SOCIETY

It is seldom that the sororities and fraternities are as active as they were during the Thanksgiving vacation. The people who came down from Minnesota and who were members of sororities and fraternities with chapters here, returned with very pleasant memories of Lincoln.

Friday afternoon, November thirtieth, Mrs. F. W. Hill and Miss Tibbets entertained at six handed euchre. The prizes were won by Mrs. S. C. Wilson and Mrs. Winger. Those invited were: Mesdames Hayes, Ewing, Holm, Lahr, Metcalf, Lee, Mullen, Pitcher, Riordan, Winger, Harpham, Wheeler, Guenzel, Wilson, Turner, McMaster, Usher, Robb, Field, Kirker, Fisk, Hammond, Harpham, Chapman, Brown, Baker, Abbott, Aitken, Blish, Branch, Barbour, Styles, Helwig, Jones, Morse, Rudge, Patrick, Payne, Morning, Mitchell, Taylor, Manahan, Wendling, Scott, Hutchins, Webster, Chambers, and Lowe of Indianapolis. Misses Pound, Steele, Blish, Graham, Leese, Odell, Hardy, Shute, Cowdery, Dean and Dewees.

Miss Adelyd Whiting entertained at a nine-course dinner after the foot ball game on Thanksgiving day. The decorations were University pennants and foot balls were painted in water colors on the menu cards. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Heasty, Miss Jenkins and Mr. Rain of Fairbury, Mr. Williams of Columbus, Misses Lansing, Whiting, Adelyd Whiting, Mr. White, and Mr. and Mrs. Whiting. The following was the menu:

First Half.

The spectators arrive and discuss the points of the game.

A tallyho bowls in with the foot ball team, said to be superior. The players enter the field with celerity, the boys declaring them crackers.

Play begins with a fair catch taken on a fly.

A foul tackle. Pease follows a runner but Murphy interferes and beats him off.

Intermission.

During the intermission, the heads of several players, young and green, bruised in the mixup, receive a dressing down.

Second Half.

The wedge of V shaped play is tried. Followed by disastrous results, necessitating a call for sponge and ice.

The fruits of fruitful training are manifest. Bartlett and Nellis, a fine pair, become candidates for great honors, raisin' cheers for delight from the spectators, but circling the ends who are nut what they are cracked up to be. The cup is presented.

Everybody leaves the grounds.

The Sigma Chi's gave a tallyho party to the Thanksgiving game. Those present were: Misses Funk, Grigge, Harley, Bennett, Moore, Stuart, Elna Harley, Woodward and Montgomery. Messrs. W. Saxton, Shaw, Kees, Hansen, Patterson, Rainey, Landis, Van Burg, Stuhr and Burgert.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Hill entertained six handed euchre Friday evening, November the thirtieth. Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Hutchins and Miss Tibbets assisted. Prizes were won by Mrs. Garoutte, Mrs. Harpham, Miss Kirker and Mr. Chapman. The guests were Messrs. and Mesdames Porter, Foster, Metcalf, Tibbets, Hardy, Garoutte, Gerhart, Folsom, Guthrie, Hibner, Davis, Herrick, Harpham, Hutchins, Clark, Robbins, Chapman, Crancer, Harris, Curtice, Casebeer, Crandall, Turner, Scott, Chapin, and Garoutte of Mankato, Minn. Misses Haggard, Hammond, Kirker, Tibbets, Aitken, and Howland. Messrs. Neligh, Cornish, Kennard, Dalrymple and Fling of Nebraska City.

The Lotos club celebrated its twentieth anniversary at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gere on Thursday night. The early name of the Lotos was Avon. The latter is the oldest literary club in the state. The occasion was celebrated by a banquet according to the custom of Lotos. The tables were in white. Down the centre of each table was a row of single crystal candlesticks and the house was illuminated by hundreds of candles. The flower decorations of tall American Beauties, La France roses, and chrysanthemums were massed in corners and on mantel pieces. There was nothing to conceal the round, happy pink faces on one side of the table from the round, happy, pink faces on the other side. The elaborate twelve-course dinner was served by Lotos buds: Misses Ellen and Frances Gere, Weeks and Richards. The souvenir cards were squares of parchment, brilliantly painted in pure Egyptian reds and gold, with the name of each guest in hieroglyphs. Mrs. Gere was the toastmistress and wittily introduced the speakers. Mr. Gere said something about old maids, children and bachelor's wives, and his own opinion of women's clubs. Mrs. Taylor talked about the Lotos Eaters. Miss Harris about the absent members, Mrs. Eason about the new ones, Prof. Taylor about women's clubs versus men's clubs, Mr. Lewis about Lotos club women and other club women, Mrs. Richards presented a history of the club. Mr. Weeks led the club in singing "There's a hole in the bottom of the sea," and Chancellor Andrews talked anecdotally about seas and ships and sealing-wax. Then they all sang "Auld Lang Syne" as they always do in conclusion. The company: Messrs. and Mesdames Burnham, Gere, Lewis, Ogden, Richards, Rhodes, Weeks, Muir, Prof. and Mrs. Brooks, Prof. and Mrs. Taylor, Dr. and Mrs. Eason, Chancellor and Mrs. Andrews, Misses Wing, Gere and Harris.

Mrs. Bradford, Miss Bradford, Miss Lavyer and Miss Stanford, members of Kappa Alpha Theta of Minnesota, were guests of the Lincoln chapter last week. After the foot ball game Miss Weeks entertained the guests at dinner and in the evening the active and alumnae members were invited. Friday afternoon November thirtieth, a large reception was given at the chapter house to all the local fraternities and visiting members. The house was beautifully decorated in the colors and flowers. A chafing dish supper at the chapter house Saturday night ended the festivities.

Friday evening, November thirtieth, Delta Gamma gave a large card party at the home of Miss Welch in honor of the visiting members from Minnesota. The house was artistically decorated in scarlet and cream. Prizes were won by Miss Alice McClelland and Mr. Hayes. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lau; Misses Smith, Humphries and Kinsley of Minneapolis, Martland
