

MARK ANTONY DELIVERING THE FUNERAL ORATION OVER THE BODY OF JULIUS CAESAR

CAESAR'S name has stood through all the ages as the embodiment of imperial power. His untimely end, after reaching the pinnacle of earthly glory, is one of the great tragedies of history. The picture herewith, from Ridpath's History, is but ONE of TWO THOUSAND in the complete work, and serves to illustrate but ONE event out of all the THOUSANDS which make up the history of every empire, kingdom, principality, and Nation, all accurately and entertainingly told in the world-famed publication,

Ridpath's History of the World

Dr. John Clark Ridpath is universally recognized as the world's greatest historian. He was the friend and advocate of the masses of the common people. In 1896 he was the democratic nominee for congress in his home district and received the warm support of the Leader of the Party. Hundreds have already availed themselves of this remarkable opportunity to secure the greatest History of the World ever written. We have only a few sets of the last edition remaining, which we offer at a low price and on easy terms.

President Cleveland

said: "I am familiar with Ridpath's History of the World, and cordially commend it to the scholar as well as to the people generally."

President Angell,

Michigan University, said: "I have examined Ridpath's History of the World. As a popular history of the world, it may well be commended to the public."

President Warren,

Boston University, said: "I should be glad to see it placed in the library of every young person in the United States, and even in the English-speaking world. In families where there are bright children it will render excellent service to the cause of popular intelligence."

Bishop Vincent

said: "Ridpath's History is in clear and agreeable style, comprehensive in treatment, readable type and admirable illustrations. This set of books is a permanent college chair of general history in one's own house."

Nine Royal Octavo Volumes

4,000 double column pages, 2,000 superb illustrations.

Prof. Ridpath's Graphic Style

Ridpath's style is clear and simple, yet glows with the fervency of the orator. He puts life in the dry bones of the past. When he writes, the departed great are as real to you as your own neighbors.

The great events of history pass before you in a series of living pictures. The great names of history—Alexander, Caesar, Napoleon, Bismark, Washington—are names no longer; they are men, moving, breathing, pulsating with life and high purpose. Ridpath's is praised by all for its wealth of learnings, for its brilliant style, for its fascination as a story; for its educative value to old and young. To read it is a liberal education.

Six Thousand Years of History

Ridpath takes the reader back to the beginning of history, 4,000 years before the time of Christ when man was little more than a savage; without clothes save the skins of beasts; without shelter save in caves and over-hanging rocks, and traces his career down the long highway of time, through the rise and fall of empires until he reaches the present civilization, harnessing the powers of earth and air to be his servants, whispering messages across continents and under oceans, crowning all with the glorious achievements of the nineteenth century. It is an inspiring story and Dr. Ridpath has told it better than it has ever been told before.

Ridpath should be in your home. It is a work you will value as long as you live and read over and over again. It will increase your fund of knowledge, improve your power of conversation and ennoble your character.
