

NAPOLEON A CAPTIVE

NAPOLEON'S name fills more pages in the world's solemn history than that of any other mortal. This famous painting shows him a captive, on board the English ship Bellerophon, gazing out across the solemn sea toward France, where he was once Emperor. He realizes that his dream of Universal Empire is at an end, yet is unconscious that he is soon to be banished like an outcast a thousand miles from shore to the lonely and barren rocks of St. Helena. This famous picture from Ridpath's History illustrates but one event out of thousands which make up the history of every empire, kingdom, principality and power, all accurately and entertainingly told in the world-famed publication,

Ridpath's History of the World

Dr. John Clark Ridpath is universally recognized as the world's greatest historian. He was the friend and advocate of the masses of the common people. In 1896 he was the democratic nominee for congress in his home district and received the warm support of the Leader of the Party. Hundreds have already availed themselves of this remarkable opportunity to secure the greatest History of the World ever written. We have only a few sets remaining, which we offer at a low price and on easy terms.

WILLIAM McKINLEY said:

"I am familiar with the merits of Ridpath's History of the World, and cordially commend it to the scholar as well as to the plain people generally."

BISHOP VINCENT said:

"Ridpath's History is in clear and agreeable style, comprehensive in treatment, readable type and admirable illustrations. This set of books is a permanent college chair of general history in one's own house."

BISHOP NEWMAN said:

"In reading Ridpath I experience the pleasure often realized when looking at some grand panorama. The superb pictures of temples, palaces, scenes, events and men add a charm to the clear and vigorous style of the learned author."

JEFFERSON DAVIS said:

"I esteem Ridpath's History of the World of very great value, and hope it will find a place generally in the libraries of our schools as well as upon the shelves of readers in every walk of life."

PROF. LONG, Supt. Public Schools, St. Louis, said:

"I unhesitatingly commend Dr. Ridpath's History of the World as the ablest work on that subject which I have ever examined. The engravings, maps and charts are alone worth the entire cost of the set."

9 massive octavo volumes, Encyclopaedia size

4,000 double-column pages. 2,000 superb illustrations.

COMMONER READERS have shown wonderful appreciation of our remarkable offer.

Ridpath was a great man and America's greatest historian. To read his History is to know peoples and races, kingdoms and empires, principalities and powers; to behold senates in session, armies marching; battles fought and victorious legions coming home; Ridpath's History of the World has been purchased and strongly endorsed by General Stephen D. Lee, Commander Confederate Veterans; General Lew Wallace, Commander and noted author; Henry M. Teller, Senator from Colorado; Charles Curtis, Senator from Kansas; and by the Presidents of Brown, Bates, Amherst, Smith and practically all other American colleges and universities. To read this History increases your store of knowledge which is power and adds to the richness of your life.

EVERY AMERICAN CITIZEN should know the history of his own country and of the world to intelligently perform his full duty as a citizen in the Government of This Nation.

How else are we to judge of the great national questions that crowd upon us for decision except by some knowledge of the past. The Question of the Trusts agitating the great business and commercial world, the respective rights of labor and capital—these and hundreds of other important questions press upon us as a nation for intelligent discussion and decision. How have such questions been met in the past? For the answer read the history of ancient civilizations which flourished, decayed and died. Read the history of mighty Babylon, or of imperial Rome as a kingdom, then as a republic, and finally as an empire, and familiarize yourself with her growth, development and decay. Read the history of the French Revolution, the establishment of the republic, out of which came the empire dominated by Napoleon. Then when you know the cause of the rise and downfall of empires and nations, and not until then, will you be able to intelligently discuss and decide the great questions that are pressing now everywhere for attention. The growth, development and decay of the nations of the world constitute the most inspiring theme that can claim the attention of man, and Dr. Ridpath has told it better than it has ever been told before.
