They are Misses Luella Lansing, Ruth Bryan, Julia De-weese, Winifred Sherman, of Lincoln; Misses Mary Harris, Lorraine Comstock, Edith Dumont, of Omaha; Miss Mabel Stone, of Hastings, and Miss Mary Tidball, of Crete. A sumptuous dinner followed the ceremony. The banquet board was laid with white, decorated with white chrysanthemums, and lighted with white candles. Admirers of the Delta Gammas showered gifts of flowers and confections upon them.

The W. T. M. of East Lincoln had a pleasant meeting Thursday with Mrs. Kaufman at her home, Thirty-second and W streets. Quotations were from Shakespeare. Pictures representing authors were pinned on the wall and a prize was awarded to Mrs. J. S. Sherdeman for naming the greatest number of authors. A luncheon was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held in two weeks at the home of Mrs. T. F. Lasch. Quotations will be from Longfellow.

Thursday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Hatch, 1944 Cherry street, occurred the marriage of Miss Margaret D. Slade to Mr. Joseph M. Hatch, Dr. H. O. Rowlands officiating. The rooms were decorated with potted plants and carnations. Miss Helen Slade and Miss Emma Hatch, sisters of the bride and groom, received the guests. Only relatives and very intimate friends were privileged to witness the ceremony.

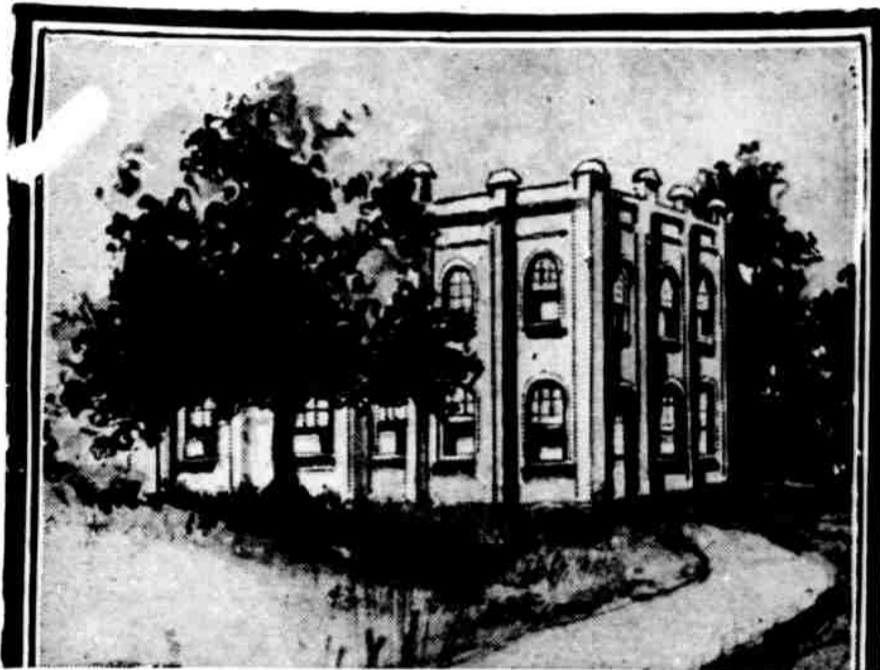

Promptly at 3:30 the bridal couple, preceded by Miss Ethyle Helfinstine of Marshalltown, Ia., as maid of honor, and Mr. Guy Roberts of this city as best man, entered the parlor to the beautiful strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Miss Eva Sisson, and there, standing in the prettily decorated corner they took the solemn vows which united them for life. Congratulations and an informal good time followed. Refreshments consisted of the usual wedding cake, Neapolitan ice and chocolate were served from small tables in the dining room, at the close of which the bride passed the dainty white bride's cake to each guest.

