cers, which chapter is decided by vote of the convention, held every two years. The officers are elected for a term of four years. At the regular meeting of Kappa chapter held last Friday evening, Miss Edna Polk was elected president. She is very well qualified for the position to which the fraternity has elected her. Of proved executive ability and of dignified presence, Miss Polk will make an ideal executive officer. She has the mind, the will and the conscience to carry out in full detail whatever responsibilities are entrusted to her, and her election is another evidence of the good judgment of Delta Gamma.

Governor Savage went to Kansas City yesterday to celebrate with the Shriners. The Governor also has received a beautiful engrossed parchment from the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben, Omaha, with the following inscription:

"Honorable E. P. Savage, Governor of the State of Nebraska, Lincoln, Greeting: Know ye, it hath pleased us, Ak-Sar-Ben VII., King of Quivera, Duke of the Seven Cities of Cibola, Grand Master of the Corn Belt and Overlord of Nebraska, in our Sovereign Capacity to confer upon you the rank and title of 'Knight Companion in the Order of Knights of Ak-Sar Ben VII.' and by these letters patent, committed to the hands of sundry of our trusted Governors and Councillors, we do grant and confirm the same.

We require you, at due Convenience and Dispatch, accompanied by such as you may elect from your Staff, Officials of State and Friends, to repair to our City of Omaha, there to receive investiture with befitting pomp and ceremonies.

Let our Embassy take heed that they fail not to render us a full account of their journey and the time of your coming.

May your Excellency live 200 years.
Witness our hand.

AK-SAR-BEN, King.
Attest: SAMPSON."

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Rivett, Miss Rivett and Miss Ethel Rivett will start next week on an European trip of unusual interest. They will leave Lincoln June 20, visit friends in Chicago and Toronto, Canada, then go to Portland, Maine, sailing on the boat Vancouver June 29 for Liverpool. They will go directly to Spratton, Northamptonshire, after which they will visit Brighton, the home of the Washingtons, which is two miles from Spratton, Coventry, Birmingham, Stratford-on-Avon, Leicester and Bedford. They will also visit the exposition at Glasgow, and take a run into Ireland, visiting Dublin, Belfast and the Lakes of Killarney. The trip will occupy between three and four months.

Mrs. Mary Manning, a dramatic reader of ability and fastidious discrimination in interpretation of the dramatists and poets, is in the city to preside at the wedding of her sister, Miss Dennis, to Mr. Reed, on the nineteenth. Mrs. Manning has been engaged by the Sherwood School of Music at Chicago to do all their dramatic work. Her department is called "The Art of Expression." The appointment is a tribute to Mrs. Manning's ability and success with pupils, as there were a large number of competitors for the place. The marked success she obtained in developing voices and in training the young, vigorous speakers at the university has appeared in her work in Chicago. Her method is sound and artistic, and wherever she has an opportunity to develop it, the clearness and strength of her pupil's performances testify to her ability and conscientious teaching.

Miss Deweese, Miss Haggard and Miss Wing gave a breakfast in honor of Miss Dennis at the home of Miss Deweese on Friday morning. The house was beautiful with Japanese decorations and a linen shower followed the breakfast. The invited guests were: Mesdames Manning, Woods, Edmiston, Pennington, and Majors; Misses Hammond, Starrett, Polk, Webster, Herron, Cochran, Garten, Mullikin, Lansing, Tremaine, Wright, Harwood, Abbott and Bowen.

Miss Charlotte Clark gave an informal five o'clock tea on Tuesday for her guest, Miss Bonnell of Chicago. Roses and peonies were used for decoration, and the guests were: Mesdames C. F. Ladd, C. L. Ryan, E. C. Folsom, H. C. Young, E. P. Brown and Mrs. Sisson of Palo Alto, California; Misses Hammond, Clara Hammond, Schwartz, Marsland, Deweese, Kirker, Towne, Spurck, Anne Spurck, Barr, Young and Bonnell.

Miss Beth Marshall gave a tin shower for Miss Kate Snow Walker this morning. The guests are the alumnae of Pi Beta Phi and include Mrs. Lacey and Mrs. George Risser; Misses Kate Walker, Bessie Turner, Margaret Kyle, Stuart, Lennie Stuart, Barber, Gladys Henry and Darlene Woodward of Lincoln; Misses Grace Reynolds, Belle Reynolds, Lulu Wirt and Edna Carcadden of York, and Miss Anna Lytle of Greenwood.

An artistic monument has recently been erected on the family lot of Mrs. L. A. Stuart in Wyuka cemetery that deserves more than a passive notice. The beautiful lines that disclose the general shape of the stone are so perfectly drawn that the plain hammered granite appears most beautiful and contrasts with the very elaborate and excellently carved continuous border under the cap. This is an exceptionally fine piece of work, an ornament to the cemetery, and reflects great credit on the designer and manufacturer.

Miss Sarah Baker of Plattsmouth will visit her nieces, Mesdames Agnew and Atwood, and her sister, Mrs. E. J. Osborn, this week.
