SOCIETY

Mrs. R. T. Van Brunt and Mrs. A. L. Candy gave a constellation party on Saturday at Mrs. Van Brunt's home. The house was decorated with flags and the hostesses were gowned in the national colors. Stars of various colors were distributed for competition of proverbs from which constellations were formed. Mrs. E. L. Hinman won a silk flag as a prize. Mesdames Yates, Lambertson, J. E. Hill, Rezin, Welch, Bigger, Hawley, Parker, Newman, Lees, Davis, M. Scott, Barbour, Bessey, Ward, Robertson, W. G. E. Taylor, William Taylor, Teeters, Munger, McCreery, Marsland, Webster, Babcock, Babcock, Chambers, Polk, Billmeyer, Howell, J. C. Harpham, Blish, M. D. Welch, Frankish, A. M. Davis, Morrison, Reese, Robbins, George Clark, Davisson, Huntsinger, C. R. Richards, Kimball, Stein, Hindman, Weeks, Loomis, Campbell, Spencer, Garten, Morrill, Jacques, H. H. Wilson, Phillips, Griffith, Hoover, S. C. Hoover, Tomson, Caldwell, Plummer, Lane, Humphrey, Everts, Hodgman, Bowman, Spaulding, Atwood, Andrews, Haskell, Patrick, Wendling, Grainger, Lowry, Risser, Falkner, Nash, Raymond, Pound, Kellogg, Belcher, Rhodes, Hill, Jamison, R. Miller, Pitcher, Davis, Dr. Woods, Eames, Hinman; Misses Hardy and Tibbetts.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Buckstaff gave a military euchre card party Monday evening for their guest, Mrs. George Brown of Denver. Mrs. Walter B. Hargreaves, Mrs. Thomas W. Griffith, Mr. W. C. Wilson and Dr. Ladd held Fort Bliss to the glorious end against all comers. The ladies' prizes were Rhine wine glasses and the men's were large steins. The decorations were American beauties and the guests were Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Morey of Sedalia, Mrs. E. Field of Denver, Mrs. Griffith, Mr. Montgomery, Dr. and Mrs. Ladd, Messrs. and Mesdames M. H. Tilton, C. W. Branch, Van Riper, R. H. Oakley, W. B. Hargreaves, Searles, Leonard, Funke, Haw. W. C. Wilson, George Woods, C. E. Yates, Wolcott, Brock, George Clark, John B. Wright, Thompson.

Mesdames N. C. Brock and G. Woods gave a card party Thursday afternoon. The first and second prizes at euchre were won by Mesdames Wm. Dorgan and Mary Fitzgerald, the lone hand prize by Miss Helen Woods; the first two were rewarded for their skill by pieces of cut glass, the latter by a beautiful plate. A luncheon was served to Mesdames Moore, Richards, Hall, Putnam, Ricketts, Dorgan, Dorgan, Clark, Woods, Woods, Burnham, Ewing, Hammond, Nance, Outcalt, Wilson, Fitzgerald, Fitzgerald, Tilton, Frances, Wilson, Wright, Folsom, Brown, Raymond, Oakley, Yates, Rector, Fawell, Stoney, Rehlaender, Maloney, Crittenden, Mansfield, Burr, Thomas, Howe, Pace, Harley, Harris, Kelley, Van Riper, Morey of Sedalia, McMurtry, Holmes, Tomson, Turner, Green, Leonard, Rudge; Misses Putnam, Cowdery, Hammond, Woods, Carson, Burr, Hoover, Sweet, Saunders, Marshall, Hollowbush.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Grainger gave a very pleasant card party Wednesday evening. The affair celebrated the crystal wedding of the host and hostess but the guests were not aware of this pleasant feature until they arrived at the house and saw suspended over doorways and from chandeliers the dates, 1886-1901. The spacious house was elaborately decorated. Palms were in the reception hall, pink roses in the drawing room, meteors in the library and narcissus in the dining room. The chandeliers and mantels were entwined with amilax. Six handed euchre was played by fifty guests. Mrs. Foster and Mr. Blish won the royal prizes, Mrs. C. I. Jones and Mr. Munger, the prizes for shouting. A three course luncheon was served by the hostess assisted by Mesdames Campbell and De Witt.

Mrs. R. M. Le Gore gave a seven course dinner on Thursday evening in honor of her little daughter, Miss Lila. The table was decorated with carnations and ferns and the fresh young beauty of the guests framed in their pretty frocks added to the attractiveness of the scene. Those present were: Misses Hazel Buck of Crete, Catherine Lee, Edna Baker, Mary Minor, Helen Laws, Wilma Casebeer, Mattie Woodward, Marion Hart, Mabel Williams, Mignou Gaylord, Irma Sears, Margaret Wheeler, Ethel Burkett, Marie Talbot, Neva Hibner, Annie Jones, Louise Hoover, Gertrude Kincaid, Vera Bignell, Helen Davis, Marie Wirick, Mattie Gaffin, Ethel Perkins. Mrs. Folsom assisted Mrs. Le Gore.

Those who visit the auditorium tonight will have the opportunity to see just how the Filipinos look in their native dress. Miss Hartley and Mrs. Rezin Welch have charge of the booth. Misses Piper and Schlesinger will dress like the natives of the north islands and Messrs. Sears, Wharton, Mathewson and Johnson will wear the costumes of the southern islands. All these costumes were brought from the Filipines by Miss Hartley and are exactly what is usually worn in that country. The spears that the men will carry were the gift of the sultan of Sulu and are the only ones that have been brought into the state.

On Wednesday Mrs. C. J. Ernst entertained the E. E. D. Kensington. Lovely azaleas, American Beauties and jonquils adorned the house. Light refreshments were served by Misses Jessie Mosher, Grace Ernst and Rachel Nicholson, to the following guests: Mesdames Whiting, Miltonberger, Nailer, Haas, De Witt, Dobson, Baldwin, Lehr, Junge, Wilson, Auld, Hayden, Hayden, Myer, Hyde, Yoho, Mosher, Nicholson; Misses Haas, Curtice.

The Kansas City Times reports Mrs. Spofford's large party where Miss Hollowbush was one of the two guests of honor: The beauty of the Century ball evidently impressed people so very profoundly that they were ready and willing to enter into the correct spirit of such a costume party. A Century ball on a somewhat smaller but more elegant scale was the bal poudre at which Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Spofford were the hosts Friday evening. If there is any element which could add to the beauty of the Spofford home it must surely be such a ball, for the handsome rooms, the oak ball room and the great hall and balcony seemed strangely in keeping with brocades, powdered hair and patches. In such surroundings, court dress is particularly apropos, and perhaps it was for that reason that every one remarked the beauty of the girls and the gallantry of the men. With
