Address all Orders to THE COMMONER, Lincoln, Neb.

The meat packers, in session at Chicago, resolved that the cost of living has been reduced.

It is announced that Governor Carroll of Iowa will wait for the legislature to choose the successor of Senator Dolliver.

David Rankin, known as Missouri's farming king and the owner of 23,000 acres of farm land, died at his home in Tarkio, Mo.

W. H. Cowgill, a member of the Nebraska state board of railway commissioners, died of paralysis at Lincoln.

Stanley Ketchel, the prize fighter, was shot to death at a farm near Springfield, Mo.

A West Indian hurricane wrought great damage along the American coast.

Woodrow Wilson, who was nominated by the democrats for governor of New Jersey, has resigned the presidency of Princeton University, and his place will temporarily be filled by John A. Stewart of New York, the senior trustee of the institution. Dr. Wilson has been connected with Princeton University for twenty years, and was made president of this institution in 1902.

Germany has replied in the affirmative to the proposal of Great Britain that all the powers recognize the new republic of Portugal simultaneously. It is not thought any of the powers will oppose the suggestion.

A St. Louis dispatch under date of October 21 says that 2,500 union employes in twenty-one shops of the Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain railroad systems (Gould lines) laid aside their tools and struck in accordance with President O'Connell's strike order. They are prepared to remain out indefinitely.

An Associated Press dispatch from Ithaca, N. Y., dated October 20 says: "Twice in his speech tonight Prof. E. H. Woodruff of Cornell University called Theodore Roosevelt a liar, once an 'unmitigated liar.' His attack, which was made at a political rally at which he presided, threw the house into an uproar. There were catcalls and hisses and cheers and clapping, with a steady shout behind them all of 'Parker, Parker.' Judge Alton B. Parker then begged the audience to allow Professor Woodruff to be heard. The noisier part of the house complied and the evening was spent more quietly."

David Bennett Hill, former governor and senator from New York and for years a leading figure in the councils of the democratic party, died on the morning of October 20 at Wolfert's Roost, his county home near Albany. Senator Hill had been ill nearly three weeks with a cold and bilious attack, but his condition had not been considered serious. He was sitting up in bed to take a drink of water when he was seized by an acute dilation of the heart. Death followed quickly, with no one but a nurse at his side. Mr. Hill had long been a sufferer from Bright's disease, which primarily brought upon him the condition which caused his death. Interment took place at Montour Falls, Schuyler county, where the deceased statesman was born August 20, 1843. In 1892 Mr. Hill was the candidate of the New York democrats for the nomination for president, but Grover Cleveland was re-nominated for that office.

The body of Senator Jonathan P. Dolliver was laid to rest in Oakdale cemetery, on a hillside overlooking the city of Fort Dodge, Iowa, on the afternoon of October 20. The drizzling rain, driven by a cold, raw wind, compelled the family to abandon the original plan of holding the services on the lawn of the Dolliver home. The funeral, therefore, was held in the Fifty-sixth regiment armory, which accommodated 6,000. Devoted friends of the late senator crowded every available space in the building. Standing outside were almost 3,000 people straining to catch a word of the eulogies being pronounced on the dead statesman by his associates in civil and political life.

A dispatch from Washington says the warning to civil service employes of the government against activity in politics, recently issued by various departments, was not intended to interfere with the rights of any employe to vote as he pleases at the coming election.

General Thomas T. Eckert, formerly president of the Western Union Telegraph company, is dead. Mr. Eckert was born in Ohio, April 23, 1825.

According to the figures made public by the forest service, seventy-seven men heroically gave their lives in their efforts to subdue the disastrous forest fires which raged in the west during the latter part of August.

Contributions of one million dollars for a world-wide expansion of the Young Men's Christian Association, $450,000 of which was given by John D. Rockefeller, were announced at a conference of Y. M. C. A. workers in the east room of the White House. President Taft addressed the delegates and heartily endorsed the organization.

President Mellen declared in a recent speech that the Boston and Maine railroad will hereafter keep out of politics.

Edgar Allen Poe has been declared entitled to a place in the hall of fame.

Chairman Nicholas Reed, of the Iowa democratic state central committee, has addressed an open letter to Chairman Carl Funke of the republican committee asking that both parties agree to determine who shall be the next United States senator to succeed Senator Dolliver at an informal primary held in connection with the coming November election.

An Associated Press dispatch from St. Louis says: "Heading straight for Ontario, across the great lakes along the best balloon route in America, Captain von Abercron, the famous German pilot, with his balloon Germania, is believed to be leading in the international race for the James Gordon Bennett cup, which started from this city late
