

How Nebraska Candidates Stand

The Anti-Saloon league of Nebraska gives the following information for the guidance of temperance voters at the coming election. When offices are not mentioned, they are neglected because there is no contest for these positions, or because they are not directly connected with the passage and enforcement of laws needed in case the prohibitory amendment is successful at the polls:

MINISTERS UNITE TO HELP MEREDITH

A Sioux City, Ia., dispatch, dated Oct. 2, says: At the first fall session of the Sioux City Ministerial association here today resolutions were adopted referring to W. L. Harding as "not a fit person to hold the highest office in the state" and indorsing the "frank and open stand of E. T. Meredith on questions of law enforcement, temperance and morality."

The action followed a similar action taken by the Sioux City district conference of the Methodist church which met at Sioux City and in which the pastor of Mr. Harding's own church participated. Mr. Harding's pastor is also a member of the ministerial association.

Dissenter Explains Stand

There was but one dissenting vote when the resolutions were adopted, this member objecting, as he said, because of his personal objection to mixing the affairs of church and state. The only other question raised in connection with the adoption of the resolution was as to whether they were strong enough and voiced thoroughly the sentiments of the ministerial association on the matter involved.

Members of the association said after the meeting that one reason for the adoption of the resolutions was to voice a protest against the statement that the local ministers would support the candidacy of Mr. Harding. There was strong objection to allowing such a report to gain credence throughout the state.

Text of Resolutions

The resolutions adopted follow: "Whereas, an attempt is being made by certain political interests to becloud the temperance issue in the state of Iowa by declaring that the saloon is not an issue in the present campaign, and

"Whereas, our failure to speak might be misunderstood and our failure to act might be misconstrued, and

"Whereas, we believe a great moral issue is involved and there is grave danger of a backward step, therefore

"Be it resolved, first, that while it would give us pleasure to indorse and support the local candidate, nevertheless, in view of his record in the past, both as a legislator and as lieutenant governor, we deem him not a fit person to hold the highest office in the state. Second, that we disclaim any sense of personal animosity or prejudice against W. L. Harding other than our sense of moral protest arising from his attitude on temperance, law enforcement and moral questions. Third, that we indorse the frank and open stand of E. T. Meredith on questions of law enforcement, temperance and morality."

The Rev. Charles E. Tower of the First Congregational church presided at the meeting and the Rev. J. Frank Reed of the Morningside Presbyterian church acted as secretary.

DEMOCRATS - BULL MOOSE TO SWEEP NEW YORK

Following are press dispatches from Long Branch, N. J., dated Sept 21: Victory for the democratic ticket in New York state in the November elections was predicted today by President Wilson following the receipt of returns from the primaries Tuesday. The President indicated his belief that progressive voters in New York will support the democrats.

Mr. Wilson sent telegrams of congratulations to William F. McCombs, the democratic nominee for the United States senate, and to Judge Samuel Seabury, the nominee for governor. The message to Mr. McCombs follows:

"I congratulate you most warmly on your nomination by the democrats of New York for the United States senate. A united body of progressive voters will be behind you."

Work of the Life Agent

What is the work of the life insurance agent, and what does it mean directly as to homes and broadly as to society? His direct work is good. There can be no question about this.

Indirectly his work is far reaching. It is because of the premiums paid by the policyholders whom he obtains that the life insurance companies exist; it is by reason of his tireless endeavor that the companies prosper and grow large. Through these companies it may be said that he erects buildings, constructs bridges, helps towns and municipalities in constructive work and puts railroads in places where there were but endless dead stretches of mere landscape. The life insurance agent is an important factor in the development of many enterprises.
