porter was Nebraska's new bizad dean, John D. Clark.

Those were the days. It was that year that the university finally forced private interests out of control of the Daily and instituted a publication board. And 1905 was the year when the Nebraskan first came out in blazing red ink. The occasion was the reporting of a sensational, and very "hot" news story. As a matter of fact, Dean Clark reports, the story was so hot that every copy of the paper was stolen before it could be distributed to the subscribers.

Class Rivalry.

According to Clark, one of the greatest differences between campus activity of today and that of 36 years ago is the disappearance of class organization and class solidarity. Freshman-sophomore and junior-senior rivalry was very keen in 1905; but "an enlivening" affair says Clark.

There were all kinds of class competition, even interclass football championships. "We really used to batter each other" the dean reports. As a matter of fact the 1905 editor bears a battle scar on one of his fingers, permanent souvenir of the "battering."

Speaking about the social attitude of today and yesterday, Clark pointed out that his day was the day of frankness. And the Nebraskan was a frank newspaper. Said Clark, "Those were the carefree days when social consciousness was practically absent, among college students and the general public also." "There was none of today's key hole gossip," he says.

Barbs Petition for Change In Council Membership

A Proposal

To alter the constitution of the student council of the University of Nebraska by amending Articles IV, V, VI and X, striking out Article III, re-numbering Article IX and X and providing a new Article X, all to read as follows:

Article IV.

Section 1: The Student Council shall be composed of twenty members, one-half elected each semester.

1. The college of agriculture shall be entitled to four members, two to be chosen at each regular election.

2. The colleges on the city campus shall be entitled to sixteen members, eight to be chosen at each regular election.

3. If at any time the ratio between the enrollment of the College of Agriculture and the City Campus shall exceed 1:4 the student council shall have power to increase the membership from the college of agriculture to provide for the proper proportion.

Section 2: The regular student council election shall be held on Tuesday of the fifth week of each semester unless the time is changed by action of the University Senate.

Section 3: To be eligible for membership in the student council, each candidate shall be a bona fide member of the college or group of colleges that he seeks to represent, and shall have the qualifications required by the eligibility rules prescribed by the senate committee. Regular university rules shall govern in determining a candidate's college.

Section 4: Nominations for members of the student council shall be made by the filing of the name of the candidate not later than 5 p. m. on the second Friday next prior to the day of election, at the student activities office. The secretary of the student council shall announce in the Daily Nebraskan at least ten days prior thereto, the day and hour when filing closes.

Section 5: Election of members to the student council shall be by the Hare (or single vote) system of proportional representation with transfers by what is termed the exact method.

1. The ballots shall list alphabetically the names of the several candidates for office and, in case of endorsement, shall designate the party or group to which he or she belongs.

2. Each qualified student voter shall be entitled to receive a separate ballot bearing the names of all the candidates permitted to file. Each voter shall be privileged to designate his first and second and third and other choices for any candidates he is willing to have represent him.

Section 6: Any advisors appointed by the university senate shall serve as ex-officio members of the council.

Article V.

Section 1: The newly elected student council members shall be installed at a meeting called by the president of the student council within a week after election day. At this meeting a president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer shall be elected, and the organization of the council perfected.

Section 2: The council may provide for committees which shall be responsible to it. All committees within the Student Council organization and all committees or boards appointed by the Council, which represent the student party ratio established in the election of members to the student council.

Article VI.

The terms of members shall be for one year or until their successors are duly elected. The complete election count shall be preserved in the files of the secretary of the student council for one year. Any vacancy occurring during the college year between elections shall be filled for the remainder of the term by the candidate next in order after the last one declared elected.

Article IX (re-numbered Article X.)

Section 1: (Provisions for amendment of the student council constitution as stated under the constitution now in effect.)

Section 2: The rules for student elections may be initiated or repealed by a two-thirds vote of the student council, or upon the petition of a majority of the student body regardless of the council's action but with the approval of the university senate.

Article X: Schedule.

Section 1: Articles IV, V, VI, VIII and X as heretofore existing are hereby repealed, and Articles IX and X shall be re-numbered as VIII and IX respectively.

Section 2: The amended Articles V and IX shall take effect immediately upon adoption, but the amended Articles IV and VI shall not take effect until the beginning of the second semester of the college year 1941-1942.

Section 3: The student council elected on April 22, 1941, shall cease to hold office as a body within one week after the regular election, held on Tuesday of the fifth week of the second semester of the school year 1941-42. The ten members elected at that election shall constitute the total membership of the student council until the regular first semester election of the school year 1942-43, when ten new members shall be added.

In accordance with recent legislation stating that all issues to be voted on at a coming election must be published ten days in advance of the date of the election, the Daily here publishes the petition now being circulated by the barb organization, which, if it receives 100 signers, will be voted on at the fall election, October 28.

The petition proposes a change in the student council constitution which would involve changing the membership of the student council to 20 members, these members to be elected without regard to college except for the maintenance of an ag-city campus ratio. Half
