

Parking lot party-goers to have unexpected guests

By Mary Jo Pitzl

Campus Police will not be the only ones patrolling UNL parking lots at this weekend's football game.

A group of about 15 students will walk through parking lots, talking to Big Red fans celebrating at their tailgate parties, according to junior Harry Schawal. However, the students won't be spreading good cheer.

The students will distribute the addresses of the NU Board of Regents to partying Big Red fans, and will ask them to write the regents in support of liquor on campus, Schawal said.

"We want to show them (the fans) that it's great that they're having a good time and getting all lit up," Schawal said. "But at the same time, students on campus would be subject to disciplinary action for the same act."

State law prohibits consumption of alcohol on state property including the university campus.

Schawal said the law is not evenly enforced on pre-game fans who drink in university parking lots in trailers and vans.

Residence Hall Student assistants will explain to fans the current policy prohibiting consumption of alcohol on campus, he said. They will point out the contrast between how the liquor policy is enforced on campus and what Schawal called the more lenient policy followed on football Saturday with drinking fans.

"Any student on a residence hall floor who is observed with alcohol by a student assistant, resident or police officer is subject to pouring his alcohol out and having his name submitted for some type of disciplinary action," Schawal, a student assistant at Harper Hall said.

Similar penalties are not assessed on football fans, according to Schawal.

According to Campus Police, alcohol enforcement is not a high priority on football Saturdays.

John Duve, UNL parking and traffic coordinator, said alcohol enforcement is not as high a priority on football Saturdays as violations related to life safety.

About 25 officers are on duty during football games and "all we can do is caution them (liquor violators) and try to make them stay inside their vehicles," Capt. Kenneth Markle said.

Four arrests related to drinking have been made since the beginning of the 1977 football season, Sergeant Joe Wehner said and added this figure is about average in comparison with past seasons.

"If we had to arrest everybody drinking alcohol on campus, there wouldn't be enough Greyhound buses to haul them downtown," Officer Randy Kleager said.

Kleager said the campus police follow a "pretty casual" policy in reprimanding alcohol violators.

"We tell them to get back in the van or dump it out."

Volunteer group works for protection of abused women

A recently formed volunteer group is working to gain support and protection for abused women.

Currently, the task force for abused women is working with Lincoln Sen. Wally Barnett on a legislative draft that would provide five shelters for abused women in Nebraska.

Barnett said the bill still is in the rough draft stage but is expected to be introduced to the Legislature soon.

The shelters would be located in Omaha, Lincoln and three other large cities in the western part of the state. The draft would provide housing for a seven-day period.

At a public hearing Monday the task force discussed the need for 30-day shelters to provide treatment and counseling for abused women.

Marcy Marshall, task force coordinator, said the group is working to develop services offering counseling, baby sitting for the children of abused women, food, clothing, medical attention and other services to help victims.

The draft was written by Barnett and other officials, in conjunction with state welfare laws.

There currently are 15 shelters in the U.S. for abused women.

Grand Island plane hijacking rings of 'Dog Day Afternoon'

A hijacking scenario that began to look like scenes from the movie Dog Day Afternoon began in Grand Island Thursday as a man demanded $3 million and the freedom of his imprisoned homosexual lover.

Thomas Michael Hannan, 29, hijacked a Frontier 737 jetliner with a sawed-off shotgun early in the morning. The jet took off carrying Hannan, 29 passengers and four crew members.

Refueling in Kansas City, the hijacker released 18 passengers, mostly women and children, unharmed.

The plane arrived in Atlanta at 12:03 where Hannan demanded $3 million, two parachutes, two machine guns, two .45 caliber pistols and the release of George David Stewart from Folten County Jail in Atlanta.

Hannan's lawyer J. Roger Thompson talked him into releasing the two women hostages in Atlanta. Hannan agreed "as an honorable man" to release the women if he could see Stewart. A handcuffed man was taken to the outside of the plane, according to the Associated Press (AP).

Passengers described Hannan as a good-looking, tall young man who chewed his fingernails, United Press International (UPI) reports said.

An FBI spokesman described him as "very calm, very cool, but very determined," according to the Associated Press (AP).

Father Frank Hoelck, a priest at the Catholic high school Hannan attended, described him as a very likeable young man who came from a good family. He added that although Hannan was not a leader in his class, he was by no means a loner.

Stewart was being held in Atlanta on bank robbery charges, according to AP. AP also reported that Hannan was on bond for the same robbery charges when the hijacking occurred.

Mobile, Alabama police arrested Hannan and Stewart after the robbery and both men admitted to having homosexual relations, according to UPI.

Empty seats outnumber full seats 4 to 1.

Share the ride with a friend. It sure beats driving alone.

Lincoln's Carpool/Vanpool
473-6399

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

REDO	WIEL	ABET
ELUL	ROTA	LASS
SOME	ANON	ITSA
SUPPORTING	ACTOR
OLE	AHA	REE
STRAND	ANG	DOS
MAA	AMAH	TRE
COSTUME	DESIGNER
PIT	SEND	TEE
ALE	ESE	ISOMER
IMA	MOE	EMU
CINEMATOGRAPHER
HOWL	HALL	SATE
ANAT	AIDE	STAR
PAYS	BLYS	NESS

REGISTER NOW
Weaving II Wed. Oct. 26, 7 p.m. An intermediate class designed for the student with some weaving knowledge and experience. Registration fee: $20.00.

Yarn-art
"At the Campus" in the Glass Menagerie
1217 Q 474-2778

F.A.C.*

*Food and Company

at the Nebraska Unions. . . .
Where people and things happen!

crossword puzzle

Edited by WILL WENG

ACROSS

- Zodiac sign
- D'Antibes et al.
- Beef
- Be profitable
- "... as in June"
- Leander's love
- Landfall for Benchley's shark
- Prefix for plasm
- Fervid
- Biddy's product
- Less honest
- "Wait and ..."
- Scale notes
- Item for a ring
- Hammer's target
- Pacific island group
- Little heroine
- Some prophets' subject
- Composer Maurice
- Nessen and Reagan
- Camel's back-breaker
- Sills or Pons, e.g.
- Provide
- Certain trucks
- One of the Deans
- Armentieres's river
- England's Beau
- English cathedral city
- Barnyard animal
- Hob's partner
- Pact initials
- Female royalty

DOWN

- Follower of tra
- Novello of films
- Place for a Dorsey
- Star in Orion's foot
- Straightening
- Herb's predecessor
- Wife of Esau
- See-through items
- New South Wales capital
- Dear, in Paris
- Happen again
- Shaw
- Makes an error
- Is lightfingered
- Carolina cape
- Hilarious skits
- On the spot
- Anthony Eden
- Sophia
- Move easily
- May honorees
- The tube
- Nefarious
- Susan or bones
- Scale note
- Of birds, the owl?
- Keenan
- Be destructive
- Okay, classically
- Young pigeon
- Postal measurement
- Composer Kurt
- Color
- Haute
- Knievel
- Selves
- Pectic, e.g.
- Just manages
- Time units: Abbr.

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13
14					15				16
17					18				19
20						21			22
		23			24		25				26
27	28			29		30		31		32
33				34			35		36		37	38	39
40			41		42			43		44
45				46		47			48		49
				50		51		52			53
54	55	56		57		58		59		60
61			62			63		64			65	66
67						68		69
70						71				72
73						74				75			