Bryan Raises Prohibition Question

to The New York Evening Post ..]

Lincoln, Neb., November 17.—Here in the shadow of Fairview, where the the main talk. The west has a bigthat. Under the eaves of Fairview the past is dead and 1920 is the rage.

member best, though they paid small dominant force in politics. have helped successfully to rid the day whom ye will serve." democratic party in Nebraska of its | They think they know Mr. Bryan still ahead of me."

tired from politics," said his neighbors at this point.

The other was a "dry" map of the And behold, it re-United States. qu'red an expert to tell them apart. That is how the "dopesters" hereabout decide that for the lately filted cast the worst is yet to come.

Woodrow Wilson caried the solid south and the solid west. Prohibition has carried the solid south and the solid west. We are speaking by approximations, of course. One or two southern states are not yet "dry." One or two western states voted for inghes. But the generalization holds bractically true.

Four years from now Woodrow lison will be retiring. Anybody in Eight for his shoes? Any particular issue in sight for his party? There s just William Jennings Bryan, the eternal W. J. B, in sight, and he has an issue-prohibition. Every present democratic state but eight is either "dry" or has made arrangements to go "dry." Every "dry" state but six is now democratic. And William Jennings Bryan has pledged himself to spend his coming years in making the democratic party and the nation "dry."

The Party is "Dry"

[Below is special correspondence | very little help the "dry" states can elect a president. They have just done it, but not on that issue. At the head of the "drys" in this, at least people know their neighbor Bryan for the present "dry" party, is the well, 1916, and the way the west still alert, vigorous, and ambitious sideswiped the east, has ceased to be leader of three lost causes. Will he take the chance? Will a duck swim? ger joke on the east coming than Take it from the post-election issue of The Commoner: "Let the 'dry' democrats begin work at once to se-This comes because everybody in cure control of the democratic orthese parts attended William Jen- ganization, state an dnational. Nearly nings Bryan's election eve meeting half the states are now 'dry,' and the in his home city this year. They number will be swelled to nearly if went because they were interested not quite thirty before 1920. To take in what he might say on Wilson and the side of the saloon is to invite disthe prohibition amendment and what astrous defeat. To take the side of he might not say about certain "wet" the home is to draw to the party the democratic candidates for governor strong young men who are coming and other things. They heard these out of the schools and colleges, and things, but the thing they now re- who will, within a few years, be the heed to it at the time, was something in the nation's life the old question It was like this: "When I demands an answer, 'Choose ye this brewery control, I propose to go right out here. Six years ago he began on and help finish the job on a na- in Nebraska the campaign just antional scale. My greatest work is nounced for the nation. He split his party and bolted one candidate for That did not seem at the time so governor in the course of that fight. very sensational. Mr. Bryan has He made the liquor issue the only flung himself against many a stone state issue during that period, and wall in his time, and his neighbors he has ended in seeing his state took with calmness his intention to "dry," though he has never been able tie Tammany and Roger Sullivan and to control his party on that Issue. Tom Taggart and Colonel Watterson, Knowing their neighbor, and studyto the prohibition chariot. It was a ing the democratic dry map, the peogood lifetime job he had set himself, ple in these parts have no hesitancy and Mr. Bryan could enjoy, for he is in prophesying that by 1920 the demat his best in a battle for what he ocratic party of the United States considers a moral issue. But as to will be having the time of its life its leading to any near political con- with Mr. Bryan and his liquor issue, sequences that was out of the ques- and Lincoln be once more the storm "Bryan has permanently re- source of democratic politics.

That is the surprise the west thinks it has still in store for the east-a Then came the election, with bigger surprise than this recent big alone. Prohibition is a moral issue side along with democracy, although Hughes kidnapping the fair Presi- one. It has already been pointed out dency on Tuesday night, and the that the election returns indicate the west dramatically returning it un- prematurity of the reports of Mr. litical bias. It appeals to all the peo- has just elected a President. This deharmed to its present owner's arms. Bryan's political demise and inter- ple alike, if it is left on its sole mer- velopment in itself, of course, fur-Meanwhile, Nebraska voted dry in ment. This west that went for Wil- its as a principle. What difference, nishes a strong temptation to play thedience to Mr. Bryan, and with it son and decided an election without then, should it make to a sincere politics with and we may fully exwent Michigan and Montana and the help of New York, New Jersey, bouth Dakota, and the election of Indiana, and Illinois is Bryan's legislatures in Utah and Florida stamping ground, the section stumped pledged to enact prohibition laws. by him for Wilson. And Bryan, it Enterprising newspapers immediately can be claimed with some plausibilmade two new maps. One was, a ity, was the man who gave the Wildemocratic map of the United States. son administration the peace tinge which made it possible to win the west and the election for Wilson.

