been broken out and seeded to wheat it would have sold for $20 to $25 an acre cash.

These are two typical examples of what thousands upon thousands from the states and the eastern provinces of Canada have done in the northwestern portion of the dominion.

This excursion of agricultural editors, which was fully appreciated by every member, was organized by the firm of Brightman & Brown of St. Paul, advertising agents, who handle practically all the land advertised which goes out of Canada. Mr. A. B. Brightman is thoroughly familiar with the proposition and appreciates the importance of getting it before the people of the United States. He induced the railroads, the land companies, the boards of trade throughout the northwest to subscribe to a fund for conducting this excursion. In this work he was ably seconded by Mr. Theodore P. Knappen, secretary of the Western Immigration association, an organization formed quite recently for the purpose of placing the advantages of northwestern Canada before the people. These men accompanying the party saw to it that every comfort was provided and made it possible for the agricultural editors to get comprehensive and accurate ideas of what northwestern Canada was capable. The Canadian Northern railroad and the Canadian Pacific railroad hauled the two private cars over the main portions of their roads, making it possible for these editors to see all the prominent and important sections of the country, to interview business men and farmers, as to just what has been done and what the country is capable of doing. The good as well as the bad points were presented so that any fair minded editor returned from that trip with an exact knowledge of the Canadian northwest. The attention and courtesy shown by Messrs. Brightman and Knappen, by the railroads, commercial bodies and by officials of the government, who were detailed to be on the train at all times was thoroughly appreciated and fully expressed in resolutions adopted on the last day of the trip.

Leaving Winnipeg August 22, the party visited a number of places in southern Manitoba, where farmers have been for twenty years. Here they saw great wheat fields still producing from twenty-five to forty bushels to the acre of twenty years of cropping. From this region we went to Dauphin and visited the region which had been farmed for about seven years. The famous Dauphin plains bore this year wonderful crops of grain which were the admiration of men familiar with great wheat countries.

The party then went west to Battleford, then back to Saskatoon, where a trip was taken through the big wheat fields there. This is a great wheat region, and during the present year will ship in the neighborhood of one million bushels. The party then went north to Prince Albert, back to Regina, then west to Lethbridge, where a side trip was taken to Raymond. There the beet sugar factory was visited, and the irrigation region inspected. The party then went north to Edmonton, attending the celebration accompanying the inauguration of the lieutenant governor of the new province of Alberta, then back to Banff, where the Sabbath day was spent very pleasantly, after which the start home was made.

A stop was made at Calgary, and the organization project being developed by the Calgary Colonization company was investigated. The party then started for Winnipeg, stopping at several places en route. One day on this trip was spent at Winnipeg, and the editors returned to their homes fully cognizant of the great future of Canada, wonderfully enthu-

How I Got My Hearing Back

By GEORGE H. WILSON

I WAS once a deaf man! I was so deaf that I couldn't hear a watch tick when held close against my ear. The Deafness came on by degrees, and first I hardly noticed it.

As it grew I noticed my friends falling away from me. Then my business chances began fading out. It was too much trouble to talk to a Deaf man.

Now, I want you to know that I was ambitious and had made large plans for my own future. I knew I had the Brains to succeed, if I could only get over that terrible curse of Deafness. It seemed to shut me out from all my Opportunities.

My Deafness set me worrying and thinking hard for a means of Cure.

For nearly two years I haunted the offices of Ear-Doctors. Then I tried about every quack remedy, and my money melted as fast as my chances for making more vanished. The end of it came at last, and I had to work out my own cure.

That was my salvation! First, I read nearly every book printed about the ear. Then I made a model of the hearing part of the Ear. Then I tried all kinds of experiments on this artificial Ear.

Whenever I worked out any device that looked promising on this artificial Ear, I tried it on my own living Ear. Night after night I worked on my experiments, with feverish hope and anxiety, for the result meant everything to me in this world. I am sure I worked harder, thought deeper and experimented further than any Ear Specialist had ever done before.

At last I hit upon the right idea, and I worked on this steadily for months, to apply it.

I found out how to increase Weak sounds, just as spectacles or eye glasses increase the size of small letters, in a book.

From that time on my progress was rapid, till I had a clumsy pair of Listening Machines.

Finally I worked the principle down so that it was contained in two little telephones.

These went entirely within the ears, where no one could see them, nor suspect me of wearing them. The only thing now left to do was to make them so soft and comfortable, in the Ear holes, that one did not feel their presence.

I could hear as distinctly, with them in my ears, as I ever did before my deafness came on me. I could hear a watch tick three feet away, when they were in my ears, though I couldn't hear a sound from that watch when the "Listeners" were removed.

But a greater wonder took place a little later on. Removing the tiny telephones from my ears one day, to clean them, I held my watch up to my right ear. I was amazed to hear it tick clearly and distinctly without artificial aid!

I tried this again with a yard measure from week to week, with the "Listeners" removed.

I was delighted to find that each week I could hear the watch tick a few inches farther away.

My little Listening Machines had made the sounds so loud for my Hearing Nerves that they had no longer any straining to catch weak sounds.

"My Deafness set me worrying and thinking hard for a means of Cure."

This easy hearing rested these Ear Nerves so much that they soon got back all their old strength and keenness. That's what a famous doctor said.

Well, after I got back my hearing you'd be surprised how my friends came around, and talked to me. Why, I never knew I had so many friends, and I don't think I ever knew their value till I lost my hearing.

A thousand people in this city of Louisville, Ky., know the story of my struggles against deafness, and of my ultimate success,—greater than I had ever hoped for.

Since then thousands of deaf people, in this country alone, have recovered their hearing in the same way, and I wish you could read the letters they wrote me. I have published a book containing 40 of these letters, which I will gladly send you on request.

I think I understand deaf people better now than any other man in America, and when advice of mine can help them they are welcome to it. I can tell them how to recover their hearing, and I will tell any of them who writes me.

I can always be reached, by letter, care of The Wilson E. D. Co. 87 Todd Building, Louisville, Ky., and I'll send copies of the letters if you'll mail me just the postage, which is two cents.

PAST BELIEF

It is circumstantially reported that over $100,000 changed hands in the poker game on a steamer coming back from Europe recently. Coming back, mind you! There just seems to be no limit to some people's money.—Indianapolis News.

CHANGE IN DIAGNOSIS

In Abilene last week the doctors came very nearly making a mistake. When they found the patient had no money they changed their diagnosis from appendicitis, and instead of an operation they gave him three pills. The patient is now at work.—Kansas City Star.

MONUMENT FOR THE CONCORDS Massachusetts people propose to erect a monument to Ephraim Bull of Concord. Years ago, finding a wild grapevine in the woods, he transplanted it in his yard in Concord, Mass. Careful attention resulted in delicious grapes. The original vine is still growing and is the father of the Concord grades we all eat today. Let the monument be erected.—Minneapolis Journal.

WEIRD LOGIC

Wonderful and fearful is the Globe-Democrat's logic. That paper holds that McCall's contribution to the republican campaign fund from money belonging to the policyholders of the New York Life was a disgrace to the democratic party. The Globe-Democrat probably arrived at that conclusion by walking on the ceiling.—Joplin (Mo.) Globe.
