But a few more days remain of our bargain subscription offers. This will positively be your last opportunity to get two papers for the price of one.

The special arrangements made with the publishers of these ten representative American papers, whereby we were enabled to offer this bargain opportunity to our readers and friends, will positively expire September 1. We cannot, under any circumstances, extend the time limit beyond that time.

These prices are below our regular combination rates, made possible only through the cooperation of the newspapers represented in the list below. After September 1, our regular combination rates will prevail. As these rates are much higher, it will be decidedly to your advantage to act promptly, and send your subscription or renewal so as to reach us by Sept. 1.

It doesn't make any difference what month your renewal may fall, you can get your choice of any of these papers one year free by sending your renewal to us by September 1. Your present date of expiration will be advanced one year.

If you wish to pay for your Commoner two years in advance and send us $2 now, you can have your choice of any two papers free if you accept the offer by September 1. For every dollar paid on subscription to The Commoner we will allow a choice of one free paper for each dollar paid.

We will divide the two papers and mail to any two addresses if desired. If your Commoner is paid in advance and you want any paper in the list, we will mail the one you choose to your address, and you can send The Commoner as a complimentary subscription to any address you desire, or where you think it will do the most good.

We urge everyone to take advantage of these offers before it is too late. Thousands have already done so. Show these offers to your friends and urge them to subscribe. Many are doing splendid work in forming campaign clubs for The Commoner by using these offers. They find it an easy matter to get subscribers for The Commoner, and everyone appreciates such a bargain subscription opportunity as we offer.

Orders must be sent direct and remittances made payable to
