

THE FRONTIER

SOUTHWESTERN BREEZES

By Romaine Saunders

C. E. Addison took Mrs. Addison to a hospital in Omaha last Friday for surgery. Cap also expected to have some minor surgery done.

Ranchers of the southwest who were tempted to do a little farming in addition to the normal program of hay and cattle have a whale of a crop of corn. James Fredricks and Kennedy, in my neighborhood, have more corn piled up than has been seen in the county in the last five years.

A fundamental fact of society was stated by Christ in a few words: "The poor ye have always with you." And the noise of the shouting of many voices, political and social nostrums by organized groups, books and papers by starchy-eyed reformers and plain nuts, daily brainstorms by syndicated columnists are unable to alter that fundamental fact.

A gap in the columns of war stories, defense propaganda, union walk-outs and football scores was made to make room for an unusual romance down in old fabled Texas. A 25-year-old parson took for his bride a 70-year-old matron. Spinners thirty passed need not despair.

The steady roar of the motors of an invisible airplane over the big hills far to the southwest just after sunrise Sunday morning, with the frequent report of shooting, indicated one of three things—the chase was on for a white tail deer, a mess of ducks or the pelts of the dun-grey coyotes, the latter probably being the true explanation.

"And thou shalt take no gift: for the gift blindeth the seeing." Wonder what that half-million dollar election gift from the funds of one group of union labor has had to do with the one-sided attitude at Washington in the widespread union sitdowns and walkouts?

Orlan Frynar rode the sandhills Sunday searching out badger and polecat dens. What luck he had in snaring them with his lasso I don't know, but he at least stirred up a mighty smell that floated this way on a mild southern breeze.

A letter from Charley Bausch revive memories of happy days, early associates and conditions prevailing in O'Neill in that period of the six-shooter and supberb horsemanship. Charley's mind runs particularly to the nights when he and Barney McGreevy constituted an orchestra at the dances held in McCafferty's hall, access to which was effected by ascending a long stairway on the outside of the building. That hall and the old rink, now both gone, held memories of the social and amusemt life of a people who had few equals as business or play, politics, music, literature or oratorical flights to the clouds. It is by writing of these things that the memories of the human side of community life of a people are perpetuated.

The glow of the Townsend vision has become dimmed but across the horizon has lately flashed a new-halo of hope for gray heads. This is a book that tells us how to "Look Eleven Years Younger." Physiologically, bodily change is said to be effected every seven years, but here is a proposition from an up-to-date Ponc de Leon to put these processes in reverse on eleven-year basis. About the time the town of O'Neill had begun to slip into middle age, Bill Lakey, a local patriot lately become a widower, began to preen and groom to camouflage the marks of time. Dyed moustache and hair—a dead give away—daily shave, boots polished, a sudden interest in young ladies fooled nobody. Steve McNichols was trying it out too. Bill gave it up, admitted to me he was growing old. "I fit it off as long as I could—but there is no use!" This cry of despair of Bill's—or was it a happy recognition of his arrival at the mellow years of mature life—echos out of the past and tells us the Old Timer can't kid himself forever.

Heavy Run of Livestock And Stronger Prices

A firm undertone prevailed the livestock market here last Monday and prices ruled stronger on all classes. Receipts were much heavier than had been expected but buyers were plentiful and readily absorbed the day's offering.

An extreme top of $13.85 was paid for a short load of light-weight steer calves and a lot of calves sold from $12.50 to $13.00. Heifer calves brot as much as $11.50 with the bulk selling from $10.50 to $11.00.

One straight load of yearling steers cashed at $11.05. A few lightweights brot more but the long end of the yearlings sold from $10.25 to $10.75. One load of yearling heifers reached $9.50.

A straight load of 2 year old steers collected $9.80 with smaller packages in this class bringing more.

A heavy supply of cows showed up. A few good fat cows reached $8.00. The bulk of the run drew from $6.25 to $7.25. Several loads of breeding cows were here and these sold by the head. Bulls were stronger in price.

A heavy supply of hogs was here, an extreme top of $9.80 was paid for butchers, but the popular price on these was $9.75. Sows paid from $9.00 to $9.50. Pigs were here in increased numbers and sold from $6.00 to $7.00 per head.

Kurtz Dairy Going Into Big Time Business

R. M. Kurtz who has operated a dairy here for the past seven or eight years, has leased the O'Neill Locker Plant and is now in possession. Mr. Kurtz will also buy eggs and cream and will retail them at the plant, north of the Golden Hotel. He also expects to put in a pasturizer and will be able to sell pasteurized milk to those who wish to buy it. Mr. Kurtz has made a success of the dairy business, and he still retains his milk routes, but has added the locker plant as a business expansion. If anyone can make a success of it he can. Here's wishing him all kinds of luck in his new undertaking.

