Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Crittenden gave a large dancing party on Wednesday evening in Walsh hall for their niece, Miss Gertrude Sweet of Buffalo, New York. The rooms were hung in red and the flowers were red, and of course feathered palms, elegant and stately, graced the halls. The palm family never send regrets but add grace to every gathering. Red candles in iron candelabra, and reddish tapestry made the supper room glow with warmth and hospitality. Red roses burned in the radiance from red lamps, within whose circular rays Misses Jessie Outcalt and Claire Funke served claret punch. During the supper intermission Mrs. Joseph Grainger sang melodiously to accompaniments played by Mr. Earl Wehn. Mrs. Crittenden's gown was a purple velvet skirt with a flowered grenadine and white lace trimming. Miss Sweet was in yellow silk gauze. She carried white chrysanthemums. Mrs. Crittenden was assisted by Mesdames Walter B. Hargreaves, Thomas W. Griffith, Carl Funke, Mark Tilton, and Joseph Grainger. Mrs. Hargreaves wore a handsome gown of black lace with point lace capuchon; Mrs. Griffith, green crepe trimmed with black lace; Mrs. Funke, black lace; Mrs. Tilton, green spangled net; Mrs. Grainger, lavender and white mull; Misses Funke and Outcalt wore white mull. Other handsome gowns noticed were: Mrs. Joseph Walsh, white satin with point lace; Mrs. Wright, white renaissance lace over white silk; Mrs. W. C. Wilson, white silk mull; Mrs. Edward Fitzgerald, white silk mull; Madame Fitzgerald, black spangled net; Miss Burr, white silk mull; Mrs. Mallalieu, black with jet and violet trimmings; Mrs. Mason, lavender and white mull; Miss Hollowbush, blue silk; Mrs. Ewing, yellow silk trimmed with black lace; Miss Cowdery, white mull; Miss Putnam, white mull; Mrs. John Dorgan, gray brocaded taffeta; Mrs. William Dorgan, black net with garnitures of chiffon and pink panne velvet; Mrs. L. C. Burr, grey silk; Mrs. George Woods, violet silk; Mrs. Rector, grey and white silk; Mrs. Oakley, grey silk; Mrs. Ross Curtice, pink mull and white lace; Mrs. Marshall, white mull; Mrs. B. W. Richards, grey silk, and Mrs. Stearns, red silk. The guests were Messrs. and Mesdames Hargreaves, Tilton, Rector, John Dorgan, Wright, Wilson, Dorgan, Richards, Stearns, Grainger, Frink, Ladd, Marshall, Ogden, Burr, Ewing, Brown, Thompson, Leonard, Irwin, Charlton, and Palmer of Omaha. Mesdames Mallalieu, Fitzgerald and Ed Fitzgerald. Misses Burr, Hollowbush, Putnam and Hoover. Messrs. Wehn, Eames, Butler, Joyce, Richards, Holmes, Lineer, Fitzgerald, Grant, Thatcher, Montgomery and Honeywell.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mayer entertained the Unity club last Wednesday evening. Cards were played. The guests were: Messrs. and Mesdames Wessel, H. Mayer, Ackerman and M. Friend. Misses Mayer, I. Friend, S. Friend, C. Schlessinger, M. Schlessinger, and Striker. Messrs. Blum, Chaim, K. Cone, H. Cone, Ach and Henock.

Thursday evening Doctor and Mrs. Wharton gave a reception to the resident young ladies of the church. The corner stone of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church is to be laid next Sunday afternoon at four o'clock.

Married—at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warrick, Miss S. Irene Warrick to Mr. Frank F. Wulff, Wednesday evening, November the thirteenth. Doctor Wharton officiated. The rooms were prettily decorated in palms and carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Wulff will be at home next month at 820 North Twenty seventh street.

