at many points, to Illumine at all, and in each to reinforce the need for ludividual consecration, for the right choice as to purpose and conduct, the attitude toward God which each human soul must face, and where character or the lack of it begin and flow out to make the man what he is.

It is much when a public character upon whom so many political hopes bave centered, and who is without challenge a remarkable American, discusses thus, with a sincerity that is manifest, the roots of character and conduct with the youth of a city. The process helps to establish not only respect for religious truth and life, but to invite to the practice of that which is honorable and of good report. Difspeaking and lecturing the man has publican.

the best ideals of citizenship, but be possesses an art of persuasion that must work good in inviting to reverent thought and faithfulness in service all along the line. Mr. Bryan in this is a helpful citizen of the republic, whatever his political future may be.

It is evidence of character and strength when higher public service is not dependent upon public office, and of lay preaching such as Mr. Bryan's we need more and not less. The message of the pulpit can gain converting power in secular lips as it is seen that the ideals of the "sacred office" are convertible into terms of every day good citizenship-that it pays best to invite peace of soul through honesty of service, and that the life and words of fer as men will with Mr. Bryan in Jesus Christ still constitute the great politics, no good citizen failed to get solvent of problems that vex the comfrom his address an impulse that munity, the nation and the great famshould abide beyond the hour. In his ily of nations.—Springfield, Mass., Re-

President Roosevelt to Labor Leaders

President Roosevelt has written an- sulted in tremendous pressure being other letter concerning Moyer and Haywood. The letter was read before the central federated union at New York, Sunday, May 5, and then was forwarded to the attorneys for Moyer and Haywood at Boise, Idaho: The president's letter follows: "The White House, Washington, May 5 .- My Dear Mr. Henry: When you in company with Messrs. Coakley and Brown called upon me this morning I read you the letter I had written to the attorney general on March 25, 1906. At your request I gladly send you the following extract from that letter: 'Our duty is (if it should ever happen that we had any power in the matter) to see that exact justice is done these men. There must be no condonation of lawlessness on our part even if the lawlessness takes the form of an effort to avenge the wrongs committed by the lawlessness of others. The sole question as regards Haywood and Moyer must be the question whether or not they can be shown to be guilty of this particular act, and their legal rights must be as carefully safeguarded as those of any other men. It is alleged that they were extradited from Colorado in a manner that amounted to a betrayal of their legal rights. I should like to have the district attorney of Colorado, and if necessary the district attorney of Idaho, give me such information as they can on this point. I should like to get from the district attorney of Idaho any information that he can obtain as to whether or not there has been the slightest disposition shown by the authorities 'n Idaho to act toward these men in an unfair or improper manner, or to deny them their legal rights. On the other hand, I should line to know whether there is any symptom of a miscarriage of justice in their favor. The intemperate violence with which the socialistic or labor papers, like that of Debs, and I am sorry to say, some labor organizations, have insisted, without any knowledge of the facts, upon treating these as martyrs to the cause of labor, has unquestionably re-brought to bear upon the authorities of Idaho to discharge or acquit the n, whether guilty or innocent. So far as the unions are anxious only to see that exact justice is done these men; that they are given their full legal rights, and not condemned unless proved guilty of this specific act, they are entitled to the cordial co-operation of all just and fair-minded citizens. So far as by any action, or by murderous and treasonable language, such as that quoted above from Debs and others, they tend to bring pressure to bear upon the state authorities and the courts, to obstruct the course of justice and to render it difficult to convict the men if guilty, is without stint to be condemned, and anything that the federal authorities can do, in eitner event, to further the cause of justice is to be done.' In response to your question, it is, I trust, needless for me to say that if at any time you, or any one else, can submit to me any evidence showing that there has been a miscarriage of justice, for or against Messrs. Moyer or Haywood, which you believe it is in my power to remedy. I will at once bring such evidence to the attention of the attorney general, to have him give it the fullest consideration, and to take thereon such action, if any there may be in the power of the federal authorities to take. Sincerely yours, Theodore Roosevelt. Mr. John S. Henry, New York.