among the 1-inch professional cards that of Dr. C. D. B. Eiseman who had a double in the person of L. T. Shanner, an early homesteader in what is now Verdigris precinct, later a merchant in Inman, then a resident of O'Neill and an early representative of this section in the upper house of our state legislature. A settler from off the prairie met Shanner one day on the street, mistaking him for Eiseman and addressed him as doctor, requesting that he examine one of his ears that was troubling him. Lew looked the ear over and with a show of professional wisdom directed the prairie dweller to get a cake of castle soap and when he got home bathe the ear thoroughly with warm water and soap. Lew collected a dollar for his advice and in telling of it said if people called him doctor they had to pay him the doctor's fee. Dr. Connally, a contemporary of Dr. Eiseman, drove into our prairie home one dark night a little worse for sampling the contents of a bottle from Billy Ryan's. He wanted to know where he was and also to trade a roll of sausage he had in his buggy for a sour pickle. When the doctor was in his cups it was best to pacify him. The folks seemed to think so anyway as there was sausage on the none too elaborate homestead menu for a few days.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Stein

Mrs. Wilhelmina Stein died at her home northwest of this city last Thursday morning at 1:45 a. m., after an illness of about six years, during which time she had been a semi-invalid, of arthritis, at the age of 85 years, 4 months and 14 days. The funeral was held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Pleasant Valley church, Rev. J. E. Spencer officiating and burial in the Pleasant Valley cemetery.

Wilhelmina Lendt was born in Chicago, Ill., on July 13, 1856. Her family moved to Minnesota where she grew to womanhood and there on May 18, 1876, she was united in marriage to Ernest H. Stein. They remained in Minnesota for four years after their marriage, and on October 23, 1879, they moved to this county and located north of this city, where she had made her home for a little over sixty-two years. Mrs. Stein was the mother of nine children, all of whom are living and are left to mourn the passing of a kind and affectionate mother. Mr. Stein passed away on May 7, 1927. The children are: Mrs. Ella Storm, Owanka, S. D.; Mrs. Frank Karel, O'Neill; Mrs. Celia Richter, Herman Stein, Hatfield, Virginia; Mrs. Clara Woldneck, Spencer; Mrs. Dora Elshire, O'Neill; Walter Stein, North Hollywood, Calif.; Mrs. Maria Kuhns, Boulder, Colo. She is also survived by one brother, Fred Lendt, Fort Calhoun, Nebr.

Mrs. Stein was one of the real pioneers of the county. When she came here with her husband in 1879 there were very few settlers in this section. But notwithstanding the hardships of the early days they persevered and built up one of the nicest places in that section of the county and raised a splendid family of men and women, many of who are still residents of the county. She was a charming lady and had many friends among the old timers of the county.

Federal Judge Munger Passes Away

Judge Thomas C. Munger, one of the judges of the Federal court for the district of Nebraska, passed away at his home in Lincoln last Friday night, following a heart attack suffered a couple of weeks before. He was a little over eighty years of age at the time of his death.

Judge Munger was appointed to the Federal district court by President Theodore Roosevelt in 1907 and was the oldest presiding judge of the Federal courts in the United States, having put in thirty-four years on the bench. He was noted for his ability as a jurist and was looked up to for his ability and integrity by all members of the bar of Nebraska as well as those of surrounding states. Outside of his ability as a jurist he was a splendid citizen and a man and in his passing Nebraska has lost one of its distinguished and valuable citizens and the bench of the state one of its keenest legal minds.

Mrs. Mary A. Uttley

Mrs. Mary A. Uttley passed away at the Stuart hospital last Friday night, about 11:45, after an illness of several months, at the age of 72 years 5 months and 12 days. The body was bought to this city and the funeral was held Sunday afternoon from the Presbyterian church, Rev. Dr. Spencer officiating and burial in Prospect Hill cemetery.

Mary A. Payne was born at Solon, Iowa, on June 16, 1869. The family moved to Keya Paha county in the early eighties and she came to this city in 1892 and accepted a position on the law office of H. M. Uttley as a stenographer. On November 23, 1898, she was united in marriage to Mr. Uttley, who at that time was one of the leading lawyers in this section of the state. About ten years after their marriage Mr. Uttley retired from active practice of law and moved to a farm southeast of this city where they lived for about ten years, then moved back to this city, where she had made her home up to the time of her death. Mr. Uttley passed away in October, 1933.

Mrs. Uttley had always taken an active interest in civic affairs and was for several years president of the WCTU of this county. This organization had charge of the funeral services at the grave of their deceased leader. She leaves to mourn her passing four sisters, Mrs. Alice Oamek, Riverside, Nebr.; Mrs. Lottie Hamman, Jamison, Nebr.; Mrs. Marie Hicks, Inola, California; Mrs. Violet Jensen, Arlington, Washington.

Bill says that he raised 3,500 bushels of corn this year and that it is the finest quality corn that he had ever raised in the county. He had a field of hybrid corn that average fifty bushels to the acre and of very fine quality. His small grain was also good and of a very fine quality, so that all in all the year 1941 treated him fairly well. Here's hoping that the year 1942 will be even a better for Bill and the rest of the farmers of Holt county. They have had several years of tough sledding and perhaps the tide has finally turned.
