What's the Use?

What's the use of running when there's time enough to walk? It is hurry that brings silver to your hair.

What's the use of sighing when there's time for cheerful talk? It is worry that brings on the lines of care.

What's the use of weeping over milk that has been spilled? Other cows are feeding in the pasture lot.

What's the use of groaning when the world with joy is filled? You are better off with many things forgot.

What's the use of grumbling as you tote your heavy load? Loud complaining never made a burden light.

What's the use of growling at the roughness of the road? It brings on no better rest when cometh night.

What's the use of mourning o'er mistakes of other days? Time so spent is but another big mistake.

What's the use of shutting out life's beauties from your gaze? Look, and get the joy of flowers in your wake.

What's the use of striving for the things not worth your while? Sodom's apples turn to ashes on your lips.

What's the use of frowning when you have a chance to smile? Joy is always within reach of fingertips.

What's the use bewailing that you have no chance to shine? There are duties lying 'round on ev'ry hand.

And the man who does his duty near approaches the divine, In good time the world will see—and understand.

Whip Behind!
(Reprinted by Request)

The meanest man on life's highways Is not the man who's bent On making loans for thirty days At ten or twelve per cent. He's not the man who wore his brain Into a frazzled wreck To make a button of a wart That grew upon his neck.

He's not the man who saved his heels By walking on his toes. He's not the man who saved his teeth By talking through his nose. The meanest man is not the one Whose greed insatiate Caused him to climb the fence to save The hinges on his gate.

The meanest man on earth today Is not the man who totes A quart of shoepegs to his horse And palms them off for oats. Nay, all these men are gentlemen Of wondrous heart, and kind, Compared to him who is so mean He always whips behind.

God bless the man who's kind enough To just look straight ahead, And never growls because a kid Hooks on a little sled. May health be his, and length of years; And may he fortune find. For nothing is too good for him Who never whips behind.

To Be Sure!

“But you told us you would be a representative of the people,” we complained to our senator.

“Admitted,” said Senator Graball. “And now you are hooked up with the trusts—are in fact one of them—and are devoting your entire time to representing them.”

“And what of it?” snarled Senator Graball. “Are we not the people?”

Fanatical

“Jobson is the most ardent Peary-ite I know.”

“What makes you think so?”

“After listening to some north pole discussion the other day he rushed home and threw his wife's Cook Book into the stove.”

Brain Leaks

A text should be a starting point, not an axis.

Some people pray as if they expected an answer by fast freight.

What we need from congress is more conservation and less conversation.

People who are always in a hurry never seem to get anywhere worth while.

The price of leather has advanced, and once more the trust shoe pinches.

It's a mighty poor ball team that can not win a pennant between now and spring.

Perhaps prices are high because of our foolish habit of spending our money ostentatiously.

A lot of people are all right according to their lights, but their wicks need trimming.

If we but spoke only good of one another there might be some long pauses in our conversation.

And now we are urged to pinch our bellies to punish ourselves for our ignorant use of the franchise.

We wish some scientist could explain satisfactorily the affinity between a small boy and a yellow pup.

The people are making it so hot for the watered stock corporations that there is likely to be an explosion.

Perhaps they call it “revision downward” because our chance of getting justice from the trusts is made smaller.

We never did like this idea of going hungry in order to help those who are suffering because of their own ignorance.

We watched a game of hockey the other day, but we couldn't tell it from our boyhood game of “shinny-on-your-own-side.”

You can not indulge a porterhouse appetite on a chuck steak wage without having a kick coming on the increased cost of living.

Manufacturers who make due allowance for depreciation in machinery too often fail to make allowance for depreciation in men.

Don't cast your pearls before swine these days. It might give the hogs indigestion, and hog meat is worth more than pearls.

“My teacher's name is Brown,” said the first little girl.

“My teacher's name,” replied the other little girl, “is Davis, but I don't know what color it is.”—The Catholic Standard and Times.