VOTING MACHINES TO GO

The passage by the New Jersey senate of the voting machine local option bill is supposed to mark the banishment of the machines from the state. It is expected to pass the house without serious opposition.

For five years the state has purchased these machines in lots, until now there is about $300,000 invested in 500 of them. The people found it hard to "get the hang" of them, and voters have stayed away from the polls rather than exhibit their inability to comprehend them.

Besides, it was brought out in the found a work that not only embodies debate yesterday that the clicking of the machine under the manipulation of the voter tells those near whether he is registering a straight or split ticket. In many of the districts they registered more votes than there were names on the registry lists.-Trenton Dispatch to New York Times.

NO SUCH THING AS CORK LEGS

"A cork leg?" said the dealer. "Why man, a cork leg would crumble under you like a leg of bread. You don't want a cork leg, but an elm or willow

"I thought the best ones were cork the lightest, you know."

"No indeed. A leg was never made Journal.

of cork since the world's beginning But many men think as you do, and I'll tell you how the fallacy originated. The inventor of the modern artificial leg-the leg instead of the stick-was John Cork. Cork's legs, cork legs, were famous around 1810. And whenever a man makes your mistake he pays an unconscious tribute to Cork's skill."-Minneapolis Journal.

WATTERSON'S GUESS

Here, then, is my guess of the republican ticket in 1908:

For President-Charles E. Hughes, of New York.

For Vice President-Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois .- Louisville Courter-

One carrier, 1 fork, 13 rafter irons and hooks, 120 ft. rope, 5 floor hooks, 3 pulleys. Wood, steel and cable track outfits any lengths.

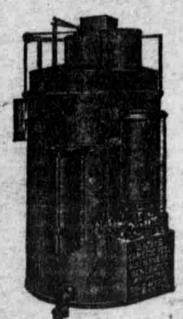

One forthis finite improved Harrow, Cuts 10 feet. Furnished with 5 steel reversible shovels, giving two wearing edges spring Steel U Bars, giving two wearing edges spring six teeth bar having six useful one-herse Cutsucoff of Rutomatic compensed airtwo gallon spray pump. Four gallon spray pump. Four gallon steeth to two section six teeth to two section six teeth barrow. Cuts 10 feet. Furnished with ½ or ½ solid brass tank, 54.55. Extension pipes for trees extra.

US TODAY, A post card will do and we will mail you MARVIN SMITH CO. CHICAGO

A GOOD LIGHT

May be had in the country as well as in town. The use of kerosene has long been abandoned in our cities because it is both disagreeable and dangerous, as well as giving but a small volume of illumination, and that of a poor quality. The best of all light is

ACETYLENE

The use of Acetylene in stores, colleges, churches, hospitals, greenhouses, residences, etc., is extending very rapidly, on account of its superiority and economy.

The United States Government is using our generators in Indian schools at various agencies. Railroad Steam Wreckers (perhaps the most important piece of rolling stock) and Railroad and Marine Steam Shovels are equipped with Davis Acetylene Plants for night work, where they undergo tests so severe that nothing but a generator with a Davis feed can withstand them.

DAVIS GENERATORS

"Run like a clock." work automatically, give twenty-four hour service, and the gas is ready for instant use. Davis generators have passed the rigid examination of the engineers of the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

You Need Better Light

It will draw custom to the store and make home more comfortable and attractive. Send for our catalog.

Davis Acetylene Company Elkhart, Ind.

THE PRIMARY PLEDGE

I promise to attend all the primaries of my party to be held between now and the next Democratic National Convention, unless unavoidably prevented, and to use my influence to secure a clear, honest and straightforward declaration of the party's polition en every question upon which the voters of the party desire to speak.

M Kell Sing-Right	Signed
Street	Postoffice

Fill out Blank and mail to Com noner Office, Lincoln, Neb.