Heavy Run Of Livestock. Prices Higher

Receipts of livestock at the local auction were extra heavy last Monday as many farmers and stockmen, who were unable to market their stock a week ago on account of bad roads, brought them in Monday. Prices ruled strong in most instances and the action was brisk throughout. An unusually large number of interested buyers was here and the competitive bidding resulted in a highly active market. Demand remains good on practically all classes.

The best lightweight steer calves sold up to $14.00 with the long end moving at 12.50 to $13.50. Heifer calves ranged from $11.00 to $12.00. Quite a lot of good calves were here.

In the yearling division $10.50 to $11.50 claimed the bulk of the supplies with a few choice kinds reaching slightly higher. The light weight yearlings were in broad demand.

The best fat cows sold well above $8.00 with the bulk of the medium to good kinds ranging in price from $7.00 to $8.00. A good supply of breeding and feeding cows was here and these sold by the head at strong prices. Bulls were, also, strong in price.

An extra heavy run of hogs showed up and prices paid here reflected the general price trends. An extreme top of $12.75 was paid for choice 180 lb. butchers with the bulk of the offering claiming $12.65 to $12.70. Sows paid from $11.50 to $11.75. Feeder pigs of which there was an unusually large number, sold from $13.50 to $14.50 per cwt. with a few reaching upwards to $15.00.

More sheep than have been on this market for several weeks showed up last Monday. These sold mostly by the head at good prices. A few horses completed the day's offering.

The next regular auction will be held Monday, March 9.
