

to taste, two tablespoonfuls of butter. Beat eggs lightly; add milk, salt and pepper, and pour quickly into a hot frying pan in which the butter has been melted. Stir and scrape from bottom of pan until the eggs are cooked creamy and soft. Do not overdo.

Pineapple Salad—One large pineapple will make a well-filled dish of salad. Peel and free from the eyes, then shred or tear apart with a silver fork, and put on ice until chilled; it will become soft and juicy. Serve on crisp, tender green lettuce leaves, with French dressing poured over it at the last moment. The fruit juice will blend with the dressing, and the mixture will be very good.—Mrs. L. K., Ohio.

Steam apple dumplings rather than boil them as they will be much nicer and more wholesome, besides being less trouble.—Ellen M.

Requested Recipes

For a meringue for any one-crust pie, this is recommended: Whip the whites of three eggs for each pie to a stiff froth, beating in gradually three tablespoonfuls of fine granulated sugar as for icing; flavor with vanilla if liked; beat until the meringue will stand alone, then spread over the top of the pie three-quarters inch of more thick. Set back into the oven until well set, but do not allow to brown, a slight lemon-color is best. This may be used with any kind of custard or soft one-crust pie.

Tart Shells—Roll out thin a nice puff-paste, cut out with a biscuit cutter, then, inside of this, with a smaller cutter, cut out the center of two out of three of the solid pieces—that is, have twice as many with the center cut out as of the solid ones. Lay these rings two of them to each third, on the solid piece and bake at once. Into the shells thus made, stewed fruits, preserves, jelly, or any other desired filling may be used. If the paste is light, the shells will be fine, and may be used for oyster patties. If filled with jelly or fruits, cover with a meringue (tablespoonful of sugar to white of one egg).

In making meringue, do not use the common, coarse granulated sugar. It is very apt to fall. There is a finer sugar, called cake sugar, which is excellent. To glaze pastry, which is the common method of dressing the tops of meat, or two-crust pies, break an egg, separate the white from the yolk; beat the yolk until smooth, then, when the pie is almost ready to remove from the oven, take out and brush it over with the beaten yolk, put back in the oven and set the glaze.

An excellent way to dress the tops of such pies is to rub butter over the top before baking; this will give to the upper crust a flakey appearance, and make it very appetizing.

Re-silvering Damaged Mirrors

We have several requests for these directions, which have been given several times before. Pour upon a sheet of tin foil three drams of quick silver to the square foot of foil. Rub smoothly with a piece of buckskin or chamois until the foil becomes brilliant. Lay the glass upon a flat surface—a level table or board, face down. Place the foil upon the damaged portion of the glass, lay a sheet of paper upon it and weight this with a block of wood or piece of marble with a perfectly flat surface. Put on it a sufficient weight to press it down tight; leave it in this position for a few hours. The foil should be evenly pressed down on the glass, otherwise, there will be blisters. The work must be carefully done, to insure results.

are used for these frocks. The pattern is cut in sizes 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. Medium size requires 2 yards of 44 inch material.

6035—Ladies' Apron—A dainty model for afternoon wear. It can be made of lawn or fine cambric and trimmed with hand embroidery or with lace edging. A colored ribbon run through beading will make a pretty waistband. The pattern is cut in one size only. To make it requires 1 yard of 36 inch material, and 2 1/4 yards of 11 inch wide edging.

4480—Boys' Russian Dress—For a very little boy this style can be made in gingham, duck, linen, velveteen, moire or chevot. The neck is high and the closing double breasted. The sleeve is slightly full and there are no trousers. The pattern is cut in sizes 1 and 2 years. To make the suit in the 2 year size requires 1 1/2 yards of 44 inch material.

6457—Rag Doll, Dress and Bloomers—These dolls are fine for little children as they cannot break nor hurt their small owners. The doll can be made of Canton flannel and the clothing of any scraps which remain from the family dressmaking. The pattern is cut in sizes for dolls of 6, 20 and 24 inches in length. To make in 20 inch size requires for the doll 3/4 yard of 27 inch material, for the dress and bloomers 1 1/2 yards of 27 inch material and 1 yard of ribbon.

