

SAVE MONEY

Extraordinary Subscription Opportunity

To save money for Commoner readers we have arranged to secure reduced rates on any one or more of some two thousand periodicals of general circulation. Our readers will be given the benefit of such reduction when taking any of such periodicals in connection with their Commoner subscription. The following suggested combinations have been arranged for your convenience. If you do not find here what you want please give us the name and address of the periodicals for which you wish to subscribe and we will promptly quote you the lowest rate it is possible for us to make.

Periodicals may be sent to different addresses if desired. All subscriptions for one year. Foreign postage extra.

Commoner readers who are willing to assist in increasing The Commoner's influence will find it easy to interest their friends, who are not now subscribers, by bringing to their attention the extraordinary low prices at which high class periodicals may be secured in combination with The Commoner.

CRANE GAVE IT TO THEM "RED HOT"

York Herald had published on September 9, the following dispatch:

"Tokio, Wednesday—The Tokio press regrets that the jingo American press is raising the usual protest against Japan regarding the new China-Japanese convention. It states that the Manchurian railways are administered in accordance with America's long cherished motto of the open door policy. Moreover, it adds, the convention is now an accomplished fact, and America can not change it, however much it may dislike it."

"The publication complained of by the state department was not made until September 27. This also has a significant bearing on the reference to 'recent canards' in the secretary's telegram to me at San Francisco."

"In order to understand how this matter came to be mentioned, it is necessary to make a brief explanation. When I accepted the appointment of minister to China, at the request of the president, and afterward he expressed the earnest wish that the people of this country should be aroused to a keen interest in the Pacific situation, both commercially and politically, he felt that our greatest problem lay there, and that our people were not fully awakened to its importance."

"As I stated in a public address in Chicago on September 4, the president advised me to accept all available invitations to public meetings and dinners and said: 'Do not miss any of them and when you go to one insist on speaking and let them have it red hot.'"

"I assumed the president wished me to discuss realities, not platitudes. I have not had experience as a public speaker, and it was and is a difficult role, but I have done my best to carry out the president's wishes."

"The difficulty has also been increased by the absence of specific instructions from the state department, and of any adequate discussion with its officials as to the policy of this government. I have been much gratified that no criticism had come to me from any official source until I was recalled to Washington last week."

"With the previous approval of the president, I had arranged to go to China by way of Europe, so that I might have conferences with well-informed and influential persons of widely divergent interests and points of view, and I had made many appointments."

"It was then suggested by Mr. Knox that it would be better for me to proceed by way of the Pacific. Contrary to my understanding that this matter should be fully discussed with the president, in conference with Secretary Knox, the secretary informed me that it would be unnecessary to see the president, and that I should proceed by way of Japan. It was agreed I should sail on October 5 with the minister to Japan. I was told letters would be given me and arrangements made for seeing important persons in Japan. I have not since then seen Secretary Knox, except on last Sunday, nor have I had any adequate discussion with the department as to its policy."

"Some days before the date set for my departure, I came to Washington and with considerable difficulty made a number of appointments with the first assistant secretary of state, no one of which could he keep, nor explain his failure to keep. No papers, not even my official credentials, were ready for me when I left Washington for San Francisco, with just time to catch the steamer. I have not examined the papers from the state department which reached me in San Francisco after the secretary's telegram recalling me to Washington.

"As I was hurriedly leaving Washington, a representative of an important paper asked me about the China-Japan agreement, and I said the matter was under consideration, as was well known, but that no decision had been reached, and I may have said, although I do not recall it, that obviously no statement would be prepared in the absence of Mr. Hoyt. I advised him to get thoroughly informed upon the whole subject as it would be of the greatest importance that it be handled intelligently by the American press if official action were taken."

"This is the sum of my offending. On mature consideration, it is my judgment that my action was in accordance with the spirit, at least, of the president's wishes, expressed by him to me, and that it furnished no sufficient excuse for the sensational and inconsiderate action of the secretary of state."

"However, I did not seek this post, and am absolutely unwilling to remain in it without the entire confidence of the president and the cordial support of the government."

Statement of Knox

In announcing his action Mr. Knox gave out the following statement:

"The department of state has been engaged for some time in making the usual study of the recent agree-

Can't Do It

Heart affections will not get well of themselves; neither do they remain inactive. If the cause is not removed, they continue to grow in number and severity.

They are the outgrowth of exhausted nerve force, and the heart can not stop to rest, as do the other organs, and must continue to struggle until completely disabled, and—that's the end. On the very first indications of heart trouble you can stop all progress and effect a cure by the use of the most effective heart remedy known. It builds up, feeds and strengthens the nerves and muscles of the heart, and restores it to perfect health.

"I had serious heart trouble, for two months my life seemed to hang by a thread, when my attention was called to Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. I commenced taking the Heart Cure and Nerve, and in two months they restored me to comparatively good health."