It is a doleful prospect. Here in the west they know full well there is nothing like the liquor issue to muss up politics. But it is coming. The cloud is already several times the size of a man's hand, and the biggest wind William Jennings Bryan knows how to raise is puffing it this way .-W. L. L.

BRYAN AND PROHIBITION

Mr. W. J. Bryan did Trojan service for the democratic party in the campaign just closed, and went far to redeem himself from his absurd and undignified conduct as a member of the cabinet and from the pranks he attempted to play with the administration during the most critical period of our foreign relations. But the Nebraskan has suffered no grass to improve on the success of the party force the lines it shall follow in the non-political moral measure. He has promptly jumped into the tinued so. arena with the proposition that the oral votes, is already "dry." With a platform in 1920 and make this their that it is one for the states to deal publican side.—Washington Star.

PROHIBITION MAP OF THE UNITED STATES

Twenty-five of the forty-eight states in the United States will be dry as the result of the election. Nineteen already had voted out liquor while six went over to the prohibition cause Nov. 7, Utah and Florida electing legislatures which are expected to vote against the saloons when they meet.

Of the twenty-three wet states left, six have local option in more than half their counties, nine have more than a quarter of their counties dry. and the remaining eight have less than 25 per cent of their counties against the saloons. The lineup:

More than 50 per cent.-Missouri, Kentucky, Texas, Louisiana, Minne. sota, Indiana.

More than 25 per cent. - California, Wyoming, Illinois, Wisconsin, Ohio, Maryland, Connecticut, Vermont, New Hampshire.

Less than 25 per cent.—Nevada, New Mexico, Pennsylvania, Delaware, New Jersey, New York, Rhode Island, Massachusetts.-Kansas City Star.

party into it is to mix politics and whisky, than which there is no more vicious combination.

Neither national party adopted prohibition as an issue between them in the late campaign, and yet state elections on November 7, held independently but simultaneously with Jersey, Illinois and Indiana. But the the presidential election, added at prohibition strength in each of these least five states to the "dry" column. Michigan gave prohibition 75,000 majority; Nebraska went "dry" by p9,442, Montana by 20,000, and South Dakota by 25,000. Idaho has adopted a prohibition constitutional amendment by a majority of three lessly carried on." - Knoxville to one; Utah and Florida have elect. ed legislatures pledged to a prohibition law, and Washington, Iowa, Colorado, Arizona and Arkansas stood adamant against recent attempts to revive liquor traffic in those states.

Twenty-four of the forty-eight states of the Union are now "dry." It is estimated that sixty per cent of the population and eighty-five per of Columbia. cent of the area of the United States declaration for national prohibition to grow under his feet in the attempt is now subjected to prohibition. The and his presence in Washington have movement is progressing favorably served to arouse interest in the subby undertaking to lay down and and with a minimum friction as a ject, and the initial move will be next presidential compaign of 1920. seems to us that it were better con-

chief issue in that campaign. Pro- with and legislate upon. The prinhibition as a state-to-state movement ciple of prohibition is democratic in on non-partisan lines is doing mighty its nature, enuring to the benefit of well and is progressing with wonder- the masses, as it does, and it is sigful rapidity. It seems a pity that nificant that the prohibition wave Mr. Bryan can not let well enough originated and has moved side by that should be dealt with by all the independent of it politically, from people without the injection of po- the south and west which in coalition prohibitionist what the brand of a pect the most will be made of it by man's politics may be, so long as he politicians on the lookout for issues votes for the principle? But to bring and the drift of the tide. As a writer

"The fear hitherto has been that no national convention would dare to embarrass an eastern nominee by a prohibition plank, since the candidate would be sure to lose the heavily populated states of New York, New states is growing every day. The fact also that a president can be elected without those four states makes it almost certain that from now until 1920 the agitation against high-balls and beers will be relent-(Tenn.) Sentinel.

DISTRICT PROHIBITION FIRST AIM OF CONGRESS

The first effort of prohibition leaders in congress at this session is to be directed toward enactment of the bill to abolish liquor in the District William J. Bryan's It made in the senate, where Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas plans to push the District prohibition bill in It is President Wilson's view, as the near future. He will be aided democrats shall adopt a nation-wide we understand it, that prohibition is by Senator Kenyon of Iowa, who will prohibition plank in their national a moral and not a political issue, and champion the measure from the re-