The following letters are self-explanatory: J. F. Walker, Belleville, Kans.—Enclosed find $15.00 for twenty-five subscriptions to The Commoner, with best wishes for its future success and the final triumph of the great principles for which it is always found at work.

William Walsh, Merna, Nebr.—I send herewith the names of a club of ten subscribers, also money order to pay for the same. Democrats are rather scarce in this corner, but there is a big improvement. Small as this club is, it is double what I could get last year. Hurrah for Jeffersonian democracy and The Commoner.

P. E. Parker, Bay City, Texas—Enclosed find my check for five dollars to pay for the following subscriptions. I assure you that The Commoner is greatly appreciated by me, and my greatest hopes of the future safety of my country lies in the great principles enunciated by Mr. Bryan and his colleagues through The Commoner.

ONE OF MARK TWAIN'S

Mark Twain's story about Artemus Ward is one of the funniest yarns, says Judge. One day when Artemus Ward was traveling a man approached him in the train, sat down and said: "Did you hear the last thing on Horace Greeley?" "Greeley? Greeley?" said Artemus; "Horace Greeley? Who is he?" The man was quiet about five minutes. Pretty soon he said: "George Francis Train is kicking up a good deal of a row over in England. Do you think they will put him in a bastille?" "Train? Train? George Francis Train?" said Artemus, solemnly. "I never heard of him." This ignorance kept the man quiet about fifteen minutes. Then he said: "What do you think about General Grant's chances for the presidency? Do you think they'll run him?" "Grant? Grant? Hang it, man!" said Ward, "you appear to know more strangers than any man I ever saw." The man was furious. He walked off, but at last came and said: "You confounded ignoramus, did you ever hear of Adam?" Artemus looked up and said: "Adam? What was his other name?" —Ex.
