

Students Buy Season Athletic Tickets Monday

Student season athletic tickets will go on sale next Monday and Tuesday, John K. Selleck, business manager of the athletic department announced today. To be included in the preliminary draw for choice seats, reservations must be made between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. on Monday, or between 8 a. m. and 1 p. m. on Tuesday.

University students or groups desiring football tickets should present their money and their identification cards at Mr. Selleck's office in the coliseum. There they will be given a receipt and their number placed in the lottery.

Mary Kerrigan, editor of the Daily Nebraskan, will conduct the ticket drawing Tuesday afternoon. Students or representatives of student groups may receive the ticket books by presenting their receipts Wednesday.

Block of Seats.

If groups of students, numbering two or more, wish to get a block of seats, they should send a representative of their group with the money and the identification cards of all members to the ticket office. The group is then given a number for the draw.

In this way a single student or a small group of students have the same chance in obtaining choice seats. Student athletic books this year cost $5 and cover all intercollegiate athletic contests. If students fail to reserve tickets before the deadline, they may purchase them later if there are any left over from the draw. No student is allowed more than one ticket.

Churches Welcome UN Students With Parties, Programs Tonight

Luckey Addresses America First Meeting October 2

... Replies to Linton

Henry C. Luckey, former U. S. congressman from Nebraska, will address the university America First committee, October 2, in parlors X and Y of the union at 7:30 p. m. His subject will be, "Are We in the War?"

"America First or Foreign War?" will be the subject of Robert Stanley Loke, chairman of the university chapter, who will also speak. The speakers will reply to the attacks made upon the anti-war forces by Dr. Ralph Linton who spoke at a Union forum recently.

Lowe affirmed that the primary aim of the committee is "To keep American men out of foreign wars and away from foreign shores." He said that the local AFC will not be strictly isolationist but will stand for American isolationism when it comes to entering other nations' foreign wars.

Prexy of ACS Speaks Today At Avery Lab

Prof. William Lloyd Evans, president of the American Chemical society, will give a lecture on "The Chemical Behavior of Reducing Sugars in Alkaline Solution" at Avery lab tonight at 7:30 p. m. Professor Evans is speaking under the auspices of the university chapter of the ACS.

A dinner in honor of Professor Evans will be held at 6:00 p. m. before the lecture in the Union. This will be the 192nd meeting of the Nebraska chapter but will be the first meeting of this semester.

Professor Evans is the present chairman of chemistry at Ohio State university. He received his B. Sci. in 1892 and his M. Sci. in 1896 at Ohio State. Later, in 1905, he received his Ph. D. at the University of Chicago. In 1929 he was awarded the William H. Nichol medal.

Numerous Denominations Entertain at Annual Affair

In observing all church night at the university tonight, many parties and mixers are planned along various themes. Entertainment will range from lectures to games and dancing.

All university church night, celebrated annually on the Nebraska campus, is planned primarily to welcome students and to invite them to select a Lincoln church home. Almost all denominations are represented among those giving parties.

"We hope that all university students who have been church members at home will affiliate with their churches here," Chancellor C. S. Boucher said early this week. "If they have not joined a church, now would be a appropriate time to do so. Students find a cordial welcome in all Lincoln churches."

All-university Church Sunday will be held on this coming Sunday when students are especially invited to services.

Participating in tonight's activities are the following churches:

Presbyterian

Presbyterian students will be entertained at an induction party held at the Presbyterian Student House, 333 North 14th street at 7:30. A guard house, drill field, military police, United Service (See CHURCH NIGHT, page 4)

Athletic Office Asks for Ushers

Need of ushers for the football games is reported by the athletic office. Any ROTC cadet student may sign up in this office. Applications will be taken until the 75 vacancies are filled.

Season Tickets for Symphony on Sale

Countryman Offers Special Subscription

Dance Ticket, Copy Sent To Folks Added Features For This Year's Readers

The Cornhusker Countryman is starting its circulation campaign today. Until October 3 subscriptions will be sold at a special price of 40c for one semester, or 75c for the entire school year. This subscription will entitle students to a copy a month, and also provides for a copy to be sent to parents or a friend not enrolled in the University of Nebraska.

The Countryman staff has decided to make a real bargain this year and have decided to toss in a ticket to the Countryman dance at no extra cost. The dance will be held in the Activities building Friday, October 3, at 9 p. m.

The policy of the Countryman has been completely revamped this year and is expected to surpass all former years in quality and circulation. At a meeting held Tuesday evening, there were about 30 students present, all of whom were interested in gaining a position either on the editorial or business staff.

Student ticket sales campaign for the Lincoln Symphony concert is now underway on the campus. Headquarters for the campaign, now entwined with defense activities, are in the school of music.

Yearbook Staff Meets Today

There will be a meeting of the Cornhusker business staff at 4:30 today in the Cornhusker office in the Union basement. All workers are instructed to bring their receipt books with them. Anyone interested in working on the business staff should make application with Ed Calhoun, business manager.

Tickets may be purchased before Oct. 1 for $3.50; after that date tickets will carry a 10 percent defense tax.

Four of the six artists scheduled to appear on this season's concerts are Lucy Monroe, young American soprano; Vronsky and Babine, internationally famous Russian duet-pianists; and Jascha-Heifetz, world-famed violinist.

A native New Yorker, Miss Monroe's voice is entirely American trained by Estelle Liebling and Queena Mario. She has the enviable record of having made 16 appearances in two years with the Philadelphia orchestra under conductors Eugene Ormandy, Fritz Reiner, Jose Iturbi, Alexander Smallens, Alfred Wallenstein and Hans Steinberg.

In 1937, she made her Metropolitan Opera debut at that house's spring season. Now, to her successes on the air waves as an orchestral soloist, in Broadway mu-

Dairy Cattle Judging Coach Picks Team

Tracy, Hanson, Paulson To Compete in Outstate Contests During Year

Don Tracy, Jack Paulson, and Harold Hanson were picked as members of the university dairy cattle judging team according to George Trimberger, coach of the team. Bill Hartnell was chosen as alternate.

The judging team will leave Saturday for Waterloo, Ia. to represent Nebraska in the collegiate contest which will be held Monday. The contest will be sponsored by the national dairy cattle congress. On Oct. 18 the team will travel to Memphis, Tenn. to participate in the collegiate contest that will be held there.

During the summer Coach Trimberger, instructor in dairy husbandry and dairy judging at ag, has been working with this group of men in order to pick a winning team. They have worked out at the Iowa State Fair, held at Des Moines, and at the Kansas State fair, held at Atchison.
