

sen. Miss Haywood and Miss Annie L. Miller. Following the reception the members of the board remained for further conference, and refreshments were again served.

The marriage of Miss Cora Cropsey to Mr. Benjamin McLucas was celebrated on Wednesday evening, at the home of the bride's parents in Fairbury. The ceremony was performed by Elder H. T. Davis of Lincoln, who also performed the marriage ceremony for Mr. and Mrs. Cropsey. Miss Charlotte Whedon played the Mendelssohn wedding march and the march from Lohengrin, and during the service she sang "Stay Thou Yet Awhile, Oh Lovely Night," by Jensen. The bridesmaid was Miss Kate Gallathy, while Mr. Cherry served as groomsman. Misses Margaret Whedon, Blanche Hargreaves, Grace Ashton, Mariel, Ellen and Frances Gere of Lincoln, and Misses Pemberton and McLucas stretched pink and white ribbons to form an aisle through which the bridal party passed on their way to a canopy of southern smilax, under which the ceremony was performed. Wreaths of smilax, white roses and bows of white swiss formed the drawing room decorations; the other rooms were elaborately decorated in pink and green. The bride's gown was of white silk muli over taffeta, trimmed with beautiful lace and insertion. Punch was served by Miss Ashton, and refreshments were served in the dining room by Misses Gere, Whedon and Hargreaves. Other Lincoln guests were Mrs. A. J. Caldwell, grandmother of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Buckstaff, Mrs. Ashton, and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Caldwell. After an eastern journey Mr. and Mrs. McLucas will return to Fairbury, where they will reside.

The opening meeting of the Round Table for the year was held at the Lincoln Monday evening. As arranged at the last meeting of the club held in May, to this meeting each member was asked to bring a lady, and there was unusual gaiety and added brightness at the initial session of the club for the year, in consequence. A six course dinner was served in the ordinary at seven o'clock, after which the party adjourned to the parlors where the paper and discussions were heard. Doctor H. B. Lowry was the leader for the evening, and his topic was "Society, an organizer rather than an organization." Those present were: Doctor and Mrs. F. S. Stein, Messrs. and Meedames A. J. Sawyer, G. M. Lambertson, John B. Wright, H. M. Bushnell, J. E. Miller, C. O. Whedon, R. E. Moore, H. H. Wilson, A. W. Field, F. W. Hill, E. E. Brown, Lewis Gregory, Henry E. Lewis, E. T. Hartley, Mrs. C. L. Hall, Mrs. Thompson, Miss Tibbetts, Miss Miller, Messrs. C. H. Gere, F. M. Hall, A. J. Cornish and Dr. Wharton.

Mrs. Angie F. Newman, one of the best known women of Nebraska, is now one of the editors of "The Weltmer Magazine." Mrs. Newman is very well known for her work among the Mormons. The bill which made plural wives a federal crime was written and passed largely through her influence. She has also been very much interested in prisons and instituted flower-day at the penitentiary and city prisons. Sympathy and care for the unfortunate is a life-long habit. She has a large and flexible vocabulary erected on a background of sympathy. Having been an invalid herself and having been convinced that a magnetic doctor has helped her she is extremely anxious that other invalids be made to believe themselves better. For pure philanthropy she has placed her services at the command of the magnetic healer. Her friends in Lincoln and the number include everyone who knows her, wish her well and success, but most of them have had experience either literary or personal with "magnetic healers," and the experience does not encourage a belief that the man deserves confidence, though of Mrs. Newman's sincerity and absolute faith, for the time being there is not the shadow of a doubt.

Mr. Germain Towl has been visiting Lincoln friends for a few days. He has been at work on the Denver Republican for the last year. Mr. Towl's work has distinction: style and great simplicity and strength. The Colorado altitude is too high and dry and he is at present looking about him, not that he has not definite plans for the future. Mr. Towl has been a reporter on The News and on the World Herald. About his work there is none of the reportorial slovenliness that characterizes the work of the young man who goes on a paper, not because he likes the work especially or has any knowledge of English technique, but because he likes to sit on platforms in a conspicuous place and look as if he had opinions of what is going on, and was an important part of it. Mr. Towl returned to Omaha on Thursday.

Ex-Senator John M. Thurston is in Omaha this week arranging to move his household effects to Washington where he will engage in the practice of his profession. He says that he will make his home in that city for six months. It would not be surprising to his old friends here to find that the proposed six months lengthens out indefinitely. This is to be regretted. For more than thirty years Mr. Thurston has been a citizen of Omaha. Here he laid the foundations of his subsequent success at the bar and in politics and here he will always be held in affectionate regard by the best people of this city and they will follow him in his future career with interest and earnest desire for abundant success.—Omaha Mercury.

Lincoln club women received their full share of honors at the state federation. The newly elected officers are Mrs. Draper Smith, Omaha, president; Mrs. Winnie Durland, Norfolk, vice president; Miss Nanette McCarn, Fremont, recording secretary; Mrs. Ella W. Lobingier, Omaha, corresponding secretary; Mrs. George Cross, Fairbury, treasurer; Mrs. H. M. Bushnell Lincoln, auditor; Mrs. Belle M. Stoutenborough, Plattsmouth, librarian. The delegates who were elected to attend the biennial which meets in Los Angeles next May are Mrs. Bushnell, Mrs. Stoutenborough, Mrs. Draper Smith, Mrs. Durland, Mrs. Langworthy of Seward, Mrs. Pile of Wayne and Mrs. Mathewson of Wakefield.

Invitations have been issued by Mr. George Wing to the marriage of his daughter, Miss Elizabeth Russell Wing, to Doctor DeWitt Bristol Brace, the ceremony to be performed on October sixteenth, at twelve o'clock, at 62 Lenox street, West Newton, Massachusetts. Doctor Brace is connected with the State university.

Congressman E. J. Burkett entertained eight of his friends at a six course dinner last Saturday evening. Red roses formed the table decorations. Covers were laid for: Messrs. E. E. Spencer, W. F. Kelley, D. L. Love, C. D. Traphagen, L. W. Garoutte, J. S. Brown, L. P. Sine, C. H. Warner and E. J. Burkett.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Rewick celebrated their twenty-fourth wedding anniversary on Wednesday evening with a family dinner. The guests were: Mrs. E. E. Rewick of New Bedford, Massachusetts, Mr. and Mrs. C. Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. W. Richardson.

Miss Adelloyd Whiting gave an informal reception on Thursday evening
