euchre in Lincoln. Each table represented some fort, and every other game the guests returned to their own fort and scored in its favor if they had won. The score was kept by tall flagstaves, small flags being hoisted each time a game was won by the defenders. The room and the tables looked exceedingly gay as time went on and the number of flags floating from each flagstaff grew rapidly larger. A bugle was the call for each progression and very imperative was its sound. Fortress Monroe won the victory under successful generalship. Those receiving the honors of the afternoon were: Mrs. Ewing, Mrs. Thomas, Miss Alice Cowdery and Miss Putnam. After the glory of the winning had been proclaimed a luncheon of original and skillful dishes was served. Among those present were: Mesdames John Fitzgerald, Edward Fitzgerald, D. E. Thompson, Thomas, Ewing, Tilton, Wright, Bucketaff, Howe Mansfield, Curtice, George Woods, Frank Woods, Funke, Crittenden, Ogden, John Dorgan, Will Dorgan, Abbott, Walsh, Wilson, Fawell, Rector and Aitkin. Misses Cowdery, Putnam, Burr and Hoover.

Mr. Charles Potter Hammond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hammond of this city, and Miss Jane Gower Mills of Greenville, South Carolina, were united in marriage on Monday, October 15th at "Idlewild," the mountain home of the bride. Only a few relatives witnessed the ceremony, among them were Mrs. Charles Hammond and Miss Clara Hammond, the mother and sister of the groom. After a wedding breakfast, the bridal couple started on a short trip and will soon be at home to their friends in Greenville, where Mr. Hammond is in business.

The L. A. Kensington met with Mrs. F. E. Campbell on Monday afternoon. This was the first meeting of the season and much enjoyed. The club voted in Mrs. Hayes as a member. Mrs. Pitcher who has been absent from the meetings for many months, was expected Monday and there was general rejoicing. The rainy weather however, prohibited her coming. At the close of the afternoon a luncheon was served. Those who gathered for the afternoon were: Mesdames R. T. Van Brunt, C. I. Jones, A. D. Wilkinson, Walter Davis, A. E. Kennard, A. G. Billmeyer, I. G. Chapin, O. N. Humphrey, E. C. Rawick and Miss Wilkinson of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Curtice entertained the Kismet Club on Friday evening. These euchre evenings of the club are always happily enjoyed. Those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames Dorgan, George Woods, Mark Woods, Frank Woods, Morrison, Rector, Merrill, Fitzgerald, Crancer, and Van Riper. Mesdames Griffith, Walsh and Mullen. Misses Burr, Nance, Hollowbush, Carson, Hoover, Putnam and Marshall. Messrs. Baldwin, Grant, Honeywell, Richards, Thatcher, Butler, Gregory, C. Y. Smith, Hammond, Chapman, McCreery and Paine.

The Girls' Number of the Nebraska-Hesperian of October 16th, was a well prepared, interesting edition. The editorials were good, the subjects of the various articles were well chosen and their matter much to the point and of literary worth. The young women who were chosen to represent the women of the University on the editorial staff of the Girls' Number are due laurel congratulations for their excellent production.

Doctor Winnett Orr, who is seriously ill of appendicitis, is one of the finest young doctors in this country. Pure-hearted, clean-minded, a scholar of rare attainments and still a student, his generation is already much the better for him. Nobody who has come in contact with this young fellow's earnestness and ability, who is not sick at heart with fear of his loss. Honest, able, conscientious, industrious, he has a brilliant career before him, and for the sake of his generation I hope he may get well. Doctor Orr is a nephew of Doctor Winnett and he has the same devotion to duty and the same constant inspiration of good sense.

Mr. Daniel G. Wing of Boston, vice president of the Massachusetts National bank, was in Lincoln for a few days this week. He is looking very well, with a prosperous, triumphant gleam in his eyes that gratifies his Nebraska friends.

Sophomore hop of last evening was a gay, pleasant affair. Walsh Hall wore the brilliant University and Sophomore colors and so happy was the career of the hop that other University dances of the season are looked forward to with unusual pleasure. The committee in charge was Mr. Everett, chairman, Mr. Shidler, master of ceremonies; Misses Lummary, Hammond, Burrus, Post and Honeywell. Messrs. Houck, Lau, Holt and Van Burg.

Among the informal dances of last week was that given by Phi Gamma Delta at their chapter house on Friday evening, October 19th. Those present were the Misses Johnson, Woodward
