SOCIETY

Nothing is more appropriate for a Lenten entertainment than music, accompanied by the fragrance and beauty of flowers, by subdued lights and pretty gowns, is satisfying to the senses yet it is so refining and uplifting that it can not be out of place even in the penitential season. Few regrets were sent by the devout ones who were bidden to the musicale given Thursday by Mesdames R. A. Holyoke and Chapin. Mrs. Chapin's spacious new home adapts itself to the purpose for which it was used. Two hundred guests were comfortably seated. Mrs. Chapin and her mother, Mrs. Davies received the guests. Mrs. Winger presented the guests to the hostess, and Mesdames Barbour, Jansen, E. L. Holyoke, Foster, Smith and Miss Miller seated them. The program was given by Mrs. R. A. Holyoke, soprano; Mrs. Baker, contralto; Miss Reynolds, contralto; Miss Eiche, 'cello; Miss Ensign, violin; Mrs. Raymond, accompanist. As encores Mrs. Holyoke sang, The Bee's Courtship, and a stanza of My Nightingale. The three numbers in the May Day Suite were exquisite bits. After the music, punch was served in the hall by Miss Hoover assisted by Misses Foster, Ashmun, Hays and Burrows. In a beautifully decorated room up stairs Mrs. A. S. Raymond assisted by Misses Riesser, Burruss, Hays and Bignell, served pale green ices from a table adorned with Easter lillies and ferns. American Beauties and ferns decorated the drawing and music rooms. Mrs. Chapin wore a black grenadine skirt over silk and a corsage of pale green crepe with capuchon of black and white lace. Mrs. Holyoke's gown was of pink pique cloth with many tiny ruffles on the train and lace garnitures on the bodice. Many strikingly handsome gowns were worn by assisting ladies and guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson entertained the Nineteenth Century card club Monday evening. Club members present were: Messrs. and Mesdames Chapin, Foster, Bignell, Guenzel, Wilkinson, Richards, Harris, Hoover, Quiggle, Usher. Guests were: Messrs. and Mesdames Scott, Harley, and Mrs. Bennett.

Mrs. S. S. Whiting and Mrs. T. Miltonberger gave a very successful Kensington Thursday afternoon at the pleasant home of the former. A dainty luncheon was served to the thirty guests present.

The new Masonic temple on South Eleventh street was formally opened to the Masons and their families on Monday night by a reception in honor of Noble F. Martin of Utica, N. Y., past grand master of the state of New York. The guests were received in the beautiful lodge room on the second floor of the building. Those in the receiving line were: Judge and Mrs. A. S. Tibbets, Mr. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. James Tyler and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Rudge. Mr. Martin declared the rooms the handsomest Masonic quarters that he had seen in his travels from the Atlantic to the Pacific. The members, however, only modestly claim that they are the finest in the state. The walls of the main lodge room are a deep crimson and the openings are draped with heavy green hangings. All of the woodwork is mahogany. The gallery for the musicians and spectators at the rear of the room is supported by carved mahogany pillars. The adjoining suite of smaller rooms are in lighter coloring with tapestried walls, rich hangings and beautiful rugs. The dining room, kitchen and committee rooms are on the third floor. All of these are handsomely decorated. Refreshments were served in the dining room and later it was converted into a dancing hall. Misses Cochran, Garten, Tyler, Millar and Woodward presided over the refreshment rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving G. Chapin gave a six-handed euchre party last evening. Royal and shouting prizes were given. Guests were Dr. and Mrs. Wilkinson, Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Holyoke, Dr. and Mrs. Holyoke, Messrs. and Mesdames Aitken, Armstrong, Foster, Hutchins, Guenzel, Hill, Tilton, Fawell, Stoney, Rector, Searles, Harpham, Humphrey, Kennard, Mayer, Turner, Jones, Walter Davis, A. G. Davis, Crandall, Spencer, Seacrest, Rewick, Traphagen, Warner, Folsom, Gibbs, Hays, Wolcott, Green, Casebeer, Garoutte, Van Brunt, Porter, Curtice, Richards, Billmeyer, Wehn, Le Gore, Harris, Ewing; Mesdames Nance, Pitcher, Brown, Bennett, Smith, Canfield; Misses Foster, Carson, Howland, Riesser, Armstrong, Tibbets, Hays, Nance, Harpham; Messrs. Foster, Kennard, J. Kennard, Hays, McCreery, Humphrey, Rathbone.

The officers of the Aid Society of the First Presbyterian church entertained the ladies of the congregation very pleasantly Wednesday afternoon in the church parlors. Flags, American beauties and ferns, with pretty table covers and cushions, made the rooms attractive. Old fashioned songs, patriotic airs and a spelling school proved entertaining. Light refreshments were served by the hostesses, who were Mesdames O. W. Webster, George Haskell, W. J. Turner, Eli Plummer and James E. Hays.

The Sans Souci club gave a party Wednesday night at Walsh hall. The dancers were Messrs. and Mesdames Halley, DeMange, Carpenter; Misses Nelson, Gregory, Inman, Clinton, Bell, Bowlby, Robinson, McKay, Deming, Barrick; Messrs. Morse, Swain, Hawley, Woodruff, Beckman, Joers, Rathburn, Ducker, Ringer, Evans.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris entertained the Century club with high five at their home, 1230 Vine street. Prizes were won by Miss Hunt, Mr. Emerick and Mr. Carter. The players were Messrs. and Mesdames Hunt, Foster, Emerick, Mann, Wise, Carter; Misses Hunt, Wise, Smith, Foster; Messrs. Voes, Bert.

A program consisting of "Songs of Sorrow," arranged by Mrs. J. W. Winger and Miss Shute, leader of the second division, was given at the regular meeting of the Matinee Musicale Monday afternoon. The mournful character of the theme could not conceal the great beauty of the numbers which was enhanced by their very sympathetic treatment. The only vocal selections were an operatic scene and aria sung by Mrs. E. Lewis Baker and a song cycle, "In Memoriam," by Coleridge Taylor, sung by Miss Holmes. Mrs. R. A. Holyoke was unable to appear. Miss Hoover played the ever-lovely Chopin "Funeral March."

The president announced that the
