Television

• Much debate has centered around the "20/20" segment tonight, which features an hour-long interview with Barbara Streisand. Some have called this interview, prepared by long-time Streisand pal Geraldo Rivera a "love-in." TV critic Mike Duffy of Knight-Ridder said the interview is "sheer fun magazine fluff" and doesn't belong on a news show. For its part, ABC has called the interview "thoughtful and penetrating." You can be the judge tonight, 9 p.m. on Channel 7.

Radio

• Conductor Raccardo Muti leads Itzhak Perlman and the Philadelphia Orchestra tonight at 8 p.m. on KUCV (90.9 FM). Featured on tonight's program are Copeland's "Fanfare for the Common man," Mendelssohn's "Symphony No. 4 in A," and Beethoven's "Violin Concerto in D." Great party music.

At the Sheldon

• Tonight through Saturday, the Sheldon Film Theatre is presenting a stunning film documenting gospel music in America today. "Say Amen, Somebody," a film by George T. Nierenberg, is a brilliant look at the music and society of some of the country's most powerful gospel singers. Admission is $3. It is showing at 7 and 9 p.m., with a Saturday matinee at 3 p.m.

At the Kimball

• The University Orchestra will be featured in concert tonight at 8 p.m. The program will feature three senior soloists (Kelly Ellenwood, Jerlene Finley and Steffanie Hinkey) chosen competitively from the school of music.

Around Campus

• The UPC American Film Committees is sponsoring a screening of "Casablanca," tonight and Friday at 7 and 9:15 p.m. Admission is $1.50 for students with a current student ID, $2 for others.

Independent Big Eight TV has arrived

By Jeff Willcox

If you're the type of person that drives a round Lincoln reading billboards, you've probably noticed amongst the "This is Weird Country" signs that a new billboard has arrived — Big Eight TV, "Nebraska's 24-hour independent giant."

Big Eight TV, Nebraska's first independent television "giant" will begin broadcasting late this month, according to Frank Brousseau, general manager of Big Eight TV and the NTV Network.

Big Eight TV, which will broadcast its free signal 24-hours a day, will be located on channel 8 (thus, the name) and will serve 31 Nebraska counties and provide coverage of approximately 20,000 square miles including Lincoln, Fremont, Grand Island, Hastings, Columbus and Norfolk.

The station's programming will include such series from the past as "Lou Grant," "Star Trek," "I Love Lucy," "Green Acres" and "WKRP in Cincinnati." Big Eight TV also will show movies three times a day. The station had acquired the rights to more than 2,500 classic, recent release and made-for-television films.

According to a publication released by Big Eight TV, the channel will attempt to show what viewers want to see.

Through affiliations with KATZ Television, Metro Sports, Kansas City Royals, Big Eight Sports and Notre Dame, Big Eight TV will be able to carry a wide coverage of sports events.

Also new to Nebraska will be border-to-border coverage of state news. Big Eight TV has news bureaus in Lincoln, Grand Island, Hastings, Kearney and North Platte and plans to have one in Omaha soon. State news will be broadcast four times a day and the station also will provide six half-hour programs dealing with such local topics as agricultural news, weather, stock reports and updates throughout the day. CNN News and CNN II Headline News will provide the station's national news.
