ALFRED M. WILSON, Ph. D. (Yale)
Principal.

Governor delivered a Fourth of July oration at Columbus.

An autumn wedding of more than ordinary interest in city and university circles will be that of Miss Lena E. Anthony, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Anthony, to Mr. Leonard H. Robbins of Newark, New Jersey. Miss Anthony was graduated from the State university in June. She was secretary of the senior class, and was a member of the senior promenade and the senior play committees. Miss Anthony is a former president of the Q. A. T. club and is well known for her prominent part in city social affairs. Mr. Robbins is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity. He was educated in the State university and at Princeton. Since his departure from Lincoln he has occupied various positions on eastern newspapers, and the changes have always been on an ascending scale. He is now Sunday editor of the Newark Sunday News, a new and wealthy competitor of the New York papers recognized as one of the most important journalistic ventures of recent times. Mr. Robbins' success was predicted by those who watched his work in this city on the Evening News.

Governor and Mrs. Savage, Mr. Crouse and Miss Crouse, State Senator Edgar and Mrs. Edgar of Beatrice, returned on the third of July from Spear Fish, Deadwood. The party was organized by Mr. and Mrs. Ager and traveled in a private car but an indisposition prevented the latter from accompanying the rest. At Deadwood the Shriners and the Woman's Thursday club entertained the distinguished guests. After returning, Governor and Mrs. Savage, Mr. and Mrs. Crouse and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar, sent Mrs. Ager, who was prevented from going, a large and very handsome cut glass bowl.

Delta Gamma gave a picnic and informal dance Monday evening in Walsh hall. Those present were: Misses Lulu Hunt, Cochrane, Marie Weidner, Helen Welch, Cora Watkins, Sadie Burnham, Louise Burnham, Abba Bowen, Lillian Fitzgerald, Blanche Garten, Georgia Camp, Edna Harley, Gertrude Macomber, Edith Lewis, Elsie Fawell, and Ruth Raymond; Messrs. Paul Fitzgerald, Seacrest, Lau, Abbott, Wehn, Sizer, Paine, Hayes, Thompson, Holmes, Walsh, Oakley, Clarke, McCreery, Fawell, Raymond and Doctor Orr.

Something cool to drink, but more particularly a cool place to drink it, are important elements in a summer luncheon. Both of these requirements are met at the Palace Dining Hall, where well cooked food and cooling drinks may be enjoyed under the cooling breeze of electric fans. Competent service is provided by the proprietor, Mr. Ottens, while the location, 1130 N street, is convenient for shoppers and down town workers.

Professor C. W. Wallace entertained President E. L. Hewitt of the Normal University of New Mexico last week.

Mrs. W. M. Leonard entertained Lee Bohemiennes Tuesday evening in honor of her guest, Mrs. A. G. Beeson of Omaha.

Married, at the home of the bride, 2232 U street, Sunday afternoon, Miss Laura N. Fording and Mr. Henry E. Gillon of Illinois.

Brownell Block, South 11th St., 3d floor, suite 46 to 53.

A Noteworthy Combination.

The consolidation of The Chicago Record and The Chicago Times-Herald was one of the most important events in the history of modern metropolitan journalism. People familiar with the newspapers published in the great capitals of the world say that the best daily papers are made in Chicago, and it is well known that The Chicago Record and The Chicago Times-Herald are at the very front among Chicago's best dailies. Each covered the world's news thoroughly every day, and each possessed also distinctive special features giving it that individuality so attractive to its readers. Now that the two have been combined, all the resources and world-wide facilities of both papers are united in the Chicago Record-Herald. It is in truth "a great combination"—a combination without a parallel in American journalism. The fortunate readers of The Chicago Record and The Chicago Times-Herald now receive every day a newspaper whose facilities are unequalled by any other American newspaper.

Where Romance Fails.

In Novels.

They quarrel.
They say farewell.
She decides never to see him.
He calls.
She says she is not in.
He sends roses.
Still she remains obdurate.
He sees her at the theatre.
She bows coldly.
He writes, craving forgiveness.
She yields.

In Real Life.

They quarrel.
They say farewell.
He goes to his club.
She remains in her room.
He calls on other friends.
She listens for the door bell.
He attends the theatre.
She spends her evenings alone.
He meets another woman.
She waits for a note.
He sees her at a restaurant.
She smiles.
He bows coldly.
She writes to him.
He does not reply.
