SOCIETY

The date for the rendition of the operetta, "The National Flower," has been at length decided upon. The performance will be given on Tuesday evening, April 30th. To say that interest in this society event has not waned would be to express but little of the enthusiasm that is growing daily as the date set for the operetta draws nearer. As mentioned in a former notice no effort or pains have been spared to make this entertainment a high grade affair in every possible respect. The assistance of those who are acknowledged leaders in the world of music here, vocal as well as instrumental, has been bespoken and obtained and as there will be a variety of pretty drills and graceful dances, one round of pleasing specialties will make monotony impossible. The fact that the patronesses, ladies of Lincoln's smart set, are taking such a personal interest in the success of the entertainment is guarantee sufficient that Lincoln theatre goers have in store for themselves a rare treat, an event that it is confidently asserted will satisfy each and every person attending. A scene from DuMaurier's celebrated novel "Trilby" has been selected as a curtain raiser. The first and unexpected coming to the studio, of the beautiful Trilby, "wistful and sweet," with her bare "angel feet" encased in Duriens slippers and clad in an old French military coat and female petticoat will be extremely bohemian. Everybody who has seen the play will be again pleased to find the athletic studio of Taffy, Sandy, Little Billee and Svengali reproduced intact as in the original production. Later, in the operetta, she appears as La Svengali attired in a regal gown of white duchess satin embroidered in gold, her blonde head crowned with golden lillies, and attended by twelve beautiful blonde young women as lillies. Many people are anxiously awaiting the promised appearance of the character pictures of both castes which can be seen in many show-windows this week.

Miss Helme's Benefit was one of those occasions in which the musical, literary and smart sets are so mixed and united that not even a supernatural being could assort them into sets again. Les Bohemiennes and their husbands occupied the front of the dress circle, the Elks and their ladies had a large part of the parquet and the following occupied boxes: In the first box at the right were Mrs. L. C. Burr, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Morrison, Miss Burr and Miss Miles. The second box was occupied by Doctor and Mrs. Bailey, Reverend and Mrs. Eason, Mr. and Mrs. Levering. In the loge were Mrs. Anderson, Miss Anderson and a party of ladies. In the first box at the left were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mayer, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mayer and Miss Mayer. The second box was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bryan, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Allen, Miss Bryan and Miss Grace Bryan. In the loge were Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Lambertson, Mrs. D. A. Campbell and Miss Watkins.

Mrs. E. E. Spencer and Mrs. F. M. Fling gave a six handed euchre party on Tuesday afternoon, the first of a series of five which are given at Mrs. Spencer's home on B street this week. Mrs. George Fawell took the prize for shouting and for the best score. The gifts were exquisite pieces of china. Invitations were extended to: Mesdames Burlingim, Bell, Abbott, Babcock, Babcock, Campbell, Bessey, Blish, Casebeer, Bigger, Clark, Candy, Berge, Barkley, Dorr, Fossler, Eames, Fawell, Green, Garoutte, Scott, Gerhard, Hodgman, Hardy, Hammond, Jones, Kellogg, Harwood, Hill, Kirker, Lane, Lansing, McCreery, Lambertson, Ladd, Nance, Plummer, Mitchell, Pine, Perry, Ricketts, Stevenson, Reese, Robbins, Reed, Scott, Stonebraker, Talbot, Taylor, Taylor, M. Raymond, Hovey, Caldwell, Edgren, Hill, Faulkner, Andrews, Campbell, Stelle of Minden, Buck of Crete; Misses Stelle, Lindlay, Snell, Butler, Follmer, Dewese, Hammond, Harwood, Kirker, Miller, Nance, Pound, Weeks.

Mrs. J. L. Kellogg gave a pleasant card party Wednesday afternoon. In lieu of prizes each guest was presented with an American Beauty rose. The decorations were green and white and were quite elaborate, a profusion of Easter lillies and ferns being used. The score cards were lily shaped and had on them Mrs. Kellogg's monogram in green. Mrs. Woodworth, Mrs. S. A. Foster, Miss Houtz, Miss Risser and Miss Lindlay assisted in serving the luncheon. Invitations were extended to Mesdames Green, Green, Folsom, Joseph Grainger, Field, Foster, Dorr, Candy, Fling, John Fawell, Billmeyer, Aitken, Bailey, Atwood, Branch, Bigger, Barbour, Guenzel, Harry Harley, E. P. Hoovey, E. L. Holyoke, Irvine, S. C. Hoover, Jones, Kelley, Helwig, Lahr, Lindlay, R. E. Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Spencer and Professor and Mrs. F. M. Fling gave a six handed euchre party Wednesday evening at the home of the former. After the games a luncheon was served to Messrs. and Mesdames Aitken, Arnett, Barbour, Branch, Bartley, Blackburn, Chapin, Crancer, Davis, Folsom, Folsom, Green, Holyoke, Holyoke, Hardy, Holm, Hinman, Harley, Irvine, Kimball, Kellogg, Lees, Love, LeGore, McMurtry, Munger, Roscoe Pound, Richards, Sellock, Rector, Stearns, Snell, Tilton, Clapp, Teeters, Wolcott, Woods, Sawyer, Lacey, Warner, Miller, Field, Van Brunt, Clarence Skinner, Ward, Tibbets, Stevens, Raymond, Paul Hunger, Mrs. Ward, Miss Dennis and Mr. Reed.

Lambda Nu chapter of Pi Gamma Delta held its annual banquet at the Lincoln hotel Friday evening, April 5th. After an eleven course dinner the toasts were: Mr. R. E. Moore, toastmaster. "The founding of Lambda Nu," Mr. Ed R. Harvey; "Lambda Nu in the University of Nebraska," Mr. Leonard Hurtz; "The Ladies," Mr. Arthur Chester Pancoast; "Advantages of a chapter house," Mr. Walter M. Hopewell; "Fraternity ideals," Reverend Asa Smith; "The east and the west," Professor Lyon; "Our fraternity," Doctor Ross; "Alumni organization," Mr. Francis J.
