of the democratic state committee, and Fred W. Fleming of Kansas City, were the speakers. E. W. Stevens of Columbia, Mo., acted as toastmaster.

Washington dispatches say that President Roosevelt will favor tariff revision at the next session of congress.

An Associated Press dispatch under date of Denver, April 13, follows: "Chief Justice Gabbert of the state supreme court yesterday filed a supplemental opinion in the Moyer case. It is generally conceded that this new opinion will take precedence over the former majority opinion as the latest expression of the court. The chief justice declared that the governor of the state has the power to suspend habeas corpus at his discretion and that the courts can not review the action. The body of the new opinion is taken up with excerpts from an opinion of Justice Johnson in a case in the Philippine islands in which the power of the governor general to suspend the privileges of the writ of habeas corpus during a state of insurrection in the province of Bantangas was upheld. The chief justice finds the case analogous to the situation presented in Colorado during the labor troubles and draws conclusions in which the incarceration of Moyer by the military is upheld."

An Associated Press dispatch under date of Washington, April 13, follows: "Senator Tillman today filed formal charges with the sub-committee considering the nomination of Benjamin F. Barnes, assistant secretary to the president, to be postmaster at Washington, and protested against his confirmation. These charges relate to the expulsion of Mrs. Minor Morris from the executive office, and assert inhuman and brutal treatment of the woman, and also allege that Barnes made a false statement about the case."

President Roosevelt was the orator at the laying of the corner stone of the building to be used as offices for the house of representatives. "The man with the muck rake" was his subject and he rebuked magazine and newspaper writers for exaggeration and unfair assaults upon public men.

Six men were killed by an explosion in the United States battleship Kearsarge. The ship was in Cuban waters.

Senator Beedle, republican, and Representative Potter, democrat, of the Wisconsin legislature, members of the committee appointed to investigate the Wisconsin insurance companies, visited Lincoln recently and were callers at The Commoner office. Representative Potter says that Wisconsin will soon be in the democratic column.
