first home rule measure. The ministers were taunted with epithets, such as "traitors!" "apes!"

The Turk is doomed. An Associated Press cablegram from London says: Bulgaria's terms of peace to Turkey, as reported at Vienna and sent from that city by the correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, consists of seven stipulations.

Included in the first stipulation is the surrender of the Tchatalja army and its withdrawal, guarded by the Bulgarians.

The second provides for the evacuation by the Turks of Adrianople, Scutari, Monastir and Janina.

The third calls for payment of a war indemnity.

The fourth demands the surrender of conquered territory.

The fifth calls for the internationalization of Constantinople.

The sixth provides for opening the Dardanelles and making Saloniki a free port.

Since Bulgaria has already expressed a willingness to leave the status of Constantinople and the Dardanelles to the powers, says the correspondent, the fifth and sixth clauses of the terms as reported here appear improbable.

An Associated Press dispatch from London says: The royal commission on divorce, which has been investigating this subject for several years, has made public the result of its inquiries. The majority report recommends that the two sexes be placed on an equality before the law with regard to the grounds for divorce, which shall be adultery, desertion for three years, incurable insanity after five years' confinement, incurable drunkenness, found to be incurable after three years.

From the issuance of the first separation order, it is recommended that all divorce cases shall be heard by a judge alone, who is empowered to close the court during the hearings and prohibit the publication of details.

The majority report also recommends that no report on matrimonial cases shall be allowed until they are finished, and that the publication of the portraits of the parties thereto shall be prohibited. The report states that the evidence taken during the investigations showed that the proposed extension of the grounds for divorce, far from tending to lower the standard of morality, has had a contrary effect, and that the present stringent restrictions and costliness of divorce are productive of immorality and illicit relations, particularly among the poorer classes.

The report is signed by nine commissioners. The minority report, which is signed by the Archbishop of York and two other commissioners, opposes the extension of the causes for divorce on the ground that this is destructive to the sanctity of the marriage ties and family life and contrary to the principles of Christian faith in its relation to marriage.

The liberals in the house of commons were defeated by a majority of 22 in a vote on an amendment to the home rule bill. Their resignation was demanded by the conservatives, which demand was refused.

President-elect Wilson was informed that his boyhood home at Columbia, S. C., had been purchased by citizens and he was invited to spend his winters there.

A London Cablegram carried by the Associated Press says:—A private telegram received at Belgrade today reports that Scutari has surrendered, according to a dispatch to the Daily Telegraph. Servian headquarters reports that the Turks attempted a sortie from Adrianople yesterday on the side of the Servian division, but were repulsed with great loss.

We make this statement regarding this territory because we are convinced of its coming greatness.

DO NOT COMPARE THIS LAND WITH EXPLOITERS' PROPOSITIONS

The rainfall in this section is ample. The climate is all that could be desired. In fact, here everything that tends to success seems to be pretty well blended. Please do not compare our region in Florida with the numerous localities now being exploited in the public press. We are not a drainage proposition but our land is ready for you to move on and we are glad for you to come as soon as possible. You can immediately begin to grow crops from which you in a very short time can realize large profit. Our soil is a dark sandy loam and is underlaid with a clay sub-soil. We have water and rail transportation. We are within ten to twenty miles of the growing city of Jacksonville. We want agents for this land and we want buyers.
