

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Foster gave a series of military euchres this week, two evening parties and one in the afternoon. The house was decorated with many flags, and a profusion of red roses, and lighted by red, white and blue candles. Curtains of smilax hung in the doorways. The patriotic colors were carried out in the ice cream and other viands, and in the gowns of the serving ladies. A red or white carnation was given as a favor to each guest. Refreshments were served by Misses Anna Foster, Risser and Hoover, Mesdames Foster, George Foster, George Risser and B. W. Richards. The parties were given in honor of Mrs. George Foster and Miss Anna Foster.

The ladies of the U. C. T. auxiliary and their husbands were pleasantly entertained Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Wohlenberg. Cards were played. The royal prizes were won by Mrs. W. B. Townsend and Mr. Martin, and the consolations by Mrs. E. A. Bailey and Mr. Porter. The house was prettily decorated with ropes of smilax, carnations and roses, and was illuminated with wax candles. Ping Pong, the new parlor game which has created such a furore in England for a year or two, has found its way to this country and has become popular in some of the eastern cities. The game takes its name from the sound made by the ball as it passes through the air. Whiff whaff, is another English name for the game, which is really an indoor version of lawn tennis and follows rules similar to those used in that game. It is coming to be known here as "table tennis" and is likely to surpass in interest all other indoor games.

He has charge of the storehouse of the B. & M. railroad, and will bring his bride here to live.

At a party given recently in a nearby city, the hostess provided her guests with pencils and paper and requested them to write down all the slang words and phrases which they knew, hinting that a prize awaited the successful competitor. The ladies worked hard and fast to extend their lists and they grew to surprising lengths. When the time had expired the hostess brought in a handsome gift which she awarded to the lady having the shortest list.

Mrs. I. G. Chapin and Mrs. Frank Everts entertained the south-east circle of the First Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon. A military courtship with Mrs. Everts as reader, and Mrs. Clinton R. Lee at the piano, was a feature. A luncheon sufficiently elaborate for a party, was served.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Davis are at De Funiak Springs, Florida, to recuperate and to attend the Florida Chautauqua.

"THE ASCENSION."

"ROLLING AWAY OF THE STONE."

J. W. Mitchell has recently completed two pictures, likenesses being produced above, which are attracting more than ordinary attention. His most recent work is "The Ascension," which, in gorgeousness of coloring, is entitled to rank with his other justly celebrated scriptural paintings. The picture, "Rolling Away of the Stone," was completed some time ago, aside from some finishing touches. It is considered an exceptionally excellent piece of landscape work.
