LARGEST CIRCULATION IN THE WORLD—OVER TWO MILLION A MONTH

The American Homestead—A National Magazine for Farm and Family

Established 1883. Published monthly at Lincoln, Neb. Under the direction of Charles W. Bryan, The American Homestead has assumed a position among the leading agricultural publications in the United States.

During the past year The American Homestead has made rapid strides in circulation and influence.

The remarkable success of The American Homestead is due to the fact that it makes farming an intensely interesting subject. Its contents are alike interesting and instructive to the dweller in the city, town or country.

The American Homestead is filled every month with the most useful, practical, timely information—suited to the season—just the matter you want and need to help you make a success of your farming, fruit-growing, gardening, bee-keeping, stock and poultry-raising, etc., etc.

The American Homestead presents the latest phases and methods of practical and scientific farming in a plain—not theoretical or technical—brief, concise manner, in a way to help you best in your work.

The American Homestead contains departments to entertain and instruct every member of the family, and has a fine household department.

You can get The American Homestead now under our special trial bargain subscription offer, for ONLY 25 cents together with The Woman's World, both for one full year. GET THIS BARGAIN.

The WOMAN'S WORLD

A National Magazine for Woman and Home

Published at Chicago, Illinois, by the Currier Publishing Co., has the largest circulation of any publication in the world (two million copies monthly). It has also the greatest reading value in the world, otherwise it could not grow to this enormous circulation. It has won its place as a MAGAZINE OF MERIT.

The Woman's World was started but a very few years ago by George H. Currier, whose ideal was to furnish the people with the highest grade magazine at a low cost. He secured the aid of the best literary talent in the world, and published the best articles, stories and features of the greatest living authors and writers. See partial list of contributors in adjoining column.

The success of the Woman's World is the most remarkable in the history of the world's newspaper and magazine making. It has grown and improved until the character of its contents places it in the front rank of American magazines. Is it any wonder that the Woman's World has built up such an enormous circulation on a 25-cent basis? The public is quick to grasp a great bargain. This low price places a high-grade magazine within the reach of everyone.

You can get the Woman's World under special combination offer together with The American Homestead, both one whole year for 25 cents by sending the attached coupon to The American Homestead, Lincoln, Neb., together with remittance.
