

Wedding Photography Specialist

New to Lincoln.
Competitive prices with five years experience

Portraits with the feminine touch!

Photos by M.J.

M.J. Jeffrey 470-3417

Distinctive Wedding Photography"
By

Dingwell Photography Inc.
"Portraits of Distinction"

2536 "O" Street
Lincoln, Nebraska 68510

Tony Schappaugh/Daily Nebraskan

Find mirth in mischief

Pranksters prey on newlyweds

By Ad Hudler
Night News Editor

Mary Doe of Anytown, U.S.A., will never forget the day she got married. Her husband was kidnapped. Someone shoved a potato up her car's exhaust pipe. And she lost her virginity to boot.

Fact or fiction? Is this a typical wedding day for every Nebraska bride?

folks who have just tied the knot. Wedding pranks were vogue in the 1950's. They're vogue today.

Ann Fletcher, a UNL law student, is one newlywed who fell victim to a wedding-time prank. Fletcher was kidnapped after her wedding by about eight friends of her new husband, Kevin. They threw her into a van, drove away, and later called her mother, demanding ransom money. Ann's mom didn't take the joke lightly, Ann said.

"She thought they were serious," Ann said. "She thought the situation was real, and she didn't think it was funny at all."

Kevin and Ann later were reunited on Elkhorn's "Main Street," where they met friends in a bar.

Pranksters in Western Nebraska do it differently, said Grace Albrecht, a junior from Broken Bow.

"They put the groom in a shopping cart from the local grocery store and push him bar to bar," Albrecht said. "And they give him a shot (of booze) at every place."

"They put the groom in a shopping cart from the local grocery store and push him bar to bar..."

Mary Doe may be fictitious, but pranks like greasing windshields, tying cans to fenders, or shoving a potato up an exhaust pipe can and do happen to

Continued on Page 16

Sassi's wedding attire

at the wedding tree

2530 "O" Street
Lincoln, Ne. 68510
parking in back

475-3741

Ties & Accessories
for the discriminating gentleman

464-1113 East Park Plaza 467-4819

His Royal Highness
Gifts

Groom's Gifts

BUSINESS CARD CASES	CUFF LINKS	TIE BARS
KEY CHAINS	POCKET KNIVES	LIGHTERS
MONEY CLIPS	FROSTY MUGS	BILLFOLDS

WE WILL BE GLAD TO ORDER ANYTHING FROM OUR SUPPLIERS FOR YOU

Free gift wrap with purchase  Personal monogram only $3.00 per item.

FOR YOUR STATE
OF THE ART
U.V.A. TANNING

1) Add Color to your Wedding Pictures!
2) Get a Pre-Tan for your Honeymoon!
3) Special Wedding Party Rates!

Please call for Appts. and Rates
474-5355
Suite 216 2nd Level Golds Galleria

(NOW JUST A SHORT WALK FROM CAMPUS)