"I want friendliness between my viewers and myself," Schatz said. "I like to talk with them, not to them. It's a real coincidence that Terry and I share the same views about our jobs. We both believe in being friendly with our viewers."

Both announcers agree that Omaha is a very competitive television market.

"I think we (the Omaha television stations) put out a better product than a lot of other major markets," Yeager said.

"We keep getting better in news and sports," Schatz said.

Although Nebraska football dominates the sports coverage of Nebraska television stations during the fall, neither announcer finds fault in that.

"It's a shame that some athletes and teams get overlooked," Schatz said. "But football is something that people can relate to on a positive level all over the state."

"It's the only thing that people have to hoot and holler about," Yeager said.

Rec Scoreboard

Due to deadlines, scoreboard results from men's flag football, bowling and other intramural sports from Sunday will run in Tuesday's paper. All scores in the future will run two days after the event.
