

Tin Cans Do Their Bit in War Program

Merrily They Sail to Continent 'Down Under'

There's many a happy smile and cheer from these U. S. soldiers (left) as they look on Australian soil from their transport ship. They are now fighting under command of General MacArthur. Right: In the lobe of the sea a "pollywog" (one who hasn't crossed the equator) should be hazed by a package as the ship passes the imaginary line. No exception was made on this Australian convoy. Here Neptunus Rex and his court are in costumes, officiating.
