

Behm commands brigade

The DAILY NEBRASKAN

Official Newspaper Of More Than 7,000 Students

Vol. 40, No. 107 Lincoln, Nebraska Sunday, March 23, 1941

'N' club signs Bob Strong's band for annual jamboree

Bob Strong and his orchestra, currently appearing on Uncle Walter's Dog House Show and formerly on Avalon Time and the Showboat show, will play for the second annual "N" club jamboree April 4, John McDermott, chairman of the committee, announced Saturday.

Tickets for the affair, which will pay tribute to Nebraska's Rosebowl football team, conference track team and all other athletic teams in 1940-41, will go on sale Monday in the Union, John K. Selleck's office, University drug, Magees, and may be obtained from "N" club members.

Program features UN.

Bob Strong's college medley will feature UN songs on the April 1 performance of the Dog House show. Recently heard on Fitch's bandwagon, music with the "Strong" appeal has also been played at the Aragon and Trianon ballrooms and the Edgewater Beach hotel in Chicago.

His versatile band has played at proms at Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, and Kansas State this winter. Bob Strong is a Kansas State graduate, and was well-known as a Big Six athlete.

Tickets are $1.50.

Price of dancing tickets for the last all-university party is $1.50 a couple, with spectator's tickets at 35 cents each.

Other members of the "N" club committee who were instrumental in getting the versatile band include Forrest Behm, Don Fitz, and Walter Luther.

BOB STRONG ... features UN songs

Fellman writes for law magazine

Dr. David Fellman of the political science department has an article on "A Case Study in Administrative Law—the Regulation of Barbers" in the February Law Quarterly of Washington university at St. Louis.

Kosmet Klub holds spring show tryouts

Play has parts for men, women in both acting and singing roles

Tryouts Monday and Tuesday nights in Temple auditorium bring both men and women together in the first dual cast spring Kosmet Klub show in more than 15 years. And for the first time according to Leo Cooksley, president of the Klub, finesse, dramatic appeal and zip will replace "slapstick" crude humor and "accent on awkwardness," so characteristic of Kosmet productions in the past.

Success along these lines, Cooksley points out, will give this university and the authors of the show a good claim to national recognition, ASCAP prize money and scholarship awards.

But more important than this, the president believes that female singing and dancing talent has, in the past, had no opportunity for display, and that a combination of this untapped talent, coupled with a good play and a strong singing male cast, would set a record in Kosmet Klub show popularity.

Play adaptable to students.

Carl Harnsberger, business manager and chairman of the tryouts, (See TRYOUTS, page 8.)

Guinan, Williams, Milek lead units

Second semester promotions effective immediately

Forrest E. Behm, cadet colonel of the UN brigade, was re-appointed commander of the ROTC unit for the second semester by Col. Charles A. Thuis, professor of military science and tactics, Friday.

Other top positions went to Warren Guinan, colonel commanding the infantry; William A. Milek, commanding the engineers; and Guy H. Williams, commanding the field artillery. All held the same positions last semester except Milek, who replaces Harry Seagren as head of the engineers.

Brigade staff.

Top members of the brigade staff are Phil E. Weber, cadet lieutenant colonel, executive; Donald W. Baird, cadet lieutenant colonel adjutant. Captains on the staff are Donald W. Baird, William R. Vold, Stanley M. Truhlsen and Warren B. Day.

Capitol Personalities

FRED A. MUELLER ... serves fifth term

Public service is nothing new to Senator Fred A. Mueller. Now in his fifth term in the legislature, the senator has served as a county (See MUELLER, page 8.)

Named lieutenant colonels in the infantry are Donald C. Nilsson, Thomas C. Horn, Melbourne W. Johnson, battalion commanders; and Leonard F. Peltier, executive officer. Executive officers in the three infantry battalions went to Walter Kiechel, James S. Pittenger and Stephen M. Davis, all majors.

Journal. Forrest Behm.

The two battalions in the field artillery are to be commanded by Lieutenant Colonels Milo B. Tesar and Edward A. Huwaldt. Majors in the artillery are Delbert D. Spahr, Elbert T. Phelps and Stanley H. Southwick. Cadet major, executive, in the engineers is Hayes A. Lyle.

In addition to the above promotions which include only students in the second year of advanced (See APPOINTMENTS, page 6.)

Goddess of Agriculture, Sylvia Zocholl, rules ag activities

Pictured are the Goddess of Agriculture and her attendants who were presented at the ag spring formal last night. Left to right are: Rhoda Chesley, Betty Jo Smith, Vivian Brown, Sylvia Zocholl, Helen Klatt, Helen Claybaugh, and Carol Briggs. Journal and Star.

UN's new Goddess of Agriculture, Sylvia Zocholl, will rule over ag campus activities at Farmers' Fair on May 3. Announcement of her selection was made at the annual Ag Spring party last night.

Miss Zocholl, presented to 200 dancing couples in the student activities building, decorated like a grape arbor, was elected to the honorary post by home ec women students.

A foods major.

A major in foods and nutrition at the college of agriculture, the new "Goddess" has won numerous awards, being a member of the home economics association and the home economics national honorary sororities. She is also a member of the Ag executive board, the Farmers' Fair board, and was a member of the Cornhusker Countryman staff.

Her six attendants, also elected by women majoring in home economics pulled satin springs which opened the arbor gate from which Miss Zocholl stepped out dressed in a white seersucker organdie formal with a floral pattern weave. She made the dress for the presentation.

Attendants included Vivian Brown, Helen Klatt, Carol Briggs, Rhoda Chesley, Helen Elizabeth Claybaugh and Betty Jo Smith. They were all dressed in gowns which they made themselves as a part of their training in home economics.

Chaperones at the presentation were Prof. and Mrs. H. P. Davis and Prof. and Mrs. I. L. Hathaway. Mary-Bell Haumont and Don Steele were co-chairmen of the committee in charge of the annual student affair.