THE WEEKLY PRESS FORUM.

Rochester (Pa.) Commoner: Speaker Henderson is simply getting out of the way of the righteous wrath of a plundered and wronged people.

Shenandoah (Ia.) World: It is clear that the republicans are in a bad strait on the tariff fight, when one of their prominent leaders backs down and runs away.

Red Wing (Minn.) Argus: If you don't like the way Morgan runs things don't whimper. Depose him. He has no power but it was given him by the people.

Bucyrus (O.) Forum: The republican laughter over Tom Johnson's tent campaign bears a painful resemblance to the tooth-chattering performance of a man with the ague.

San Francisco Star: Why should trusts be protected by the people whom they rob? The tariff on trust-made goods forces the people to pay extra on all the necessaries of life.

Gunnison (Colo.) News-Champion: After denouncing free silver as insane, immoral and what not, republicans have coined silver faster than it was ever done before and that is responsible for much of the prosperity.

Humboldt (Ia.) Democrat: The Herald-Democrat stands square-toed and flat-footed on the Kansas City platform and proposes to stand there until another national convention changes it.

Newark (Ark.) Journal: The republican party can never hope to be better prepared to enact anti-trust legislation than it was at the last session of congress. And still they claim to be opposed to trusts!

Darlington (Wis.) Democrat: There is a logical concensus of opinion to the effect that the Hon. Joseph W. Babcock, tariff reformer, and the Hon. Joseph W. Babcock, campaign manager, have never been formally introduced to each other.

Greenwood (Miss.) Commonwealth: The prospects for democratic success this fall are brightening as the days pass. Speaker Henderson's withdrawal has fallen like a bomb in the camp and the g. o. p. is experiencing a powerful lot of trouble.

Bellefonte (Pa.) Watchman: It is observed that Roosevelt suggests no practical way of suppressing the extortionate combinations. What he proposes would be as fruitless as the work he assigned to Attorney General Knox for putting the beef trust out of business.

Jonesboro (Ill.) Gazette: The republican press is making a terrific onslaught on the democratic campaign text-book, but strange to say maintain a profound silence in regard to their own. In fact, the republican text-book is practically repudiated. It will not stand airing.

Buffalo Lake (Minn.) News: Pennsylvania is the home of the greatest number of strikes, the greatest oppression of labor and the greatest amount of corruption of any state in the union. Is Pennsylvania a democratic state? No; it is the strongest republican state in the union.

Maysville (Mo.) Herald: Campaign orators tell us that we should vote for protection in the interest of our own factories and not those of Europe. Yet when the time comes to reciprocate those factories sell their goods cheaper to Europe than they do at home. How long will it be until we will have our eyes open?

Hastings (Minn.) Democrat: A few hundred millionaires have now so far been protected that they control all important lines in trade, and industry, in this great country and have the consumers completely at their mercy. They even compel Americans to pay more for their products at home than foreigners pay for the same products in foreign markets.
