

As Collier Sinks in Battle of Atlantic

A naval convoy, escorting U. S. merchant ships on the Atlantic coast, lost one collier to a mine planted by enemy subs, because there was no wake. In picture at left a survivor dries his face after being nearly blinded and choked by the oily waters. However, in war no chances are taken, and depth charges were loosed with the result shown in picture at the right, just in case a sub was lurking around.

U. S. Troops Survey New Post in Cairo

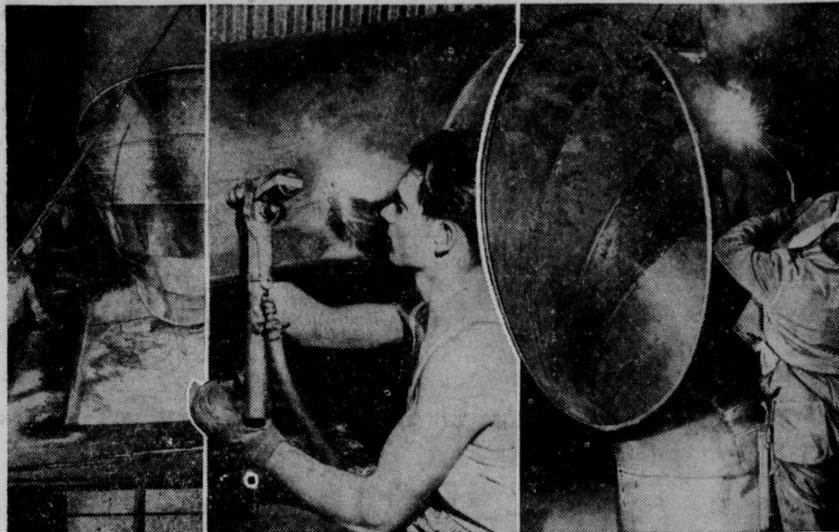

U. S. soldiers look over the Cairo rooftops from their new billet in the Middle East. Since this picture was taken the battle of Egypt has been raging furiously, with Field Marshal Erwin Rommel directing the Axis thrust toward Alexandria and Suez, while huge U. S. Liberator bombers struck heavily at the enemy in and behind the battle area.

Nazi Saboteurs

Edward Kerling (top), alias Edward Kelly, ringleader of Nazi saboteurs who landed with explosives from a submarine near Jacksonville, Fla., to be used in bombing key rail centers and bridges near New York city. Below: Herbert Haupt, 22, of Chicago, a saboteur caught with another group landed by rubber boat.

New Methods to Speed Up Ship Production

You have seen pictures of big ships, powerful planes and giant guns for Uncle Sam's armed forces. But here is an item that seldom gets into the news, but is just as vital as any other sinew of war. It is the cowl ventilator, without which Liberty ships that carry war materials to the battlefronts could not put to sea. A Los Angeles firm, engaged in this work, turns out thousands of cowl funnels. Galvanizing the cowl is one of the most vital parts in the process. Photo (left) shows a huge cowl being given a "bath" in a vat of molten metal. Center: Wrinkles in the ventilator are ironed out by a small hammer. Right: A workman welding the seams of a huge funnel.

Named as Assistant to Navy Secretary

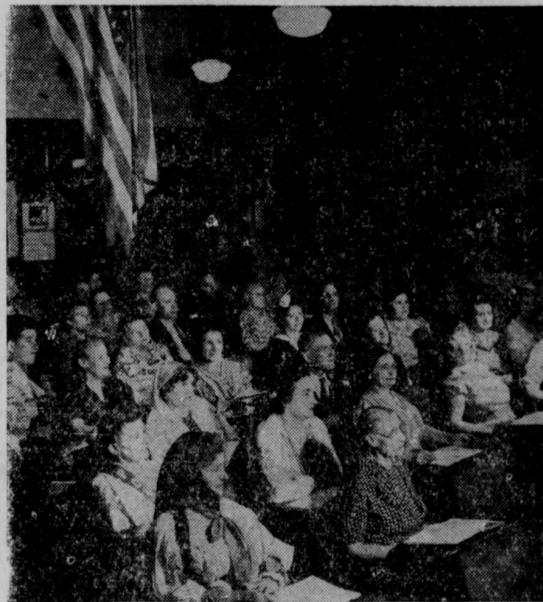

William C. Bullitt (left) being sworn in as special assistant to Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox (right). Bullitt, a former ambassador to Russia and France, resigned as personal representative of the President to take the new job.

New Army Paper

"Yank," new army newspaper now being sent to U. S. troops overseas, installs full world-wide wire service. Pvt. Bill Richardson, editor of "Yank," is shown with Seymour Berkson, managing editor of a national news service, beside news printer.

