CHINA DEPARTMENT.

New ideas are received in this Department weekly. Don't buy your china dinner sets on time. Pay cash for them by buying here and save at least 33 1/3 per cent. We have the prettiest white semi-percelain ware in the city—Alfred Meakin's best production. He never turned out a daintier pattern. Every lady admires it, and every lady who is looking for a white set buys it. The cut does not do it justice, but describes the fine embossing as good as can be expected on a newspaper. We want you to see this pattern and we will sell you a 100 piece Dinner Set—guaranteed—every piece of it to be a first selection—for $7.75

You can buy this pattern also in what pieces you desire, and we will match it for years to come.

The eighth anniversary of Beta Nu chapter of Delta Tau Delta was celebrated with a banquet at the Lincoln hotel Saturday evening. Mr. C. C. Marlay acted as toastmaster. The responses were: "Delta Tau Delta and the World Around," Mr. Burton C. Robbins; "A Fraternity Ideal," Mr. John L. Teeters; "Legally Speaking," Mr. E. C. Strode; "A Point of View," Mr. Albert Watkins, Jr.; "What Brings us Back," Mr. Benjamin Kenelm King; "As We Now Are," Mr. Kimball Barnee; "Auld Lang Syne," Mr. Fred Lyons. Two new members, Messrs. Chancellor Phillips and Fred Farney were initiated.

A measuring party was given at the home of Mrs. R. E. Moore on Wednesday afternoon by the Southeast Circle of the First Presbyterian church. Musical selections were rendered by Mrs. R. A. Holyoke, Mrs. C. E. Sanderson, Mr. and Mrs. E. Lewis Baker, Miss May Belle Hagenow, Miss Ella Givens and Miss Burruss. The program: Bright Star of Love, Robandi. Spring Song, Reinecke, Mrs. E. Lewis Baker flute obligato, Mr. Baker. A birthday party was entertained last Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. P. Hildebrand. Games were played, and luncheon was served to Messrs. and Mesdames Mockett, Little, Lamb, J. V. Wolfe, J. J. Tebbetts, Fred Mockett, W. B. Hester, C. H. Frey, Gus Eiche, J. S. Kirkpatrick, G. Hills, S. D. Swab, L. N. Eskew, H. C. Hagen, J. H. Craddock.

Mrs. L. C. Richards entertained the Lotos and Fortnightly clubs on Thursday afternoon. The beautiful, stately court of the Richards' home was darkened and Mrs. Hall delivered a lecture with the aid of magic lantern slides, on French art. Mrs. Hall has already demonstrated her ability to handle the peculiarly difficult problems of an illustrated lecture. Her Thursday afternoon audience was intensely interested and expressed its pleasure by hearty applause.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Bell entertained the Laveta whist club on last Tuesday evening. The members and guests invited were: Messrs. and Mesdames J. J. Davis, J. F. Boggs, C. T. Boggs, W. A. Lindley, A. W. Field, A. H. Weir, J. J. Gillilan, E. Hallett, Mrs. G. J. Hopkins, Miss Mabel Lindley, Miss Boggs, Miss Caffyn, Mr. Henry Lindley, Mr. Rae Lindley, and Mr. Frank Ringer.

The Ladies' Faculty club held its regular social meeting on Wednesday with Mrs. Richards and Mrs. Davis, at the home of the latter.

Mrs. F. E. Campbell entertained the Century club on Tuesday afternoon. A paper on Alexander the Great was read by Mrs. Atwood, and a discussion of the subject was led by Mrs. McCreary.

One of the interesting features of the afternoon was a brief review of some book which had impressed her favorably, by each member of the club. Mrs. Campbell will entertain the club at its next meeting.

Miss Annie Miller entertained Sorosis on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. W. G. L. Taylor discussed the forest problem, ably reviewing it in all its phases. The general discussion which followed was interesting and enthusiastic. The next meeting will be with Mrs. A. S. Tibbets, when Doctor Cook will discuss "A Chapter in Medicine."

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Ocobeck, formerly of Lincoln, but now of Portland, Oregon, passed through the city on Tuesday, and stopped for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. John Watson, of College View. Mr. Ocobeck is an extensive fruit grower. Forty acres of prunes are now blooming for him.

Mrs. J. B. Horton gave a reception on Wednesday afternoon, complimentary to Mrs. Clapp of Wichita, Kansas, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Teeters. The guests were received by Mrs. Horton, Mrs. Clapp and Mrs. Teeters. The di n
