INDORSES PRESIDENT WILSON

The members of the Jefferson club of Columbus, Ohio, have expressed their approval of the president's policies in the following resolutions:

"Resolved, By the Jefferson club of Columbus, Ohio, that in his recent expression of views upon the international relations of the United States and of the Latin-American republics to the south of us, as well as upon our commercial, financial and diplomatic relations with them, President Wilson has attained the highest political and moral ground ever taken by any American statesman;

"Resolved, That if the president be sustained in his views, so expressed, by congress, a new era in international diplomacy in the western hemisphere, if not in the world will have been successfully inaugurated by our government;

"Resolved, That as a democratic political organization this club cordially indorses President Wilson's administration, its policies and measures, and commends the president for his courage and fidelity in his efforts toward the redemption of the pledges and principles of his party at its last national convention;

"Resolved, That the president's recent declaration 'that the United States would never again by force, either annex or arbitrarily govern any territory without the consent of the governed' is a political pledge and principal worthy of our declaration of national independence, and relates our first and last presidents by kindred sentiments and statesmanship;

"Resolved, That in his last message to congress of January 20th, 1914, the president's endeavor to preserve and enforce the provisions of the Sherman anti-trust law with certain amendments thereto (in the message suggested) to the end that the business of the country may be conducted within the laws of the country and controlled by the enlightened public conscience, the president should be supported by congress and the people regardless of party lines;

"Resolved, That these resolutions be incorporated in the minutes of this meeting and a copy of them be sent by the chairman and secretary to President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and 'The Commoner' with the compliments and best wishes of the Jefferson club.

"Luke J. Byrne, chairman; Walter S. Snyder, secretary."

RESOLUTIONS

"Whereas, In a recent lecture to the law class at Yale university, New Haven, Connecticut, (and just printed and published in book form and for sale in all the principal book stores of the country) ex-President William Howard Taft, Kent professor of law in Yale university, in an effort to detract from the great name and reputation of Thomas Jefferson, said:

"It is noteworthy, as a matter of history, that when President Jefferson was in the presidency and felt called upon to fill a vacancy in the supreme court, he appointed Mr. Joseph Story, of Massachusetts, a member of the then republican party, evidently with the expectation that his views of the constitution would be opposed to that of Chief Justice Marshall. The personality and great ability of the illustrious chief justice, however, exercised great influence over the young justice, appointed at thirty-two, and when he came to pronounce his first great constitutional judgment, as the organ of the supreme court, his views were in accord with former opinions of Marshall."

"Now, therefore, As a means toward the vindication of the historic name of Thomas Jefferson as well as that of Justice Story.

"Resolved, By the Jefferson club of Columbus, Ohio, that in as much as Joseph Story was appointed a justice of the supreme court of the United States by President James Madison in the year 1811, about three years after Mr. Jefferson had retired from the presidential office, President Taft's statement and his attempt to cast reproach upon the great reputation of Mr. Jefferson as well as that of Justice Story, is not likely to accomplish its obvious design; but its blundering inaccuracy for a purpose so unworthy clearly indicates that Mr. Taft is an unreliable historian;

"Resolved, That these resolutions be incorporated in the minutes of the meeting and that a copy be sent to Professor William Howard Taft at Yale university, New Haven, Connecticut.

"Luke G. Byrne, chairman; Walter S. Snyder, secretary."

The Hicks Almanac for 1914

will be sent postpaid, without additional cost, to all who accept the following special limited club offer: Send us only $1.00 at once, and we will send you The Commoner and Word and Works, both for one full year each, and one copy of Rev. Irl R. Hicks' Almanac for 1914.

Never has the great Hicks Almanac been more valuable or more needed by all classes than the 1914 Almanac will be. The great Omaha tornado, the drought of the past summer, the various earthquake phenomena of the past year, besides many storms of less note, were forecasted by Prof. Hicks. For over a quarter of a century The Hicks Almanac has predicted storms, tornadoes, blizzards, hot waves, cold waves with wonderful accuracy. The 1914 Hicks Almanac contains 160 pages with a cover printed in colors. It is illustrated with the usual number of halftone engravings, wood-cuts and other diagrams. Word and Works is a high-class home monthly magazine for all the family. Contains Rev. Hicks' famous monthly weather forecasts. Total regular price of all three, $2.00; now for only $1.00.

If now a subscriber to either publication, your present expiration date will be extended for one year. Send your order today.