They Want to Be Americans

Many of them wearing the costumes of the lands they left, these candidates for American citizenship are studying a new language at a New York evening school. Most of them have felt the iron heel of oppression and when they repeat the words, "I Am An American" they put into them a wealth of meaning and gratitude.

Coast Guard Action

Soldier Reports

Swear to Protect Bombsight

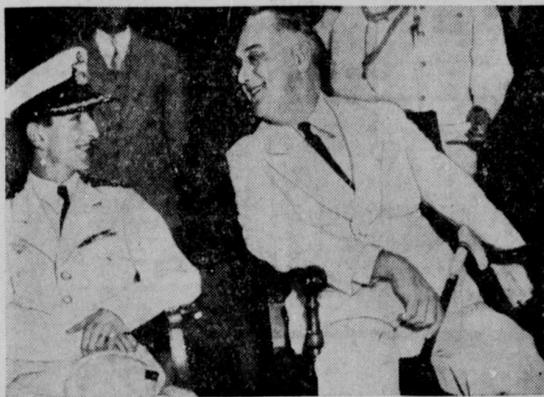

Fledgling bombardiers, about to get their first glimpse of the super-secret U. S. bombsight, repeat after Lieut. Col. Richard Smith, director of training at the Midland Army Flying school, Texas, the solemn words of the bombardier oath pledging to protect the sight. On the table is a hooded bombsight to be exposed only after administration of the oath.

'Won't Take It'

Dan Gifford, ten, who wrote to Gen. Douglas MacArthur to convince a pal that Pearl Harbor was not in Jap hands, is a happy lad these days after hearing from MacArthur. "They didn't take it," MacArthur advised his youthful inquirer, "and don't be afraid, Danny, they won't take it." Danny is shown (left) shaking hands with his now convinced playmate, Jackie Fahy.

Youthful Monarch Meets President

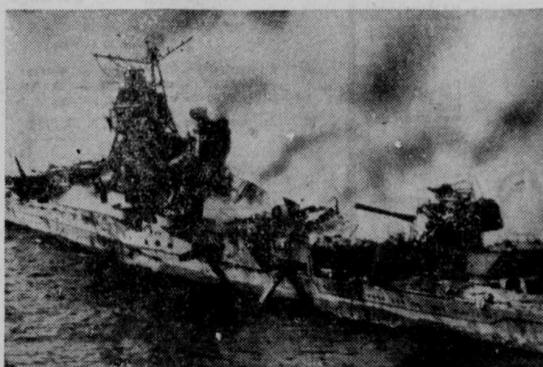

King Peter of Yugoslavia is shown chatting with President Roosevelt in the White House grounds. The 19-year-old monarch had spent two days incognito in Virginia. He arrived at the White House under careful guard, and was escorted to the White House by Secretary Cordell Hull.

Perfect Score

With a perfect score of 175 x 175, H. Luther Brown (above) of San Antonio, Texas, won the individual all-bore championship at the 14th annual Great Eastern skeet championship held at the Remington Gun club, Lordship, Conn.

After Navy Planes Blasted Jap Cruiser

This is one of the first pictures of the battle of Midway island, and shows a Jap cruiser of the Magami class listing badly after being hit by bombs dropped from U. S. carrier-based navy planes. Billows of black smoke fill the air, and the deck is a mass of wreckage. Many Jap seamen lost their lives in the water when they dived overboard.

J. Fuller Pep

By JERRY LINK

Sittin' down in Jed's General Store the other day, it was kinda impressed on me that the weaker a fellow's argument is, the stronger the words he uses! Well, when I get to talkin' about KELLOGG'S PEP and vitamins I don't need any high-powered words. You see, to feel really good you got to eat right, which includes gettin' all your vitamins. And while PEP hasn't got 'em all, this swell-tastin' cereal is extra-long in the two that are oftenest extra-short in ordinary meals—B₁ and D. Try PEP, won't you?

Kellogg's Pep

A delicious cereal that supplies per serving (1 cc.) the full minimum daily need of vitamin D; 1/4 the daily need of vitamin B₁.

A most welcome gift to any pipe-smoker or roll-your-own fan now in our armed forces is a pound of his favorite tobacco. Numerous surveys have shown that tobacco is the No. 1 gift on the service man's list. A favorite with many of our soldiers, sailors, marines, and Coast Guardsmen is Prince Albert, the largest-selling smoking tobacco in the world. If you have a friend or relative in the Army, Navy, Marines, or Coast Guard who smokes a pipe or rolls-his-own, send a pound can of Prince Albert. Your local dealer is featuring the National Joy Smoke as an ideal gift for service men.—Adv.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood. You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination. Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!
