Two Heads

Are Better...

Congratulations to the Kosmet Klub for the fine show Thursday night, and to all houses participating to make this one of the best performances ever presented. . . . At the Alpha Xi house party last night one found himself in a setting of palm trees, islands, seaweed—everything to suggest the adventures of Robinson Crusoe. . . . A new Alpha Xi pledge, Jeanne Bowers, attended with Jim Defenbaugh. . . . Another couple taking in the south seas atmosphere was Mary Ellen Beechner and Sig Chi Tony Toy, who are, by the way, also taking in the Military Ball.

More apologies (can't seem to keep everything straight) . . . this time to George Abbott, who wishes to forget the nickname "Corky," and who, we stated, was going steady with a dorm girl, but we find is steadying it with an affiliated miss. . . . The girl? He refuses to disclose the name of the sorority. . . . Why? We'll never know. . . . Phi Gams John Carr and Al O'Conner are all mixed up as to whose jewels belong where. . . . They borrowed them for the Kosmet Klub skit, and find now they have forgotten the owners. . . . It's not a tragedy, to our way of thinking, for it affords an excellent opportunity for the fellows to visit all girls on campus. . . .

Wouldn't be a bit surprised if this was premeditated.

Have you seen Sig Alph John "Tiny" Thieson escorting the WHITE HOPE (nurse by occupation) to all the important affairs that a fellow will take his best girl. . . . Wish we could have looked in on the Phi Gam "ship wreck" house party whose participants were all to come dressed as they might have been when the ship went down. . . . What an assortment of costumes, scanty or otherwise, appeared. . . . Al Artman was with Mary Ralston, Kappa. . . . Which leads to the question—Where was Theta Marge Christensen? . . .

Nothing like centering all your attention in one house; it fosters good feeling, and all that sort of thing. . . . Alpha Phi Barb Morehouse is a one-woman campaign to further fine relations between her house and that of Delta Tau Delta, with three dates this week end in the Delt house. . . . The men and the nights: Friday, Art Lincoln; Saturday, Jack Parker, and Sunday, Ed Nyden. . . . Alpha Tau Omega is divided: Half the boys belong to the Friday Night club which operates without benefit of women. . . . Any man who has a date is ostracized (T. Miller was bounced because he squired Kappa Mary Runyan this week end). . . . And the rest of the house dated the press convention delegates, with some of the brothers' high school steadies turning up to complicate matters a bit.

SAE Bill Steen's had his fourth date for this year with Alpha Chi Peggy Eliot. . . . Which fact breaks Bill's record of last year by one date. . . . The Kentucky Derby at the Theta house Friday night was fun and well attended. . . . Nebraska Sweetheart Becky Wait imported Homer Rogers, who should be in the army by now, from Omaha for the celebration. . . .

Pris Campsey, Donald Bower Speak Nuptials

Miss Priscilla Jane Campsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Campsey of Denver, became the bride of Donald E. Bower, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bower, Lockhart, N. Y., in a candlelight ceremony at the Alpha Xi Delta sorority house Friday evening.

Miss Campsey was attended by Miss Jeanne Hecker, a sorority sister, of Sioux City, Ia. Best man was Deane Jensen, Rev. Thomas A. Barton of the Second Presbyterian church officiated at the ceremony, following which there was a reception. Assisting with the serving were Leona French and Jean McAllister. Bernice Askey, assisted by Virginia Gartrell, was in charge of gifts and Helen Closs had the guest book.

Mr. and Mrs. Bower are both seniors in the university. Mr. Bower is president of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, and a member of Student Council. The bride is president of Alpha Xi Delta and of Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism honorary.

And Phi Psi Chet Bowers is dating! . . . Kosmet Klub saw him watching the proceedings and pretty Peggy Lemon.

Saw Theta pledge Jean Murray cooing with Phi Psi John Cook the other day, since ATO Jawn Mason is re-dating Kappa Marie Anderson. . . . Say goodbye to Kappa Sig Rex Weaver who goes to the army, and to Jack Clarke, leaving for Washington. . . . All's well that prints well. . . .

Inspired by Newspaper Stories, Productions Will Be Held in Union

Three plays, inspired by newspaper stories and written by students, will be presented in the Union today at 4 p. m. as the first group in a series of three presentations prepared by the speech department.

The plays to be given Sunday are "The Romance of the Commonplace," written by Robert Black, "She Got His Goat" by Marie Anderson, and "Famine" by Clarence Flick.

Romulo Soldevilla will direct "The Romance of the Commonplace." The cast are Ronald Metz, Robert Hill, John Priest, Douglas Varner, Allan Menefee, Henry Lee, Bill Reese, Richard Putney, Jack Donley, Jean Racine, Robert Hyde, Marie Anderson and Bill McBride.

Dorothy Filley Director.

The play "She Got His Goat," to be directed by Dorothy Filley, includes in its cast Peggy Lemon, Ronald Metz, Bill Reese, Carlene Hohensee and Jean Racine.

A story of the starving countries of Europe inspired the play "Famine." Robert Black will direct the production to be played by Cletus Frericke, William Major, Mable Jean Schmer, Ivan Thomas, Bill Reese, Jack Donley, Lougene

Everson, Marie Hassel, Frank O'Neill, Robert Black and Romulo Soldevilla.

The three series of plays are sponsored by the Union and will be directed, staged, and enacted by students. There will be no charge for the program, but students will be required to present identification cards at the door.
