prevailing among the republicans," he said. "The same result will follow. It is already indicated by results in New York and Massachusetts. You are not strong enough in any state or district to fight the democrats and each other at the same time." Senator Dolliver, in behalf of the insurgents, declined the invitation of Senator Rayner to join the democratic party, saying: "I have sympathy with that party, but very little confidence in it. The present political evil," he said, "is that a few men have grown so strong that they are knocking the heads of the two great parties together." He said the party of the future will be based on Abe Lincoln's doctrine—an unfettered start—and a fair chance to every man.

Representative Champ Clark, democratic floor leader, is quoted by the Associated Press as follows on the senate postal savings bank bill: "The democrats will never stand for the senate postal savings bank bill. It looks also as though the republicans were not going to stand for it, either. Postal savings-banks were favored in the democratic national platform, but only in the event that guarantee of bank deposits by the government was found impossible to accomplish. When we find out what sort of a bill the republicans on this side are going to bring in, we shall then be able to determine what our attitude will be regarding it. It is one of the most important pieces of legislation in congress and it will have to be given very thorough consideration."

According to the Associated Press congress will adjourn before the middle of June, and possibly by June 1, it is believed by President Taft and the administration leaders. And before that time it is expected most of the so-called administration measures now before congress will have been passed or, if not, they will be in such shape that they can be enacted into law soon after congress meets in December. The statehood bill has passed the house, one conservation bill has passed the senate, and the anti-injunction bill is almost ready to be reported favorably to the house. Of the five measures the postal savings bank bill, the president has been told, is in the greatest danger, for, although it has passed the senate, it will have a rough time, it is said, in the house committee on postoffices and postroads, to which it was referred. President Taft has signed the first of the proclamations providing a reclassification of the lands in the national forests, which will throw 4,000,000 acres out of the forest reserve and make them available for homestead entry. More than 30,000 acres are ordered out of the Pecos national forest in New Mexico, and nearly 13,000 acres are added.

Secretary Ballinger of the department of the interior has withdrawn from entry approximately thirteen and a half million acres of coal lands in southeastern Montana, believed to contain valuable deposits, pending examination and classification as to their values. The secretary also has ordered 400,000 acres of land in Montana into the enlarged homesteads, as not being susceptible of irrigation, from any known source of water supply, and has applied a like order to 28,000 acres in New Mexico.

The house has passed unanimously the resolution offered by Mr. Slayden of Texas, calling on the secretary of war for information concerning the sale or leasing of land in the Philippine Islands.

NEW BOOK

A New, Complete Edition of Mr. Bryan's Speeches

Containing All of His Important Public Utterances

In two handy volumes. You can follow Mr. Bryan practically through his entire career, from his valedictory oration at Illinois College in 1881, through his early public life, his presidential campaigns, his world tours, his platform experiences, and his participation in meetings of organizations devoted to national progress, as well as international congresses for the promotion of the world's peace.

The subject matter of these speeches covers a wide range of topics, from the fundamental and vital problems of national and world life to the highest ideals of human endeavor. A handy means of reference to the student of social problems of the present and future.

A Brief Outline of Contents

In these volumes you will find all his important political speeches on the Tariff, Banking, Currency, Bimetallism, Income Tax, Money, the Silver Question, Imperialism, Colonialism, Government Ownership, The Trust Question, Guaranteed Deposits, Election of Senators by Direct Vote, Initiative and Referendum, Labor, 1908 Tariff Speech, State and Nation, etc., etc. Here you will find all his speeches in foreign lands, before the World's Peace Congress in London, in Cuba, Japan, England, etc., etc. These books contain his educational and religious lectures—The Price of a Soul, The Value of an Ideal, The Prince of Peace, Man, Missions, Faith, etc., etc.; his miscellaneous speeches—Character, Gray's Elegy, Memorial Day at Arlington, Receptions in Lincoln, his home city, at the White House Conference, on Commerce at the Taft-Bryan banquet, to His Neighbors, Tributes to Jefferson, Lincoln, etc., etc.

The Only Complete Collection

While Mr. Bryan's speeches, lectures and public addresses have appeared from time to time in different editions of his works, or have been issued in separate form, these two volumes contain the only authentic, complete and authoritative collection of all of his speeches ever issued. This is the first publication in book form of a complete collection of Mr. Bryan's speeches from his first entry in public life up to the present time.

This complete collection of speeches comes in two handsome volumes, cloth bound, 12m., gilt top, and printed in large clear type. Frontispieces showing Mr. Bryan at various stages, with biographical introduction by his wife, Mary Baird Bryan. Price per set, $2.00, in cloth binding, prepaid. Bound in half leather, $3.00 prepaid. Agents wanted.

Sent prepaid on receipt of price. Address all orders and make remittance payable to THE COMMONER, Lincoln, Nebraska
