and individual states turned in far greater percentages than that. In Tennessee, for example, the Company's 21 stores made 68% of their entire sales in War Stamps and Bonds. In a small store in an upstate New York town the percentage was over 984% of volume—which meant that the store sold almost ten times as many War Bonds as merchandise.

The largest amount in War Stamps and Bonds was sold by a store which is by no means one of the Company's largest—Yakima, Wash., where $166,658.95 worth moved over the store's counters into the purses and pockets of thrifty American patriots.

and Des Moines, bonds were sold in the Penney store by the war-famous Patten family, father and eight sons, all of whom are serving in the Navy, and eight of whom were survivors of the Lexington sinking.

Navy Lieut. Eddie Duchin, famous orchestra leader, attracted crowds to the War Bond booth in the Omaha J. C. Penney store.

Abbott and Costello were pressed into service by the Denison, Iowa, store, where they did a thriving bond business with crowds of their fans.

The manager of the J. C. Penney store in Albany, Ga., now serving with the armed forces, went to a Hong Kong evacuee. In Des Moines, bonds were sold in the Penney store by the war-famous Patten family, father and eight sons, all of whom are serving in the Navy, and eight of whom were survivors of the Lexington sinking.

Secretary Morgenthau Pays Tribute To J. C. Penney War Stamp and Bond Sales

The J. C. Penney Company's 1,609 stores, whose 4% July quota for War Stamp and Bond Sales was $1,200,000, turned in the staggering total of $8,422,553.85—or almost 25% of its merchandise sales! To realize what this figure stands for in actual war material, this sum will buy one destroyer plus one submarine plus 100 Army fighter planes plus 36 light tanks!

This important achievement was acknowledged by a telegram of commendation from Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, who took particular note of the tremendous scope of the Company-wide publicity program which made these results possible.

While the Company's average amounted to about 25% of its total July sales, individual stores

From all over the country came stories of the energetic competition between stores and states and districts. Penney employees made it their chief concern to sell Bonds and Stamps—and they sold them with might and gain, to customers, friends, and everybody else who came within range of these super-salesmen and women.

There was a lot of friendly rivalry, which inspired unique and often amusing stunts that worked successfully. Celebrities were drafted to act as Masters of Ceremony at the bond selling. In San Francisco a whole plate glass window was removed, a microphone installed, and the selling began briskly under the exciting management of movie stars Kitty Carlisle and Jack Haley. The first bond sold was a $4,000 one, which bought the first War Bond sold in the Hollywood store. In La Crosse, Wis., an attractive employee of the store was pushed around town in a wheelbarrow, from which she sold "Stampo-chiefs" made of four quarter stamps. Each purchaser then had an opportunity to push the wheelbarrow along until another purchaser was found.

The town of Red Wing, Minn., invested in a $30,000 block of bonds, requesting that credit for $10,000 worth of these be added to the local Penney store's sales.

Captain Hewitt Wheelser, who bombed six Jap transports in the Philippines, bought a bond in the Amarillo, Texas, Penney store.

Top single sale was a $100,000 bond sold by a 68-year old salesman in the Cortland, N. Y., store, who remarked: "I figured I couldn't get shot for trying."

The inspiring results of these efforts indicate more than whole-hearted interest on the part of the Penney Company and its associates—they prove, beyond a doubt, that America is ready, to the last man, woman and child, to do its part to win the war.
