THE WEEK'S REVIEW

A program of high order and unusual interest was given on Monday afternoon before the Matinee Musicale illustrating the Gypsy Element in music. The program was arranged by the third division assisted by Mr. August Hagenow and Mr. Alexander Berger and reflected great credit on the leaders, Mrs. E. Lewis Baker and Miss Ensign. The stage was arranged with brilliant colored Navajo blankets to represent a gypsy camp and a part of the performers were dressed in gypsy costume. A most pleasing feature of the program was the group of songs given by four young ladies who had been drilled by Mrs. Baker. Their singing showed a high degree of finish and blending and gave a very vivid picture of gypsy life. The scene from Carmen given by Mrs. Baker, assisted by Miss Agnew and Mrs. Hart, also deserves special mention and was given with true dramatic style and coloring.

The music throughout was very brilliant. Mrs. Will Owen Jones played a Liszt rhapsody in a most delightful manner and the string numbers were given with the same brilliant abandon, which characterized the entire program. Miss Herrick, who appeared for the first time before a Matinee Musicale audience, played her solo and two accompaniments with taste and expression and Miss Murphy's songs were charmingly rendered. The program:

Piano—a. Ventanas (Mexican Dance), Tejada. b. La Negrita (Argentine Habanera), Hargreaves; Miss Cora Herrick.

Songs—a. Tune Thy Strings, O Gypsy, Dvorak; b. Songs My Mother Taught Me, Dvorak; c. Gypsies, Dudley Buck; Miss Sydney Murphy. (Miss Maybelle Hagenow, accompanist.)

Trio—Gypsy Rondo, Haydn; piano—Miss Maybelle Hagenow, violin—Mr. August Hagenow, cello—Mr. Alexander Berger.

Songs—a. The Fugitive; b. Speed Thee, Birdie; c. The Forsaken; d. The Pledge of Love (Moravian Gypsy Songs); Mrs. Carrie Hart, Miss Charlotte Hullhorst, Miss Catherine Agnew, Miss Anna Caldwell.

Piano—Hungarian Rhapsody No. 12, Liszt; Mrs. Will Owen Jones.

Scena—"Carmen"—Act II, Bizet; Carmen—Mrs. E. Lewis Baker, Frasquita—Mrs. Hart, Mercedes—Miss Agnew.

Quartet—Strings and Piano—Hungarian Dances, G minor and D major, Brahms; Violin—Mr. Hagenow, Viola—Mrs. Hagenow, Cello—Mr. Berger, Piano—Miss Hagenow.

The New Book Review club met Wednesday with Mrs. W. M. Widener. After current events two papers from the reciprocity bureau of the Nebraska federation of clubs were read, one a review of "The Little Minister," by Mrs. Scott of Ashland; the other an original story, "The Vital Question of Heredity," by Mrs. Fuller of Beatrice. Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Maddox contributed musical numbers.

At the meeting of the Fortnightly club this week Mrs. A. S. Raymond

The Aldine club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. W. E. Barkley. After current events Mrs. Frankish gave a very interesting review of "The Man That Corrupted Hadleyburg," by Mark Twain.

At its meeting on Thursday the city improvement society decided to commence a crusade against filthy sidewalks, steps and the halls of public buildings.

The officers of Plymouth Congregational church and their wives pleasantly surprised Mrs. James J. Rivett upon the occasion of her twentieth marriage anniversary. Business took Mr. Rivett from the city Tuesday so he was not present to enjoy the pleasures of the evening.

WILL LAUNCH THE KAISER'S YACHT IN FEBRUARY

MISS ALICE ROOSEVELT

The Kaiser's new American built yacht, which Miss Alice Roosevelt is to christen, will be ready early in February. The people of Germany are delighted and the German press is full of descriptions and pictures of Miss Roosevelt. Here is her very latest picture.

read a paper on "Transformations in European Colonies in the Western Hemisphere."

The engagement of Miss Mabel Chapin, of Minden, Nebraska, to Mr. William H. Raymond, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Raymond, has been announced. The marriage will be celebrated February the twenty-sixth. Miss Chapin was a student in the art department of the state university last year.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Grainger left Tuesday evening for Chicago to remain until Sunday as the guests of Mrs. Grainger's parents, they then go to New York and will sail on Wednesday for England to visit Mr. Grainger's parents, taking with them two of their sons. They will be absent two months.

The W. T. M. spent Thursday afternoon pleasantly as guests of Mrs. Morse at Thirtieth and T streets. A prayer by Tennyson was read and quotations were from the same author. On a blackboard were written words representing the names of those present and the guessing afforded considerable amusement. Eighteen ladies were present. A three course luncheon was served.