6312—Ladies' Dress—This dress has an open blouse showing a chemisette which is the facing of a one piece guimpe. There is also a pretty collar at the neck. The sleeves may be long or short. A three gore skirt is slightly full at the top and closes in front. The pattern is cut in sizes 34 to 42 inches bust measure. Medium size requires 3 1/2 yards of 44 inch material for the dresses and 3/4 yard of 36 inch lining and 1/2 yard of 22 inch net for the yoke.

6061—Misses' Dress—This style is also suitable for small women. The blouse is plain with straight or Robespierre collar. Full length or shorter sleeves are set into a fairly wide arm-hole and a three gore skirt completes the frock. The pattern is cut in sizes 14, 16 and 18 years. Medium size requires 3 1/2 yards of 44 inch material.

THE WHITE HOUSE WEDDING

A press dispatch dated Washington, November 25, gives the following account of the recent White House wedding:

In the beautiful east room of the White House at 4:30 this afternoon Jessie Woodrow Wilson, second daughter of the president, was made the wife of Francis Bowes Sayre, Rev. Sylvester Beach of Princeton, N. J., performed the ceremony.

The entire affair was very simple, as had been requested by the bride, and the number of guests was limited to four hundred.

Miss Margaret Woodrow Wilson, eldest of the three daughters, acted as maid of honor to her sister, and Miss Eleanor Randolph Wilson, the youngest, was one of the bridesmaids. The three other bridesmaids were Miss Adeline Mitchell Scott of Princeton, daughter of Prof. William B. Scott; Miss Marjorie Brown of Atlanta, Pa., daughter of Mrs. Wilson's cousin, Col. E. T. Brown, and Miss Mary G. White of Baltimore, a college friend of the bride.

Mr. Sayre was attended by his best man, Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell, the famous medical missionary to the fisherman of the Labrador coast. The two men have long been fast friends and Mr. Sayre spent two summers helping Dr. Grenfell with his work.

The ushers were Charles E. Hughes, Jr., son of Justice Hughes of the supreme court and a classmate of Mr. Sayre in the Harvard law school; Dr. Gilbert Horax of Montclair, N. J., who was a classmate at Williams college in 1909 and now at Johns Hopkins university; Benjamin Burton of New York city, and Dr. Scoville Clark of Salem, Mass., who was Mr. Sayre's companion in Labrador and Newfoundland.

The bride's gown was of satin, of a soft ivory tint, trimmed with beautiful lace, both old and rare. It was made in New York and the women connoisseurs declared that it was a masterpiece. The lingerie in the trousseau is of the most dainty material and is all hand made. The maid of honor and bridesmaids were beautifully gowned and all looked their best.

Coming right in the midst of the chrysanthemum season, this was made a chrysanthemum wedding and that flower was used most profusely in adorning the White House. As the bride's favorite color is mauve, that was made the prevailing color in the decorations. The east room, and indeed all the rooms in the president's mansion, were beautiful indeed.

style in semi-tailor effect. The collar and revers trimming the neck are novel, the front closing is made without the usual box pleat and the sleeves may be short or long. The pattern is cut in sizes 34 to 42 inches bust measure. Medium size requires 2 1/2 yards of 36 inch material.

4015—Child's and Girls' Apron—A very simple apron cut in a single piece. The front and back are joined by a single button at each shoulder, while a strap is placed at the yoke line in the back. Gingham, calico, cambric, lawn and the like are used for these aprons. The pattern is cut in sizes 4, 6, 10 and 12 years. Medium size requires 1 1/2 yards of 27 inch material.

4773—Doll's Set—This simple outfit will clothe a doll for the Christmas tree. The dress has a long waist, with princess panel front and back and a short pleated skirt. The cape in military style closes in front and has straps on each shoulder. Bright colors should be selected for these garments to please little girls. The pattern is cut in sizes for dolls of 14 to 26 inches in length. To make for a doll 18 or 20 inches long will require for the dress 3/4 yard of 44 inch material, for the cape 1/2 yard 27 or more inches wide. In one material 1 yard of 44 inch material will suffice.