General Manderson of Nebraska received distinguished attention during his recent visit to England, and as president of the American Bar association was feasted and honored in other ways by the members of his profession in London. He enjoyed the unusual honor of being the guest of the judiciary at the Inns of Court, where complimentary speeches were exchanged. Gratifying tributes were paid by the most famous jurists in England to the American bar, and by Mr. Manderson, Ambassador Choate and other notable American lawyers who happened to be in London, to the bar of Great Britain. Senator Manderson says there is a good deal of fun in the "big wigs" of the British judiciary. At Brooks club he sat at luncheon one day with eight members of the Irish judiciary, and to his surprise every one of them had read David Harum and appreciated its quaint humor.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon gave an informal dancing party at the home of Mr. Fred Funke, Friday evening, November 10. The rooms were prettily decorated in the fraternity colors, purple and yellow, chrysanthemums. Punch and refreshments were served during the evening. The guests were Misses Marshall, Parks, Burruss, Gould, Taylor, Edmiston, Hammond, Anna Hammond, Morrill, Woodward, Griggs, Thorpe, Junge, Bennett, Funke, Hargreaves, Jenkins and Macomber. Mrs. Howe and Mrs. Crancer chaperoned.

The Pi Beta Phi sorority gave a musical at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sawyer last Saturday evening in honor of Miss Beesie Turner who left last Monday for New York. Piano numbers were given by Miss Stewart, Miss Ashmun; Miss Dahlson and Louis Burruss. Vocal numbers were sung by Miss Turner and Miss Reynolds. After the musical, refreshments were served and dancing was indulged in.

Every Saturday afternoon a number of Lincoln ladies meet at the Union-Commercial club rooms to play whist. So far no one has succeeded in taking the button away from Mrs. Outcalt. Those who played last Saturday were: Mesdames Hargreaves, Outcalt, Funke, Edminton, Ewing, Abbott, Righter, John Fawell, Traphagen, Hutchins, C. Greene, Green, Walsh of Port Huron; Misses Cowdery, Irwin and Louise Pound.

Alpha Theta Pi gave a tallyho party to the football eleven last Saturday afternoon. After the game their guests went to the fraternity and spent the rest of the evening in dancing. Light refreshments were served. Those invited were Misses Mandarin, Griggs, Daniels, Johnson, Marshall, Robinson, Douglas, McHenry, Gere; Messrs. Lacy, Culver, Riggs, Folsom, Rogers, Hunger, Huntington, Carnehan. Mr. and Mrs. Lacy chaperoned.

Miss Willa Sibert Cather, the talented young writer whose latest descriptive sketch, of which Ethelbert Nevin is the subject, appeared in the November Ladies' Home Journal, leaves this week for Washington, D. C. She has accepted a private secretaryship under Dr. James Howard Gore, president of the international board of jurors of the Paris exposition, and a member of the committee on final appeal, to assist Dr. Gore in the preparation of the jury's report to the government. Miss Cather, whose fiction, verses and delightfully clever character sketches have appeared from time to time in the leading magazines, has been for several years past a valued member of the writing staff of this paper. Her dramatic criticisms and book reviews during that period, over the pen name of Sibert, attracted wide attention and her future career in the world of letters will be watched with special interest by the admirers of her work in those columns, as well as by her associates on the Leader.—Pittsburg Leader, November 4.

Born, November 3, 1900, to Mr. and Mrs. James A. C. Canfield of Columbus, Ohio, a find boy. They have christened him Charles Elliott Canfield.

On Wednesday the noon of November 7th, the wedding of Miss Louise Squires of Omaha, and Mr. Hoxie Clark of St. Louis, was solemnized at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Ella Squires. With the opening chords of the Lohengrin march played by Mrs. Howard Kennedy, the bridal party passed from the stairway through lines of white ribbon, borne by the two little cousins of the bride, Misses Helen and Dorothy Smith, to the window banked in palms where the Reverend Hubert C. Herring waited to perform the ceremony. The bride wore an exquisite gown of white French muslin, elaborately tucked and trimmed in Valenciennes lace, the bouquet being a shower of white chrysanthemums. The maid of honor, Miss Meta Knight of St. Louis, wore cream tuckered net over pink and carried pink chrysanthemums. Mr. Robert Perkins of St. Louis was best man. After the ceremony a breakfast was served in the dining room, which was all pink and green with roses covering the centre piece on the table. In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Clark embarked for San Francisco, where they took passage for Honolulu and Japan, returning in January to St. Louis, where they will be at home in West Moreland Place.

The first artist's recital of the Matinee Musicale for this season was given last Monday evening by Mrs. Lawrence O. Weakley. Lincoln music lovers had the pleasure of hearing her last winter