DUCHESS OF MANCHESTER

DUKE OF MANCHESTER

Although there is much congratulation for the Manchesters on account of the recent arrival of the stork who brought with him a dear little girl baby, at the same time it is generally known that the Duchess is much disappointed because her expectations to present her husband with an heir were not realized. The above are latest pictures of the Duke and Duchess and Kimbolton Castle, their handsome residence. The Duchess formerly was Miss Helen Zimmermann, of Cincinnati, O. Her father is a millionaire manufacturer, whose wealth the daughter will inherit. It is related that a good, round sum of Mr. Zimmermann's money already has gone to pay the Duke's debts.

Miss Helfinstine wore a dainty gown of white silk mull and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations and maiden hair ferns. The bride wore a gown of sheer white organdie with a yoke of fine point lace, collar and girdle of pale blue soft silk and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and ferns.

The guests from out of the city were Miss Ethyle Helfinstine of Marshalltown, Ia.; Mrs. John Hatswell and little daughter Leota, of Red Oak, Ia.

Both bride and groom are quite well known in Lincoln and their many friends will wish them all the joy and happiness possible in their married life. After December 1 they will be at home to friends at 1944 Cherry street.

The city improvement society gave a reception Thursday evening at Waish hall in honor of the city officials and the members of the Union-Commercial club. More than four hundred invitations were sent out and a large number of those bidden responded. Mrs. Henry P. Eames presented the guests to the receiving line in which were Mrs. W. G. L. Taylor, president of the society, and Mr. Taylor, Mayor and Mrs. Winnett, Mr. J. C. Seacrest, president of the Union-Commercial club, and Mrs. Seacrest, Mrs. T. C. Munger, treasurer of the society, and Mr. Munger, Mrs. M. D. Welch, first vice president and Mrs. Nellie M. Richardson, secretary of the society, Mesdames M. H. Everett, Lewis Gregory, W. D. Fitzgerald, F. D. Levering, J. F. Stephens and J. A. Piper did the honors in the parlor. The dancing hall was decorated with grains and pumpkins. The orchestra on the stage was screened by shocks of corn. A refreshment table in charge of Mrs. W. M. Leonard and Mrs. Funke was decorated with fruits and lighted by candles. Misses Outcalt, Hays, Hargreaves and Wilson in peasant costumes served doughnuts and cider. In the small refreshment room ices were served by Mrs. W. J. Bryan and Mrs. I. S. P. Weeks assisted by Mesdames Callen Thompson, B. F. Bailey and S. G. Dorr. This room was decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and lighted with yellow candles.

The W. T. M. and their husbands were delightfully entertained last Saturday evening by Mrs. Arthur Gentzler and Mrs. A. G. Evans at the home of the former. The house was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and potted plants, and with pink and white, the club colors. A corner in the reception hall was draped in pink and white and there cider was served. Miss Bessie Evans sang a number of pretty songs to Mrs. Morse's skillful accompaniment, Master Russell Gentzler recited "The Bad Boy." Miss Ona Tourtelotte gave a recitation in her own charming manner and in response to a cordial recall gave a wordless poem which delighted all. Jumbled Mother Goose rhymes created interest and merriment as the guests translated them. Dainty refreshments were served. Those present besides club members were Misses Tourtelotte, Evans, Walker, McCloud; Messrs. Baird, Evans and Charlie Evans.

Dr. and Mrs. R. S. Grimes entertained pleasantly at cards Thursday evening. High five was the game. Prizes were won by Mrs. Herbert Gardner, Mrs. R. R. Boyce, Mr. Samuel North and Mr. Henry Barth. The house was decorated with chrysanthemums and carnations. A color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the decorations and in the ice cream, wafers and other refreshments. The luncheon was served in three courses. Mrs. Chapman, Mrs. Sutter and Mrs. McCain favored the company with selections on mandolin and guitar. Following were present: Messrs. and Mesdames H. Gardner, Arthur North, Sam North, E. B. Ransom, Jacob North, Geo. McCain, D. Heagey, G. I. Smith, T. Constant, H. H. Barth, H. Rainbolt, Arthur Young, C. F. McCain, F. Hallet, F. Sawyer, J.
