

without scalding; this is important; clean and take out the entrails; lay the fowl on its breast, and with a small, sharp-pointed knife slit the back, clear from neck to rump. Then, working carefully, run the knife between the flesh and the bones, dis-jointing the wings, the legs and all the bones without breaking the skin. This appears difficult, but a little practice will show you that it is not. Leave the tips of the wings, as there is little meat on them, and they are hard to remove neatly. When this is properly done, the carcass comes out, leaving the turkey whole; spread it out flat, wipe inside and out with a damp cloth, and rub all over with salt and pepper. Have a dressing made of two pounds of veal, and two pounds of fresh pork, seasoned with minced herbs, such as parsley, a bay leaf, thyme, salt and pepper to taste, adding a little allspice and onion juice and two eggs beaten with a couple of wineglasses of tart fruit juice; stir well. Cut a thin slice of meat from the inside of the turkey, and put a layer of the stuffing, with strips of the liver as alternate layers with the turkey meat and stuffing. Bring the carcass into shape and sew it up; wrap in a clean towel and tie the ends and middle securely with cord. Put the turkey bones, with two pounds of veal shank cut up, two chopped carrots and desired seasoning in two gallons of cold water and boil one hour; then put in the turkey and boil two hours longer. Then take out of the broth; let the broth boil two hours longer; remove the towel from the turkey meat, as the meat will have shrunken in cooking; smooth out the towel and roll the turkey in it again, tight; place on a marble slab, or table, put a heavy weight on top, let stand five hours, then put in the ice box until wanted. The broth may be strained and made into jelly, by the addition of gelatine, and served with the fowl.

M. R.—In making chicken salad, use at least five chickens for serving thirty portions. Use large chickens, or more will be needed.

L. L.—Coffee stains, even when cream has been used, may be removed from table linen by rubbing the spots with pure glycerine and rinsing afterwards in lukewarm water.

Mrs. C.—To cut and fold means to cut the mixture in the bowl through and through with a spoon, by taking some of the mixture in the spoon, turn the spoon completely over and fold it in the mixture, taking up another spoonful in the same way. Continue until thoroughly mixed.

"Inquirer"—Nut meats should be crushed by rolling or otherwise, before being added to the syrup just before taking from the stove. Do not need cooking. Molasses, common brown sugar or white may be used, and can be pulled as any other candy.

Rebecca M.—No molds for shaping mush. Get a baking powder can, or a tomato can with one end melted off, grease well and pour the hot mush in and leave until cold. The mush will slip out if the can is set in hot water, and can be sliced for frying.

"Young Cook"—Three teaspoonfuls equal one tablespoonful; four tablespoonfuls equal one-fourth cupful; two tablespoonfuls one ounce; one cup of solid butter, one-half pound; two cups of flour, one-half pound; nine large eggs, one pound; one cup of liquid to three cups of flour for bread; for muffins, two cupfuls; one cup of liquid to one cup of flour for batters. Two teaspoonfuls of salt to four cups of water for bread.

Deafness

From All Causes, Head Noises and Other Ear Troubles Easily and Permanently Relieved!

Thousands who were formerly deaf, now hear distinctly every sound—even whispers do not escape them. Their life of loneliness has ended and all is now joy and sunshine. The impaired or lacking portions of their ear drums have been reinforced by simple little devices, scientifically constructed for that special purpose.

Wilson Common-Sense Ear Drums often called "Little Wireless Phones for the Ears" are restoring perfect hearing in every condition of deafness or defective hearing from causes such as Catarrhal Deafness, Relaxed or Sunken Drums, Thickened Drums, Roaring and Hissing Sounds, Perforated, Wholly or Partially Destroyed Drums, Discharge from Ears, etc. No matter what the case or how long standing it is, testimonials received show marvelous results. Common-Sense Drums strengthen the nerves of the ears and concentrate the sound waves on one point of the natural drums, thus successfully restoring perfect hearing where medical skill even fails to help. They are made of a soft, sensitized material, comfortable and safe to wear. They are easily adjusted by the wearer and out of sight when worn.

What has done so much for thousands of others will help you. Don't delay. Write today for our FREE 168 page Book on Deafness—giving you full particulars.
